News Items.

New York City.—Additional Revenue Bonds Purchased by Syndicate.—The syndicate composed of J. P. Morgan & Co., the National City Bank and the First National Bank have exercised their entire option on the city's 6% revenue bonds. As already stated, $30,000,000 of an issue of $50,000,000 of these securities which the Comptroller decided to issue last November were purchased by this syndicate at that time and they were given an option on the remaining $20,000,000. The report that the amount on which the option was held had been increased to $35,000,000, which was denied by the city authorities last week, is now confirmed by them. This makes a total of $65,000,000 bonds purchased by the Morgan syndicate.

Proposed Offering of 50 Million Corporate Stock and Bonds.—Comptroller Metz has announced that within the next two weeks he will offer for sale $50,000,000 of city bonds bearing 4½% interest to consist of $45,000,000 50-year corporate stock for various public-improvements and $5,000,000 10-year assessment bonds. This announcement was made after the Comptroller, together with Mayor McClellan, Corporation Counsel Pendleton, City Chamberlain Martin and Deputy Comptroller McCooey had held a conference with J. P. Morgan, George W. Perkins and George F. Baker, President of the First National Bank. Mr. Metz states that "after consulting with various financial interests we were assured that the present was a good time to sell bonds. The sale is already an assured success and all bonds not taken by the public or by bidders for small lots will be taken by big financial interests. The money will be used in carrying out needed public improvements. One of the most important of these improvements is the Fourth Avenue subway in Brooklyn."

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Very naturally, the course of events the current week has been such that the better hope reported a week ago and the impulse then being given to bond sales have not come up to the promise of the previous two weeks. It is hardly necessary to say that the official message sent to Congress on Friday was sufficient of itself to arrest incipient confidence. So discouragingly begun, not a day of the week passed without a contributory incident tending to set back recruiting health. The series of railroad losses reported in net earnings was so conspicuous as hardly to need mentioning; new receiverships, with rumors of many more to come, the shutting up of the workshops, the lengthening of the bread line, dull and stagnant markets, idle cars, are all found arranging themselves in their natural order around the foregoing; they are the allied products of the same causes. We were told that easy money was sure to bring industrial affairs out of the old rut and give us a smooth road for mounting the declivity along which business had been subsiding. Easy money came, and it really did seem to be helping to do its part in the good work. But what can even it do among so many adverse elements? There is hope, though, for the discomforted. We need not leave them with the cold assurance that "sweet are the uses of adversity." Recovery is so strongly the tendency in this young country that we can always be sure of our aim if it is constantly onward and upward. Moreover, Hawthorne says: "The world owes all its onward impulses to men ill at ease." Is that the thought our "highly gifted" President silences his conscience with?

Nature, also, on Wednesday, seemed to array itself among the forces adverse to the restoration of business recovery, a blizzard of unusual severity, attended with snow and very low temperature, having visited the Western, Middle and New England States, delaying and blockading trains in all those sections. This incident has also a favorable side. It is important now that the snow covering should keep our germinating grain from zero weather; alternating severe frosts and thaws is what is most to be feared; and as our winter has delayed the current crop season, the law of averages suggests such a possibility to the more anxious farmers. If we may judge from the activity of the discussions in progress, our currency is to be blamed for much of the disorganization prevailing in business affairs. Every kind of bill has been proposed; some only intended to meet and provide for a panic such as we have passed through so recently, as if that was the cause and not a mere expression of our sufferings; while others, knowing the unscientific and disorganizing character of all our paper money devices, seek to use the occasion—which has so thoroughly aroused the public mind and centred thought upon the general subject of currency reform—for making it a time for a real reform measure built upon the experiences of the Old World as well as the New.

No one seems to have expected a decision like that rendered by the U. S. Supreme Court on Monday declaring a labor union boycott illegal under the Sherman anti-trust law of 1890, but now that we have the decision and see the course of reasoning by which the Court reaches its conclusions, the ruling seems perfectly natural and logical. Moreover, that the wording of the statute admits of no other conclusion is evident from the fact that the decision is a unanimous one, all the members of the Court concurring in the judgment handed down. The case was that of D. E. Loewe & Co., hat manufacturers of Danbury, Conn., against Martin Lawler and 200 other members of the local hatters' union, to recover $80,000 damages to the firm's trade by reason of a boycott inaugurated by the union as the result of the refusal of the firm to unionize its factory. The American Federation of Labor, of which the local union is a subordinate organization, participated in the boycott and was included in the bill. Under Section 7 of the Sherman law the hat-making firm will be able to recover damages in triple the $80,000 claimed, which would be $240,000. Whether it will ever be possible to collect this amount from the defendants is of course open to question, but the principles governing the decision, as laid down by the Supreme Court, are of very great importance. In the trial court the hat-making firm got a decision against it, the Court having sustained the demurrer interposed by the labor union that the Sherman law did not cover an action of this kind. Loewe & Co. thereupon took the case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which, in order to expedite a final decision, certified the question to the Supreme Court without itself passing upon it.

The opinion of the Court was written by Chief Justice Fuller, and in his reasoning and arguments, as already stated, all the other judges concur. He says that the combination charged falls within the class of restraints of trade aimed at, compelling third parties and strangers involuntarily not to engage in the course of trade except on conditions that the combination imposes. He quotes from the work of Chief Justice Erle in which it is shown that even at common law every person had individually, and the public also had collectively, a right to require that the course of trade should be kept from unreasonable obstruction. It was sought to stay the hands of the Court by arguing that the Sherman law, if construed to apply in this instance, would operate to affect intra-State commerce as well as inter-State commerce, that physical obstruction was not alleged as being contemplated, and that the defendants, members of labor unions, are not themselves engaged in inter-State trade. But Chief Justice Fuller sweeps all these objections aside. He refers to the ruling of the Court in the Northern Securities case and the Trans-Missouri Freight Association and the Joint Traffic Association cases, and points out that the Court there took the view that the Sherman law had a broader application than the mere prohibition of restraints of trade unlawful at common law. It may be true, he reasons, that some of the means whereby the inter-State traffic done by the plaintiffs was to be destroyed were acts within a State, and some of them were in themselves as a part of their obvious purpose and effect beyond the scope of Federal authority; still the acts must be considered as a whole, and the plan is open to condemnation, notwithstanding a negligible amount of intra-State business might be affected in carrying it out. If the purposes of the combination were, as alleged, to prevent any inter-State transportation at all, the fact that the means operated at one end, before physical transportation commenced, and at the other end, after the physical transportation ended, is immaterial. Nor can the Sherman Act be held inapplicable owing to the fact that the members of the labor union were not themselves engaged in inter-State commerce. That law makes no distinction between classes. It provides that "every" contract, combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade is illegal. The Court points out, too, that the records of Congress show that several efforts were made to exempt by legislation organizations of farmers and laborers from the operation of the Act, and that these efforts failed, leaving the law as it is now found on the statute book. Chief Justice Fuller also makes a pertinent citation from Justice Brewer's opinion in the Debs case to the effect that "if a State, with its recognized power of sovereignty, is impotent to obstruct inter-State commerce, can it be that any mere voluntary association of individuals within the limits of that State has a power which the State itself does not possess?" The precedents thus showing that the boycott of the labor union came within the scope of the law, the only point for inquiry was as to the averment of facts; and the Court finds these sufficient.

The present is the third decision rendered by the United States Supreme Court within a very few weeks (all since the first of January) adverse to the claims of labor interests. On Jan. 6 the Court declared unconstitutional the Act of Congress approved June 11 1906 known as the Employers' Liability Act, and which undertakes to make railroads responsible in damages for injuries to employees, even where the accident results from the employee's own carelessness or the negligence of fellow employees. On Jan. 27 it declared unconstitutional Section 10 of the Erdmann law, approved June 1 1898, which seeks to prevent inter-State carriers from refusing to employ members of labor unions. This last was condemned as an invasion of personal liberty and an interference with the freedom of contract, and besides was stated to be beyond the scope of the authority of Congress, since there is no connection between membership or non-membership in a labor organization and the regulation of inter-State commerce. The vote in this last instance was 6 against 2, Justice Moody not taking part in the case. Now we have the absolutely unanimous decision of the Supreme Court declaring the boycott illegal where it operates to interfere with the freedom of trade between the States. The labor leaders are now seeking to get Congress to amend the Sherman law by exempting labor organizations from its operation. That the law needs amending is beyond dispute, but not quite in that way. To allow labor organizations to crowd the non-union man out of existence (which was the object of the boycott in the present instance) is in no way different from the action of a so-called trust or combination of manufacturers which seeks by unfair methods to crowd a small competitor out of the field. Both acts are to be condemned. On the other hand, combinations per se, whether of producers or of laboring men, should not be stigmatized. Such combinations are often indispensable and capable of the highest good. The law should be amended so as to cover both objects—to permit combination, but to make the acts of such combinations dependent entirely upon their merits.

The "Iron Age" of this city this week prints its statement of iron production for the month of January. The exhibit is not an encouraging one, showing an even smaller output than for the month of December. In a word, the make of iron in January, according to our contemporary, was only 1,045,525 tons, against 1,234,279 tons in December, 1,828,125 tons in November and 2,336,972 tons in October. Thus in this short period the output has dropped from a basis of 28,000,000 tons per annum (in the calendar year 1907 the output actually reached 25,781,361 tons, as we show in an article on a subsequent page) to a basis of only 12,000,000 tons per annum. There seems reason to think, however, that the showing for the current month (February) will be better, since the steel-producing companies, which have been especially prominent in curtailing their output of iron, have recently been starting up some of their furnaces again, though, on the other hand, the so-called merchant plants have been blowing out some of their stacks. In the meantime the manufacturers of steel are making strenuous efforts to hold up prices so as to prevent demoralization in the trade. There is warrant for such action in the course pursued with reference to prices during the time when such extreme activity and buoyancy prevailed in the iron and steel trades. Under the leadership of the United States Steel Corporation it was the policy to prevent undue advances in prices, just as now it is sought to prevent undue declines. The object is to promote reasonable stability—which is to the interest of consumers and producers alike. At the same time it should be remembered that the object is not to maintain the high prices recently reached. From these there has already been considerable decline. The "Iron Trade Review" of Cleveland points out that the present price level is not unduly high—in fact in a number of lines it is perilously near production cost, and in some instances, notably pig iron in the eastern district, it is actually below cost figure. The quotations for the last decade show, it is pointed out, that prices are now only about the average—if anything, somewhat below it. This is an additional reason for seeking to check the downward movement. Of course the steel manufacturers, and particularly the managers of the Steel Corporation, are sane and sensible men, and if a change in the situation should occur, making necessary an abandonment of the present attitude, we may be sure these men will be quick to recognize the fact and act accordingly.

As our readers are aware, the last few months constitute in some respects a notable period in our trade with foreign countries. It will be remembered that in November a record total of merchandise exports was reported which was exceeded moderately in the following month (December), and now (although the official figures for January have not been issued) it would appear from such early data as we have been able to secure that the value of the January exports of commodities has established for January a still higher mark. Concurrent with the rising tide of exports, there has also been a notable falling off in the value of the imports of goods, ascribable to the changed conditions produced by the disturbances near the close of 1907. As a consequence, it seems that the foreign trade balance in our favor has been increasing from month to month, having been close in November 1907 to the former high record (made in December 1905).

passing it in December (the December balance of exports reaching nearly 115 millions), while now the indications are that the official trade figures for January when completed will show an excess of shipments over imports of approximately 120 millions of dollars.

Shipments of cotton for the month, while differing little in bales from the outward movement in January of 1907, went abroad on a higher price basis and consequently swelled the aggregate value of exports by about 7 million dollars. Breadstuffs also contributed a material increase in value of the January 1908 exports over the total for the month of last year, for not only was the quantity going out appreciably in excess, but to an even greater extent than in cotton were prices higher. Oil shipments in 1908 were presumably a little greater than in January of last year, with provision exports probably a little less.

Although ease in monetary affairs is an accomplished condition and banking circles have been wholly freed from the incubus those interests have proved detrimental to, mercantile affairs are not only not active, but the volume of transactions passing is below the recent normal, so far as bank clearings are to be taken as the indication of business. It requires only a cursory glance at the compilation given on the first page of this issue to bring clearly to the mind of most observers how universal has been the recent let-up in trade activity. At only 21 of the 114 cities there included was there any increase in clearings for January this year as compared with 1907, and as a rule where gains are exhibited they are small and, with one or two exceptions, due to special causes, and therefore not indicative of any marked business improvement. As regards the losses shown at other points, it is perhaps well to state that they are in the main less heavy than the decreases recorded in December, and to that extent, therefore, the exhibit for the opening month of 1908 is less unfavorable than was that for the closing month of 1907.

The aggregate clearings for the whole country for the month show a loss of 24.5% from January 1907; compared with the corresponding period of 1906 the decline is even greater—30.5%—and from 1905 there is a falling off of 4.1%. In fact, we must go back to 1904 to find a smaller total than in 1908 for the opening month of the year. Outside of New York the comparison is not quite so unsatisfactory; even there, however, the January aggregate falls behind 1907 by 14.9%, is 9.6% less than in 1906, but shows a gain of 12.1% over 1905. In the middle group of cities the decrease in the total, as compared with 1907, reaches 28.7%, New York exhibiting a loss of 30% and Philadelphia 21.7%. The New England section falls behind January of last year by 22.8%, Boston's loss being 24.3%. In the Middle West the decline shown at Chicago is 8.9% and the decrease for the group reaches 9.8%. On the Pacific slope all the important cities record totals well below last year, the loss at San Francisco having been 27.7% and for the section 27.4%. The remaining Western States combined make a more favorable showing than elsewhere, gains at Kansas City, Minneapolis, Omaha and St. Paul being sufficient to offset losses at other points, and leave a gain of 4.5% for the group as a whole. Southern cities of prominence as a rule record losses, and the decline for the section reaches 11.6%.

At a number of cities transactions in stocks and bonds play so important a part in bank clearings that the percentages of increase or decrease do not accurately reflect the changes from time to time in commercial activity. This is pre-eminently true of New York, and in lesser degree of Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, &c. The fact, therefore, that at the Stock Exchanges in the various cities of the country dealings in shares were of much smaller volume in January this year than last year is to be taken into account when the losses shown at the cities referred to are considered. For instance, on the New York Stock Exchange the share transactions last month reached a total of only 16,594,895 shares, against 22,702,760 shares in 1907 and 38,512,548 shares in 1906. At Boston the aggregate dealings for the month were but 1,177,789 shares, against 2,933,381 shares and 2,328,870 shares, respectively, in the two preceding years, and at Philadelphia the situation was quite similar. The Pittsburgh Stock Exchange, which opened Jan. 27, reported dealings for the month of only 19,809 shares, which compares with 239,322 shares in 1907 and 481,176 shares in 1906. On the other hand, the absorption of bonds by investors has been quite a feature, dealings in that class of securities on the New York Stock Exchange having reached over 91 millions of dollars in January 1908, or about 40 millions more than in the month of the previous year.

The exhibit of commercial failures for the month of January, as compiled by Messrs. R. G. Dun & Co., can be said to be about in line with general expectations. And yet we believe we are safe in asserting that an even less favorable showing would have caused no surprise in view of the conditions recently, and to some extent still, prevailing in business circles. Many concerns who were able to weather the stress of the closing months of 1907 were unable to obtain the financial succor necessary to meet annual settlements, and went to the wall. This was not at all unexpected, and it is gratifying to know that disasters were not greater. According to Messrs. Dun & Co.'s returns, the failures in January numbered 1,949, with indebtedness of $27,099,514, which compares with 1,355 and liabilities of $13,628,126 in the month of 1907. Beside these commercial failures, the statistics show that 39 banks and banking institutions suspended, with liabilities of $61,566,435, but it is explained that in some instances the banks have already reopened or will shortly do so.

Whereas in recent months the bulk of the failures, in amount of liabilities, if not in number, occurred among manufacturers, the January exhibit shows trading failures to have been greater in number, as well as in amount. The defaults in that division were 1,473 for $13,484,007, against only 1,058 for $6,799,517 in the same month of 1907. Thirteen large concerns furnished $3,155,271 of this year's liabilities, leaving $10,328,736 to represent the other 1,460, or an average of $7,074, which appears large when compared with an average of less than $6,000 for 1907 and 1906. Manufacturing failures reached 402 for $10,267,087, against 265 for $6,064,564 a year ago, and among brokers, &c., were 74 for $3,348,420, against 32 for $764,045 last year. It is pointed out by Messrs. Dun & Co. that there were in all 43 failures, involving over $100,000 each, with total losses of $12,269,696. In other words, over 45% of the liabilities was furnished by 2¼% of the number who failed, leaving the average amount involved in the other disasters $7,781, against $6,725 for the month of 1907.

Despite the fact elsewhere noted of a fractional advance in the price of gold bars in London and likewise of a fall in exchange at Paris on the British capital (which was possibly incident to payments by the Bank of England on account of its indebtedness to that of France that was incurred last year), there was really no cause for expectations which were entertained early this week of a movement hence of gold to Europe. The rise in the price of the metal seemed clearly due to competition by French with British buyers of the Cape gold that was offered in the market, and there were no indications anywhere, except, perhaps, at Berlin, that gold was so urgently needed as to make it necessary artificially to attract it hence. Discounts at the chief centres are low and the maintenance of control by the Bank of England of the unofficial rate is apparently difficult, indicating an early reduction of the Bank rate.

While the metal is not needed now, either at London or Paris, it is not unlikely that it will be in request later as the result of international loan negotiations in which bankers at these centres will seek to participate. It is rumored at Paris that a Russian external 4½% loan of 75 million rubles (37½ million dollars) will be offered in April, provided French manufacturers are given the opportunity of employing the proceeds in contracts that will be beneficial to them, instead of such contracts being distributed among their rivals, as has been the case heretofore. The Prussian Government is said to be contemplating the issue of another loan in April, amounting, as estimated, to 100 million dollars; moreover, municipal loans aggregating 250 million dollars are represented to be necessary in the near future.

The week has been marked by the appearance of a number of very unfavorable statements of railroad earnings for the month of December. We shall refer here only to the return of the Pennsylvania Railroad, since this is such a representative system, and its exhibit is typical of that of many other large railroads. On the lines directly operated east of Pittsburgh and Erie there is a loss of $1,114,300 in gross, attended by a saving of only $56,400 in expenses, while on the lines directly operated west of Pittsburgh there is a loss of $1,374,800 in gross, offset by a saving of $665,200 in expenses. For the combined lines, therefore, the result for this one month is a falling off of $2,489,100 in gross and a falling off of $1,767,500 in the net earnings. In face of such results, one can only hope that causes responsible for the same may not endure long. December completes the company's fiscal year and the figures for the twelve months also reveal some striking results, characteristic of the conditions which distinguished the year and which made operations so trying for railroad managers. There has been a tremendous increase in the gross earnings, but the higher operating cost has consumed the whole of this increase, leaving no improvement in the net. In brief, on the combined lines directly operated east and west of Pittsburgh, the addition to gross earnings for the twelve months, on top of the enormous gains in previous years, has been no less than $24,683,700. In the case of the net, however, there is a small loss—$7,600. In the following we furnish a six-year comparison for the lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie—being the only portion of the system for which we have the data for such comparison.

The New York Clearing House bank statement which will be resumed to-day in detailed form is the first issue since Oct. 26; in the interval only the summary of the various items has been made public. Plans have been perfected by the New York State Superintendent of Banks for the issue hereafter on Saturdays—concurrently with the emission of the Clearing House statement of bank conditions—of an exhibit showing a summary of the principal items of New York City banks, other than national, that are not in the Clearing House, and also of trust companies in this city. This publication will be made this (Saturday) afternoon.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week, though early in the week it was quite confidently expected that the Bank of England rate would be reduced on Thursday to 3½%; large withdrawals of gold for shipment to Argentina and transfers to Paris caused the Governors to leave the rate unaltered.

The feature of last week's bank statement was the smaller gain in cash and in surplus reserve than has been shown in recent statements; the increase in cash was $6,295,600 and in surplus $3,462,225 to $40,526,725; deposits increased $11,333,500 and loans decreased $1,783,000. The cash and the other items of the statement were affected by the closing of four of the Clearing House banks during the week; the cash was also influenced by the withdrawal of $8,584,400 public funds from local depositories. It is noteworthy that, while loans have been in excess of deposits since July 1906, last week's statement showed an excess of $4,715,400 deposits over loans.

The $5,590,000 Clearing House loan certificates which were outstanding early in the week are expected to be entirely canceled this week. It is reported that makers of some of the notes which were accepted by the loan committee as security for loan certificates have declined to pay them at maturity, on the ground that they had deposits in failed banks that had been aided, previous to their suspension, through such certificates, and a claim for the offset of such deposits against the maturing or matured notes has been made. This claim has not, however, been allowed, the notes, having passed into third hands, being regarded as collectible, and payment thereof will be enforced; the depositor will be required to await the liquidation of the failed bank before recovering his deposit.

There was no new feature in the market for money this week; the congested condition did not appear to have been relieved through last week's surrender of public deposits, and rates for day-to-day money were uniform throughout the week. The redemption of redundant national bank circulation, through the forwarding to Washington by banks of the notes of other institutions, in order to secure lawful money in exchange, which last month appears to have resulted in the redemption in this way of 43 millions, continues large. This may make an impression upon the money market by thus temporarily disposing of excess national bank notes and by increasing the volume of lawful money exchanged therefor. Retirements of bank currency under the Act of last March were effected in January to the full permissible amount of 9 millions, and as the applications for the quota for February have been filed with the Comptroller, retirements of a like sum will be made in this month.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange uniformly during the week at 2% and at 1¾%, averaging about 1¾%. Time loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were offered at 3½% for sixty days and at 4@4¼% for ninety days. Contracts for four months on industrial security were made at 4¼@4½%. The principal inquiry was for five and six months, at 4½%, and offerings were at 4¾%; money for twelve months was at 5% and lenders insisted upon a choice line of security. Commercial paper was in good request at 5¼@5½% for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable and 5½@6% for four to six months' prime single names; local institutions were not free buyers and the business reported was by interior banks, chiefly in the Eastern States.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 4%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 3¾@3⅞%. The open market rate at Paris is 2¾% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4¾@4⅞%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England lost £950,559 bullion during the week and held £37,557,591 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due mainly to exports to Paris. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £306,000 (of which £18,000 from Norway and £288,000 bar gold bought); exports, £1,026,000 (of which £631,000 to Paris, £390,000 to South America and £5,000 to Bermuda), and shipments of £231,000 net to the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was lower this week and the volume of business was small. The demand for remittance for the settlement of deferred mercantile obligations was only moderate and there was some derangement of mail schedules, as has been the case recently, which caused the week's transactions to be somewhat unequally distributed. The supply of commercial bills, especially those against cotton, was good, and some purchases of securities for European account caused an increase in offerings of bankers' drafts. The announcement of the intended issue of New York City bonds encouraged speculative selling of exchange, which had a depressing effect upon the market. The engagement of $500,000 gold for shipment to Argentina had no special influence; it was understood that the export was on London account and that the reimbursing draft was drawn on that centre, as has heretofore been the case when such movement has been in progress. An advance in the price of gold bars in London on Monday to 77 shillings 9¼ pence per ounce; the coincident fall in exchange at Paris on the British capital; the competition by French bankers with those of London for the South African gold which was offered on Monday, and shipments of the metal by the Bank of England to that of France on account of the 15 million loan which was effected by the former from the latter last year, seemed to indicate the possibility of an early movement of gold hence to Paris as an arbitration operation. The later rise in exchange at Paris on London and the fall in our rates on that centre, however, appeared to make unlikely such a movement of gold, for the present at least. Buying of exchange for remittance by the mid-week steamer was deferred and the tone was heavy until Friday, when there was a recovery. One feature was a demand for long sterling for investment.

Compared with Friday of last week the market on the following day was easy at a decline of 20 points for long to 4 8370@4 8375, of 10 points for short to 4 8685@4 8690 and of 10 points for cables to 4 8730@4 8735. On Monday long fell 10 points to 4 8360@4 8365, short 25 points to 4 8660@4 8665 and cables 30 points to 4 8695@4 8705. On Tuesday long declined 10 points to 4 8350@4 8360, short 5 points to 4 8655@4 8660 and cables 5 points to 4 8690@4 87. On Wednesday long declined 10 points to 4 8340@4 8345, short 10 points to 4 8645@4 8650 and cables 15 points to 4 8675@4 8680. On Thursday, while long fell 10 points to 4 8325@4 8335, short rose 5 points to 4 8650@4 8655 and cables 5 points to 4 8675@4 8685. On Friday the tone was easy, with a fall of 10 points for long and of 5 points for cables; short was unchanged.

THE KING OF PORTUGAL.

The brutal assassination last Saturday of the King of Portugal and his eldest son, in the streets of Lisbon, converged attention suddenly on a nation which has tended more and more in recent times to drift out of the sphere of general political interest. It is many years since Portugal has attracted very serious attention from publicists or students of political institutions; the reason being, no doubt, the smallness of the Portuguese domain itself, the inertia of its people, and their seeming incapacity to play any large part in the progress of events. Beyond these basic facts, Portugal has been in such degree characterized, during more than a century past, by a chaos of political bewilderment and confusion, that it has not been easy to measure the course of its history by any of the standards applied in the greater modern States. Portugal was undoubtedly one of the States contemptuously grouped together by Lord Salisbury, during the Spanish War, in his reference to "dying nations." But nations do not die in these days, unless by absorption into more powerful States, and the incident of last week in Portugal will be found to have at least some bearing on problems which confront other nationalities.

As to the state of affairs to which the assassination of the King was a dramatic climax, there is no great mystery. This was not a "palace plot," like the murder of the Servian King and Queen some years ago; it is doubtful if it was even the action of a body of anarchists. There is at least plausible ground for believing that the attack on the King and heir-apparent was a deliberate expression of their sentiments by men who believed themselves to represent a powerless opposition party. The case, as between the King of Portugal and his subjects, was that, through a thoroughly mischievous system and precedent, the administration of government, so far as relates both to Court and to Legislature, had become merely an extravagant scheme of public plunder. The nation had been crushed with debt; it had in part repudiated its obligations, and its credit was proportionately shattered. To what extent the dispute between the King's Ministers and the Legislature converged on these points, and to what extent the right of the dispute rested with one party or with the other, is a somewhat open question. The fact concerning which there is no dispute is that King and Parliament reached a position of outright deadlock; that the King, through a determined Minister, dismissed the Legislature, shook himself free from dependence on it and imprisoned some of its members, and that in the sequel he proceeded to provide for the necessities of government by arbitrary imposition and collection of taxes without legislative authority.

Here was a plain enough case for constitutional resistance, if not for popular revolt. Such assumption of power by the Portuguese King goes manifestly beyond even the attitude assumed by the Czar toward the Russian Douma; for the Czar, at all events, recalled into his own hands powers which he had more or less conditionally conceded to the Douma, whereas the King of Portugal repudiated a constitutional right long recognized by the sovereign and long enjoyed by the people's representatives.

Naturally, one encounters the defense of the royal usurpation, that it was necessary in order to save the public credit and keep the wheels of government moving. The case was undoubtedly aggravated; yet it will hardly win from students of history approval for arbitrary assumption of unconstitutional powers with the purpose of remedying the situation. The theory of popular government never included as a corollary the presumption that popular legislators would always act wisely, or that they would never indulge in disastrous blunders. On the contrary, the history of government by the people is made up of precisely such mistakes; progress from one generation to another being achieved in very considerable measure through the lessons learned from the consequences of one disastrous episode of the sort and applied by the next generation. To defend, as a remedy for such occasional evils in the system, the complete and irrevocable abandonment of the system itself, is to concede the whole contention of absolutism. This is the lesson which Russia itself is destined very soon to learn; it is likely to be learned by Portugal also, as a sequel to last week's sensational event, if not as a direct result of it.

In reaching such conclusions, it is not necessary to endorse the method of assassination. Far from this it may be safely affirmed that the evil influence on the world at large of an act of this sort, when an apparently legitimate provocation existed for it, is vastly greater than in the case of assassination where the whim of the murderers, or a general hatred of governing powers, was the single motive. In proportion as the civilized world, to whose judgment such acts must always be submitted, is tempted to leniency in its verdict, to exactly that extent is the influence of such events more demoralizing. The assassination of the tyrannical Russian Minister Plehve, for which at the time even the more serious European journals found it difficult to express outright condemnation, was distinctly of this sort. In that case, as in all cases of the kind, the fundamental fact remained that an individual, or a small group of individuals, had taken into its own hands the privilege of passing judgment and inflicting the death penalty. But where such a privilege is claimed in one instance by irresponsible parties, it will be claimed all the more readily in another, and the very fact that such individuals claim the right of saying when they shall personally inflict the penalty of death shows that no restraint outside their own excited judgments will exist. It is simply lynch law applied in the case of public men. For assassination as a political weapon, whether employed against a good sovereign or a bad sovereign, against a friend of the people or a tyrannical oppressor; civilization has no right to entertain any other feeling than abhorrence.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY REPORT.

The Southern Pacific Company report for the year ending June 30 1907 comes unusually late. On inquiry we learn that the delay is due to the extra work entailed in meeting the requirements of the Inter-State Commerce Commission and in conforming to its new system of accounting. In preparing for this change and in carrying into effect the new methods and accounting rules imposed thereby—opening new books and arranging all the necessary details and minutiae incident to such a transformation—the time of the clerical and accounting force was so completely occupied for several months after the close of the year on June 30 1907 that it was found impossible to take up the work of preparing the present report. It is obvious from a glance at the document that compiling it is a formidable task. No more elaborate report is issued by any railroad company in the country, and none contains such an extended series of tables—financial and otherwise. It makes altogether a book of 90 pages, folio size. Its length follows in part from the fact that there are so many distinct companies that go to make up the Southern Pacific property, financial and operating statements being furnished for all of these. Apart from this, however, there is an evident desire to enlighten security holders with regard to those matters on which knowledge is most generally sought.

The report comes at a time when it possesses unusual interest by reason of the attempt which the U. S. Government is making to get control of the property away from the Union Pacific, which owns close to one-half the share capital of the Southern Pacific. There can be no doubt that in its ownership of Southern Pacific shares the Union Pacific has an exceedingly valuable asset, both directly and indirectly. Aside from the fact that certain portions of the Southern Pacific form an indispensable adjunct to the Union Pacific, more particularly in furnishing to the latter an outlet to San Francisco over the old and original trans-continental route across the country, the Southern Pacific shareholdings are proving profitable in themselves. The Southern Pacific is a much larger property than the Union Pacific. This is true whether we have regard to the extent of road embraced in the same or the magnitude of its income. The system comprised on June 30 1907 9,693 miles of road and 4,895 miles of water lines. The average length of road operated during the late year was 9,400 miles, which compares with an average of 9,191 miles for the twelve months preceding.

In point of aggregate earnings, the Southern Pacific surpasses any single railroad in the country, with the sole exception of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The same may be said with reference to its growth in revenues. The further addition to the total of the gross in 1906-07 was no less than $19,310,248, this being on top of the very striking increases made in the years immediately preceding. Altogether, gross receipts for the year were only a trifle less than 125 million dollars, the exact total being $124,942,797; and this is simply the transportation receipts. Even the net earnings amounted to $41,825,496. After deducting fixed and other charges for the twelve months, a surplus remained on the operations of the twelve months in the sum of $27,698,593. This compares with a similar surplus for the preceding year of only $19,192,647, showing an increase of $8,505,945, or, roughly, 45%. The requirements for dividends for the twelve months, namely 7% on the preferred shares and 5¼% on the common, were no more than $13,157,013, leaving, therefore, a surplus on the operations of the year, after the payment of dividends, in amount of $14,541,580.

The dividend on the common stock might have been doubled, and even then a surplus of over $4,000,000 would have remained. This is the result, too, it should be understood, after charging the year's income with $531,714 sinking fund contributions and also after appropriations for betterments and additions and for a reserve for depreciation of rolling stock aggregating $1,213,123. Furthermore, in the receipts no account has been taken of the proceeds of the sale of lands, amounting to $1,741,141, such proceeds being pledged for the redemption of bonds.

We alluded above to the growth recorded in the company's revenues in recent years. This growth has been nothing less than marvelous, and is a tribute to Mr. Harriman's genius in developing traffic by creating a system capable of handling the same economically and efficiently. We have often referred to the way in which Mr. Harriman poured millions upon millions of money into the property with the view to enabling it to handle the traffic of the country tributary to the system and building up the country itself. We shall not, therefore, dwell upon this feature on the present occasion. We will direct attention simply to the results of that policy. The Union Pacific acquired its interest in the Southern Pacific in 1901. In the fiscal year ending June 30 1901 gross receipts and income were $79,345,104. In the six years since then the annual income has been raised over 50 million dollars, bringing it up to $129,900,404. In the same six years net earnings have risen from $28,466,090 to $46,783,102, and surplus, after payment of fixed and other charges, which in 1901 was only $10,404,237, is now, as we have already seen, $27,698,593, with the result that the company was able, in 1906, to begin the payment of dividends on its common shares and in 1907 to increase them, and now has a larger surplus above the dividends than it had when paying no dividends at all. Under the circumstances it is not surprising tnat there should have been a large increase in the shareholders of the company, so that the number for December 31 1907 stands at 14,830 against only 3,910 on June 30 1906.

The excellent showing for 1906-07 was obtained in face of a very large increase in operating expenses, the experience of the Southern Pacific in that respect having been much like that of other large systems. We have already stated that gross transportation receipts had increased $19,310,248 over the year preceding. The addition to operating expenses during the same twelve months was $12,099,907. This still left a substantial gain in net earnings, but, as it happens, the figures given do not show the full measure of the augmentation which occurred in the expense accounts. The report tells us that the operating expenses of the preceding year were charged with a credit to reserve fund for future maintenance and renewals in amount of $2,117,286. Allowing for this the increase in normal expenditures is seen to have been $14,217,193, or 21.54%, to which must be added an increase of $432,205, or 17.54%, in the taxes.

Mr. Harriman states that the augmentation in expenses resulted from higher wage schedules (of which the greater part went into effect in the fall of 1906), from the greater amount of improvements made, the greater cost of material (principally of lumber and fuel), the greater volume of traffic moved, the additional expenses incurred in moving traffic under the exceptional conditions existing during a considerable part of the year, and the extra cost attending the movement of traffic which exceeded the limit where it could be handled economically. Just one illustration will suffice to show the extent to which operating cost was raised by causes beyond the control of the management. Of the total increase in expenses, $9,554,219 was under the head of conducting transportation, the augmentation in that class of expenditures being no less than 32.19%. Bearing in mind Mr. Harriman's well-known capacity for economy in operating achievement, this augmentation of 32% in the transportation expenses reveals the difficulties under which railroad operations are carried on now-a-days.

A study of the report also brings to light some strong points in the company's finances. Some bond issues were put out during the twelve months, but chiefly to take up other bond issues, and the outstanding total of the funded debt records a decrease of $7,167,055. In reality the decrease was twice that amount, since the plan has been followed of counting among the outstanding debt the bonded obligations held in the company's own treasury, and in these treasury bonds an increase of over $7,000,000 occurred. Taking the bonds in the hands of the public, there has been a decrease of, roughly, $14,000,000 during the year. In the current liabilities the item of loans and bills payable for $24,409,775 appears for June 30 1907, but the bulk of this must have been liquidated subsequent to the close of the fiscal year out of the proceeds of the new stock issue. It will be remembered that in May 1907 $36,000,000 new preferred stock was authorized and offered to shareholders at par. The subscriptions amounted to $35,295,123, but only $16,141,915 had been paid in on the same by June 30 (payments being in installments), leaving $19,153,208 to come in after the close of the year. This latter has since been paid in and applied in discharge of "current liabilities."

It is not strange that some floating debt should have been temporarily incurred, seeing the extent to which the company made advances to subsidiary and connecting roads in carrying out its policy of extension and development. Advances for the construction and acquisition of new lines, including electric roads in California, increased $20,686,093, expenditures for terminal real estate, &c., increased $3,466,413, for floating equipment and rolling stock $5,621,673, while the advances for closing the Colorado River crevasse increased $2,552,920. The report tells us that included in the advances for the construction and acquisition of new lines is the cost of 717 miles of completed railway and of work on a part of about 1,700 miles of projected lines. There were also completed during the year 208.49 miles of railway in Louisiana and Texas, for which the funds were mainly advanced by the Southern Pacific Co. to the respective companies.

The report devotes considerable space to the work done in closing the Colorado River crevasse. Mr. Harriman is known to have taken great pride in this work, and well he may, for it certainly was a marvelous engineering feat and a wonderful achievement in executive management on his part. After pointing out the nature of the first crevasse and what was done in the way of overcoming it, he alludes to the later break caused by heavy rains and floods. At this juncture he was requested by President Roosevelt to assume the task of dealing with the problem and preventing the dreadful disaster that threatened. The Southern Pacific at once vigorously commenced operations, and men, material, cars and locomotives were assembled, in order to do the work with the utmost expedition. On Feb. 11 1907, a little over 15 days from the date of the dumping of the first rock, the break was successfully closed, and, in that time, there were put in place about 72,000 cubic yards of rock and 5,000 cubic yards of gravel and clay. In completing the closure and the necessary protection work, the Southern Pacific Co. built 2,250 feet of dam and put in place 80,000 cubic yards of rock, 80,000 cubic yards of gravel and 250,000 cubic yards of earth, a total of 410,000 cubic yards of material. It also built 15.6 miles of levee, handling in this work 920,000 cubic yards of earth and 215,000 cubic yards of gravel. To handle and place this material, it is stated, 17 miles of standard gauge railway were built. The cost was $1,663,136, and the company had previously incurred an outlay of $1,489,784 in aiding the California Development Co. in its attempt to close the crevasse, making the total outlay $3,152,920.

THE COUNTRY'S LARGE IRON PRODUCTION IN 1907.

According to the official statistics furnished by Mr. James M. Swank of the American Iron & Steel Association (with the customary promptness), the make of iron in the United States during the twelve months of 1907 actually exceeded the make for the calendar year 1906. This may seem surprising in view of the complete collapse which occurred in the iron and steel industry after the panic in October. But a sharp distinction must be made between the results for the last six months and those for the first six months. In the first six months the output was 13,478,044 tons, which was at the rate of, roughly, 27,000,000 tons a year. In the last six months the product was only 12,303,317 tons and for the full twelve months of the calendar year it was 25,781,361 tons, which latter, though better by 474,170 tons than the production for the calendar year 1906, falls 1 1-3 million tons below the promise held out during the first six months of 1907.

Even these figures, however, fail to show the extent of the suspension of activity which occurred towards the close of the year. A better idea of what has been going on is gained by considering the monthly figures. For this purpose records kept by the "Iron Age" of this city must be used, as Mr. Swank does not undertake to show the output by months. The "Age's" figures are not absolutely complete, since they take no account of the output of the charcoal furnaces, but this last is so small as to be almost insignificant, and hence may be disregarded. For October our contemporary reported the product 2,336,972 tons; for November it made the output only 1,828,125 tons and for December but 1,234,279 tons. In other words, in October production was at the rate of 27,000,000 tons a year; in December it was at the rate of less than 15,000,000 tons a year. We may add that in January 1908 the output dropped to a basis of only 12,000,000 tons per year.

The record of idle furnaces tells the story of trade relapse yet more convincingly. Mr. Swank reports the whole number of furnaces in blast on Dec. 31 1907 as only 167, against 359 on June 30 1907 and 340 on Dec. 31 1906. He points out that the number of furnaces in blast at the end of 1907 was smaller than at the close of any year since 1896, when but 159 furnaces were active. At the close of 1907 there were 276 idle furnaces, as compared with 89 idle furnaces at the close of 1906. The change between business prosperity and business reverse is here strikingly indicated. It is to be remembered, too, that the course of the iron trade in recent years has been a progressive one, and that under normal conditions instead of a falling off in production there would have been a further increase. Confirmation of the truth of this statement is found in the fact that new furnaces are all the time under construction while the capacity of many existing furnaces is being enlarged. From Mr. Swank's statement we see that on Dec. 31 1907 there were 30 furnaces in course of erection, 4 furnaces were being rebuilt, and 1 furnace was to be revived. To indicate how decidedly iron production has increased in recent years, we give the following, showing the output in half-yearly periods back to 1896.

Up to the time of the crisis in October activity in the iron and steel trades had been remarkably well maintained. There were, however, for at least six months preceding premonitory symptoms suggestive of a reaction and possibly a decided reverse. Our railroads constitute the largest single consumer of iron and steel. But the railroads, the reader need hardly be told, were not faring well. They were not placing orders with the same degree of freedom as in the past. This was not from the exercise of undue caution or from lack of faith in the future, for on every side they were being urged to be prepared for a still larger traffic than that with which they have been coping, and which had produced such a memorable freight congestion at the close of 1906. They placed orders more sparingly simply because they did not know where to get the means with which to pay for new work. Hostile legislation and governmental action was gradually undermining their credit and destroying their borrowing capacity. Investors and capitalists were becoming distrustful of their securities and long-term obligations could not be sold on reasonable terms except in rare instances. Under these circumstances recourse was had to the issue of short-term notes—in most cases at fancy prices. But even this expedient finally failed or could be availed of only with increasing difficulty.

In the meantime furnaces and mills were kept fully employed because their books were loaded up with orders which remained to be filled. As Mr. Swank recently showed in his statistical annual, the outlook at the close of 1906 was so favorable and the demand for iron and steel so persistent that orders for pig iron and finished products to be delivered in the second and third quarters of 1907 and even in the fourth quarter of the year were freely placed. He states, however, that some apprehension developed during the first half of 1907, and refers among other causes of this to the panic in the stock market in March, the attitude of the President towards corporations and the large fine imposed upon the Standard Oil Co. In July there was a noticeable slackening in demand and in August the stock market again weakened. Thus step by step events were leading up to the tremendous revulsion which came in October. Then all of a sudden new orders entirely stopped coming in, and old orders being in large part exhausted, the manufacturers did the best and most sensible thing possible—they shut down altogether rather than risk piling up stocks which could only serve to further weaken the market.

The continuance of the demand for iron and steel during the first nine months of the year is in the main responsible for the relatively large imports of iron which occurred. Of pig iron alone the imports in 1907 were 489,440 tons, against 379,828 tons in 1906, and of iron and steel in all their forms the imports were 662,360 tons, against 578,209 tons. The exports in quantity were about double the imports, even as thus increased. Furthermore, the advantage of this export trade is that it consists chiefly of the higher forms of iron and steel—that is, finished products. Taking all the articles recorded by weight, the aggregate of the exports in 1907 was 1,302,503 tons, against 1,325,740 tons in 1906. The following shows the relation between the imports and exports for the last six years. It will be seen that where formerly—in 1902 and 1903—there was a large excess of imports, in all the more recent years the exports have run considerably in excess of the imports. It deserves to be stated with reference to the 1907 and 1906 figures, however, that pipes and fittings were for the first time reported by weight in these years, adding to the total of the exports. The shipments of this item were 176,831 tons in 1907 and 141,784 tons in 1906.

No statistics are any longer collected by the American Iron & Steel Association concerning unsold stocks of iron remaining in the hands of makers or their agents, this being on account of the unwillingness of manufacturers to report in that regard. Hence, we are without information on that point. Statistics of stocks are useful in determining the amounts of iron that have gone into actual consumption. With the stocks known, and imports and exports also being given, reasonably accurate computations are possible as to domestic consumption. In the absence of data concerning stocks, computations can be based on production alone as modified by the movement to or from foreign countries. This is the same as assuming that stocks have not changed at all—an assumption which is always without warrant, and never more so than in a period of trade prostration such as occurred the latter part of 1907. The figures in the following are made up on this assumed basis, simply because there is no other way in which they can be made up. We wish to point out that in this table the exports and imports consist of pig iron alone. In the table further above the figures comprise exports and imports of both steel and iron and in all their various forms.

With reference to prices, the averages for the twelve months were considerably higher for all items than the corresponding averages for 1906, and, in fact, by far the best in all recent years. This is due to the high level of values ruling the first six months. During the last six months the course of prices was strongly downward, even before the break in October. After that a tremendous slump occurred. This statement may seem surprising in view of the trade conferences that have recently been held and which have given the impression that an intention exists to maintain prices at the level reached during the recent period of prosperity. As a matter of fact, prices now are very considerably lower than they were six months ago. Take, for instance, gray forge pig iron in Philadelphia. The average for this in July was $22 06, or lower than the average of any preceding month of 1907. Yet in August the average was only $20 15; in September $19 12; in October $18 50; in November $17 62, and in December but $17 12. Of course manufacturers are chiefly concerned in maintaining the prices of the higher forms of iron and steel, but take even such an essential and typical article as steel billets. This during the first seven months of the year ranged at times well above $30 a ton. In November and December the average was only $28 per ton and the present price is also $28. In the following we show the average yearly prices of standard articles of iron and steel for the last eight years.

One other point of interest always exists with reference to the figures of iron production, and that is the distribution of the output among the different States of the Union. Particularly there is always a desire to see the progress the South is making in iron production. The 1907 statistics show no new development in that regard. Iron production in the South on the whole is stationary rather than showing expansion, the total for 1907 for the Southern States being slightly below the total for 1906. There are, indeed, no special features with reference to any of the States except that Illinois has considerably enlarged its output and the record of New York is also steadily improving. The following furnishes comparative figures for the different States for the last seven years.

CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN RESULTS FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR.

The fiscal year of the Chicago & North Western Ry. Co. ends with June 30, but, following a custom of long standing, the company has compiled an income statement for the calendar year for use in our compilation of the earnings of United States railroads for the period in question. The results as disclosed in the case of this very important company indicate at once the strength of the property, while reflecting pretty accurately railroad conditions as a whole throughout the United States for the same period.

The conditions which the railroads have had to meet in recent times have been, as is well known, very trying. The Chicago & North Western was better prepared than the generality of roads to meet such conditions, and yet even it has felt their influence. The chief difficulty has been that cost of operations, owing to increases in wages and higher prices for fuel, materials and supplies, and the other things entering into the accounts of the railroads, has increased to such an extent that, notwithstanding enormous growth in traffic and in gross revenues, there has been no corresponding addition to net earnings. On the contrary, net earnings have in many instances been falling off in face of large gains in gross receipts. At the same time, by reason of the growth in traffic the railroads have been obliged constantly to enlarge and extend their facilities, and for this purpose have had to make considerable additions to their capital account. Such additions to capital have been found necessary even in the case of a property like the Chicago & North Western, where enormous appropriations of earnings for betterments and improvements had been a feature for a long period of time. As will be recalled, the company in February 1907 issued $24,401,600 common stock, which shareholders were allowed to take at par, increasing share capitalization about 25%.

The statement for the calendar year shows a further large increase in gross earnings, the total rising from $66,437,599 in 1906 to $69,338,593 in 1907; but the expenses ran up considerably more than $4,000,000; and as a consequence net for 1907 figures out only $20,163,774, against $21,377,714 in the calendar year 1906. The loss in net, it will be seen, was nearly 1¼ million dollars. The company's investments in other properties are yielding steadily improving results, and, chiefly for this reason, net interest charges (after counting as offset the income from such investments) is being considerably diminished from year to year.

Nevertheless the amount available for dividends in 1907 was only $14,492,373, against $15,250,638 in 1906. On account of the increased amount of stock outstanding, the call for dividends at the usual rate of 7% on the common shares and 8% on the preferred shares was $8,764,111, against $7,053,346 in 1906.

Even after allowing, however, for the increased dividend requirements, a surplus remains in the sum of $5,728,262, which must in any event be considered very large, though in 1906 the amount was still larger at $8,197,292. No specific appropriation of income has been made this time for new equipment, but in the previous year such appropriation amounted to $6,000,000. It is indicative of the income strength of this property that even in such a year as 1907 an appropriation of almost $6,000,000 could have been made before exhausting the year's surplus income—and this with the 1907 net 1¼ million dollars less than for 1906. It is obvious that should business continue depressed and further losses in income ensue, it would only be necessary to forego making the large special appropriations out of income which were a feature in previous years. Manifestly with traffic falling off the needs for such special appropriations in order to provide additional facilities would be correspondingly lessened. The following is a summary of the North Western's income accounts for the last four calendar years:

As the North Western's fiscal year ends with June 30, it will be useful to give the results for the first six months and the last six months separately, this latter period constituting the first half of the new fiscal year. This we have done in the following:

From the foregoing it will be seen that the whole of the loss in net earnings for the calendar year occurred in the six months from July to December, the net earnings for this period in 1907 having been $10,945,914, against $12,407,312 in the corresponding six months of 1906. Gross earnings for these six months of 1907 still ran ahead of those for the same six months of 1906, notwithstanding the heavy falling off in November and December. The decrease in December particularly was heavy; but the management of the North Western, contrary to the experience of most other roads, was able to offset part of this loss by a considerable saving in expense. Doubtless such saving in future months will also be possible, as renewal and maintenance expenditures on this road in the past have been on an exceptionally liberal scale.

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO'S.

—The public sales of bank stocks this week aggregate 308 shares, of which 282 shares were sold at auction and 26 shares at the Stock Exchange. The transactions in trust company stocks reach a total of 80 shares. The auction sales included 175 shares of Chase National Bank stock, sold in several lots at prices ranging from 205¾ to 213. The last previous public sale of the stock of this bank was made in November 1907 at 181. The table below, given in our usual form, shows the actual sales of New York City bank stocks made during the week at auction and at the Stock Exchange. Extensive tables showing the bid and asked quotations, deposits, surplus, &c., of banks and trust companies in all important cities of the United States are published monthly in the "Bank and Quotation" Section, the February issue of which accompanies to-day's "Chronicle." Bid and asked quotations for all New York City bank and trust company stocks are also published weekly in another department of the paper, and will be found to-day on pages 322 and 323.

—The Columbus (Ohio) Clearing House and the Cleveland Clearing-House Association are reported to have retired the last of the Clearing-House certificates put out during the financial disturbances.

—William A. Nash, President of the Corn Exchange Bank, resigned as Secretary of the Finance Committee of the New York Chamber of Commerce this week on account of pressure of business affairs. A short time since Dumont Clarke, President of the American Exchange Bank of this city, resigned as Chairman of the committee for the same reason.

—The stockholders of the Lincoln Trust Co. of this city on Thursday ratified the proposition to increase the capital of the institution from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. The shareholders are accorded the privilege of subscribing to the new issue at par to the extent of half their present holdings.

—Clark Williams, New York State Superintendent of Banks, this week inaugurates his policy of calling for weekly reports of condition from all institutions under his supervision. This action of the Superintendent is in accordance with the announcement made in his recent annual report, in which he stated that, availing of the authority vested in his office, he would require an average summary statement of condition of banking institutions as of the close of business on Friday of each week. These figures will be compiled in the office of the Department at New York, and those of the institutions in the metropolitan district not reporting to the Clearing House will be segregated, combined and published in such form as, with the weekly bank statement, will show, so far as is possible, the true financial condition of the banking institutions of the City of New York. The first statement is to be of date yesterday—Feb. 7—and will be issued to-day (Saturday). Banks and trust companies outside Greater New York are obliged to mail the statements on Friday night, as soon after the close of business as possible, to the New York office of the Department, 52 Broadway, and institutions within the city must deliver their statements on Saturday of each week before 9:30 a. m. at the Department's New York office. Mr. Williams states that he believes the making of these reports will materially aid the Department in effecting a more adequate supervision of the banking institutions under its jurisdiction. Blank forms showing the requirements in each instance have been prepared and distributed by the Banking Department. In the case of trust companies in New York City the following information is required:

1. Average amount of loans, bills purchased and investments (except real estate). (Loans, bills purchased, stocks and bonds and mortgages owned by the trust company.)
2. Average amount of specie. (Gold and silver coin, United States and Clearing-House gold certificates and U. S. silver certificates.)
3. Average amount of legal tenders and bank notes. (U. S. legal-tender notes of all issues and notes or bills issued by any lawfully organized national banking association.)
4. Average amount of bonds in lawful money reserve. (Bonds of the United States, bonds of the State of New York, and bonds issued in compliance with law by any city of the first or second class within the State of New York, computed at par value, the absolute property of the company.)
5. Average amount due from reserve depositories in New York City. (Moneys on deposit subject to call in any bank or trust company in this State, having a capital of at least $200,000, or a capital and surplus of $300,000, and approved by the Superintendent of Banks, less offsets.)
6. Average amount due from reserve depositories outside of New York City, less offsets.
7. Average amount due from other New York City banks and trust companies. (Moneys on deposit subject to call in any New York City bank or trust company, not a reserve depository.)
8. Average amount due from out-of-town banks and trust companies. (Moneys on deposit subject to call in banks or trust companies outside of New York City, not reserve depositories.)
9. Average amount of deposits. (Gross deposits and unpaid dividends less checks and demand items on other New York City banks and trust companies, and amounts due from other banks and trust companies for collection.)

The trust companies outside of New York City are asked to furnish data on six items, three of which are identical in language with numbers 1, 4 and 9 above, the other three being as follows:

Average amount of cash. (Gold and silver coin, United States gold and silver certificates, United States legal-tender notes of all issues and notes or bills issued by any lawfully organized national banking association.)
Average amount due from reserve depositories. (Moneys on deposit subject to call in any bank or trust company in this State, approved by the Superintendent of Banks as reserve agent, less offsets.)
Average amount due from other banks and trust companies. (Moneys on deposit subject to call in banks or trust companies, not reserve depositories.)

In the blanks to be filled out by New York City banks there are eight items, and of these six are exactly the same as those in the form first above, numbered 2, 3, 6, 7, 8 and 9. The other two items are:

Average amount of loans, discounts and investments (except real estate. (Loans, discounts, stocks and bonds and mortgages owned by the bank.)
Average amount due from reserve depositories in New York City. (Moneys on deposit subject to call in any bank or trust company in this State, approved by the Superintendent of Banks as reserve agent, less offsets.)

For banks outside of New York the blank form calls altogether for only five items. Three of these correspond exactly with those for the trust companies outside of New York as enumerated above (namely, the items designated "Average Amount of Cash," "Average Amount Due from Reserve Depositories" and "Average Amount Due from Other Banks and Trust Companies"), and the other two are as follows:

Average amount of loans, discounts and investments (except real estate.) (Loans, discounts, stocks and bonds and mortgages owned by the bank.)
Average amount of deposits. (Gross deposits and unpaid dividends, ess checks and demand items on other New York City banks or trust companies and amounts due from other banks and trust companies for collection.)

It was stated yesterday afternoon that the Clearing House, beginning to-day (Saturday) in addition to showing the averages of the various items for the week, would also report in its statement the amounts of the same items at the end of the week.

—In the prosecution of its work to promote uniform and necessary legislation in the different States, the Standing Law Committee of the American Bankers' Association has issued a pamphlet containing drafts of proposed laws approved and recommended by it for enactment during 1908. Thomas B. Paton is Counsel and Secretary of the committee.

—Reports from Guthrie, Okla., on the 2d inst. stated that the First State Bank of Beaver City, Okla., had decided to suspend business because of the new State guaranty-deposit law. The officers are quoted as saying that the bank is both safe and conservative, but they do not care to operate under a law which "compels them to pay their money into a guaranty fund to pay the losses of others."

—Following a two-days' run, the Home Bank of Brooklyn Borough, at 5th Ave. and 48th St., was closed on Saturday last, the 1st inst., under orders from State Superintendent of Banks Clark Williams. President W. C. Damron, declares the institution to be solvent, and can attribute the demands upon it only to the fact that it formerly cleared through the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank, which suspended last week. The bank was organized in 1905 and declared its initial dividend, of 2% quarterly, last September. It has a capital of $100,000 and a statement issued under date of Jan. 31 reports deposits of $348,720 and total assets of $665,222.

—Aside from the fact that it added another to the list of suspended banks in Brooklyn, the closing of the Home Bank gave little concern. The suspension, however, of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank, which, although a Manhattan institution, operated ten branches in Brooklyn, served to make itself felt to a considerable extent, in some cases seriously affecting the trades people in the immediate vicinity of the branches. No other municipality has suffered in as large a measure as Brooklyn in the matter of bank closing since last October. In addition to last week's suspensions, there are some five or six other institutions which have failed to reopen their doors since shutting down three months ago, these including the First National Bank, the Jenkins Trust Co., the Williamsburgh Trust Co., the Borough Bank and the Brooklyn Bank.

—The firm of N. Curtis Fletcher & Co., Providence, R. I., which conducted a banking and brokerage business, suspended on Monday, having executed a deed of trust of all its property to Frank L. Hinckley. The partnership consists of N. Curtis Fletcher and William R. Potter. There is said to have been a run on the institution following a criticism of the affairs of the United Illuminating Co., the presidency of which Mr. Fletcher recently resigned.

—Wilson, Colston & Co. of Baltimore, members of the Baltimore Stock Exchange, and one of the oldest banking houses in the South, was placed in receivers' hands on Monday night, the Court naming as receivers Edwin G. Baetjer and Joseph Packard. The failure is attributed in general to the decline in the values of securities, and more particularly to the receivership of the Seaboard Air Line Ry. The assets are estimated, roughly, at $870,000, and the liabilities at $955,000, of which it is said $175,000 represents deposits with the firm and $780,000 loans to it. The present firm of Wilson, Colston & Co., composed of William Bowly Wilson and Frederick C. Colston, was established in 1867, and succeeded the firm of William Wilson & Sons, founded in 1802.

Messrs. George A. Colston and Heyward E. Boyce, both of whom have long been associated with the firm of Wilson, Colston & Co., have formed a partnership to take over the collateral loan and investment business of the old house. The business will be continued at the old address 216 East Baltimore Street.

—Paul M. Warburg of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of this city, is, as is well known, an ardent advocate of a central bank. In an address delivered at Columbia University on the 3d inst. he also made some other suggestions. In the absence of such a bank, Mr. Warburg favors, as the best solution of the matter for the time being, the creation of a central clearing house, with power to issue, against clearing house certificates, notes to be guaranteed by the United States. Its creation with a capital of its own and with a limited dividend, the surplus revenue going to the United States, would, he argues, leave present conditions undisturbed, and, while offering immediate relief, would at the same time form a sound basis for future developments. The plan, Mr. Warburg continues, would possess the following advantages:

"1. The clearing house would have its own [illegible]
"2. It would centralize the additional note issue and would therefore do better service in permitting legitimate expansion as well as in forcing effective contraction, which, with 6,500 independent note issuers, is well nigh impossible. While additional notes issued by a bank mean an increase of deposits, which may, perhaps, be called [illegible] day, on which on the other hand, may remain forever, an advance by the central clearing house would be made to the banks for a given period, after which the money must be returned. It would, therefore, be safe for the banks and would at the same time insure contraction after a certain time as in Europe.
"3. The central clearing house would be able to accommodate commerce and industry in times of need by accepting commercial assets provided that they are recognized as legitimate and safe by the indorsement of the local clearing houses.
"4. It would leave our national banks without any [illegible] independent note-issuing power, and would in this respect be beneficial. An additional note issuing power should logically carry with it further restrictions as to their privilege of doing a commercial business, whereas their privileges in this respect should rather be increased.
"5. Through the share in the profits reserved for the Government, the latter would receive some return on the funds which it would deposit with the banks through the central clearing house, whereas at present the Government does not receive any such return.
"6. It would form a medium through which [illegible] might be contracted with European government banks in a way similar to that by which transactions have been concluded between the Bank of [illegible] and the Bank of France.
"7. If there were formed to supervise the management of the central clearing house a central board administered by salaried officers, as in Europe, and comprising both business men largely selected from the clearing house committees, and politics [illegible] would eliminate the arbitrary powers which the Secretary of the Treasury is now called upon to exercise; it would create continuity of policy which is most essential for the development of the country.
"8. Finally, it would show that this country [illegible] a body of men as honest, as trustworthy and as efficient as those to whose hands Europe has confided the care of its central banks. As the confidence in this body grows as the banks come to feel its beneficent influence, the powers of this clearing house may gradually be increased, and thus from the joint indorsement by the clearing houses we may gradually get our way to the indorsement and acceptance by individuals, and so finally may finally be able to develop a central organ, which [illegible] from political and from financial domination, and rigidly [illegible] to its [illegible] business, will place us financially in a sound and [illegible] and which will cause us in this domain, as in other [illegible] modern and completely civilized nation."

—Further opportunity to secure the required assents to the plan for the rehabilitation of the Knickerbocker Trust Co of this city has been afforded by Justice Clark of the Supreme Court at St. George, Staten Island, he having on Saturday last adjourned for another two weeks the hearing on the motion to make permanent the receivership. Assents from about 90% of the depositors, it is said, have been received.

—A question which has come up with the closing of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank of this city concerns the matter of allowing deposits as offsets against notes pledged as security for Clearing House certificates. The Clearing House, which holds $6,000,000 collateral as security for the bank's indebtedness of $1,900,000—part of this security consisting of individual notes and commercial paper—has signified its intention of refusing to permit deposits to be applied toward the debt, and will seek to recover the full amount of the paper. It is stated that there is likelihood of the matter being brought into court to legally settle the point.

Meetings of the directors of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank were held this week to perfect plans for the reopening of the bank. The depositors of each branch, it is announced, have appointed a committee to work in conjunction with the directors. The Brooklyn headquarters of the depositors' committee will be at 44 Court Street, and the Manhattan headquarters will be in the Cable Building, 621 Broadway. A plan, it is reported, has been outlined by Paul M. Grout, counsel to the directors, providing for the closing of several of the least profitable of the Brooklyn branches, and for the resumption of business on the deferred-payment basis—that is, to pay depositors 10% with the reopening, 15% at the end of four months, 20% at the end of eight months, 25% at the end of a year and 30% in sixteen months.

—The New Amsterdam National Bank's indebtedness of $300,000 to the New York Clearing House is understood to have been paid in full this week.

—James F. Alexander has been elected a Vice-President of the National Bank of Commerce of this city. Mr. Alexander was formerly an Assistant Cashier of the institution, but resigned to take a position with the American Express Company, from which he now returns to the National Bank of Commerce.

—Warner M. Van Norden, President of the Van Norden Trust Co., has been elected a director of the Twelfth Ward Bank of this city. Mr. Van Norden with his son, Warner Van Norden, were reported to have substantially aided in the bank's resumption last November, and the amount advanced is said to have since been repaid.

—The New York agency of the National Bank of Cuba has been removed from 111 Broadway to 1 Wall Street. The agency is prepared to handle banking business, and special provision will be made for affording the customers of the bank full opportunity to keep posted on Cuba's securities, products, exports and imports, plantations and general information which may be useful in determining credits and reaching any particular class of business.

—The Advisory Committee of the American Bankers' Association last week held its first session of two days at the association offices, Hanover Bank Building. Of the members of the committee there were present: Col. J. D. Powers, Louisville, Ky., President; Lewis E. Pierson, New York City, Chairman of the Executive Council; John L. Hamilton of Illinois; F. O. Watts, Nashville, Tenn.; M. E. Ailes, Washington, D. C.; C. H. Hollister, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and the Secretary of the Association, Fred E. Farnsworth. Also, by special invitation, George M. Reynolds of Chicago, First Vice-President, and A. A. Crane of Minneapolis, Minn., Treasurer of the Association. A number of new propositions were outlined which would be of benefit to the association and its members. These were referred, with favorable recommendations, to the Executive Council. The committee decided on the publication of a new cipher code, and authority was given for a thorough revision of the old code. It was announced to the committee that the Clearing-House Section, through its President, August Blum of Chicago, instructed the Secretary to go ahead with the proposed numbering of drafts, giving Clearing House number and assigning a number for cities. The matter of the consolidation of the various offices of the sections and institute, bringing same into the building occupied by the main association, with offices adjoining the association offices, was referred to the Council. A resolution was passed authorizing the Secretary, in line with his suggestion, to form a library devoted to banking and finance which will at all times be available to those seeking information on these important measures.

—It is reported that a plan for the reopening of the First National Bank of Brooklyn Borough, submitted by Receiver John W. Schofield, has been approved by Comptroller of the Currency William B. Ridgely, and that the institution will reopen on Monday next, the 10th inst. The directors are said to have guaranteed to restore the $165,000 impairment in the bank's $300,000 capital, this impairment to be met by an assessment on the shareholders. The bank has been closed since Oct. 25 last. According to the Brooklyn "Eagle," Receiver Schofield has again placed on the board the directors who were displaced last spring by members of the Jenkins family, and the reorganized bank, it states, is absolutely out of the control of the Jenkinses, who own only about one-third of the stock. Last week Joseph Huber was elected Vice-President of the institution and William Irish was chosen Cashier. The board is composed of Marshall S. Driggs, Moses May, John J. Cooney, Joseph Huber, Samuel H. Coombs, Theodore F. Jackson, John W. Weber and Mortimer L. Reynolds.

—The National Newark Banking Co. of Newark, N. J., will shortly take possession of its handsome new quarters on the ground floor of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Building, which has been recently completed. The banking room proper will be 40x170 feet. The floor is of white marble and the wainscoting, &c., of Vermont marble surmounted with very handsome bronze work; metal furniture is used throughout. The appointments of the room will be of the most approved type. A separate ladies' department with individual tellers has been provided for. New steel vaults of the most approved design will be located in the basement. The National Newark Banking Co. is the oldest bank in the State of New Jersey, having been organized in 1804. It has a capital of $1,000,000 and surplus and undivided profits of $1,629,000. David H. Merritt is President, Albert H. Baldwin Vice-President and H. W. Tunis Cashier.

—Comptroller Ridgely has ordered an assessment of 100% against the stockholders of the Jeweler's National Bank of North Attleboro, Mass., which closed its doors on Dec. 18, following the death of its Vice-President and Cashier, Frederick E. Sargent. The bank had a capital of $100,000.

—Joseph L. Greenwald has been elected President of the People's Trust Co. of Philadelphia to take the place of John C. Winston, resigned. Mr. Greenwald formerly officiated as the bank's sole Vice-President. Charles J. Gallagher has become First Vice-President of the institution, and Simon Abrahams has been chosen Second Vice-President. William H. Harper continues as Secretary and Treasurer.

—H. E. Woodman has been advanced from the second vice-presidency of the Franklin Trust Co. of Philadelphia to the presidency to succeed A. J. Speese, the latter having retired because of ill health.

—Judge Thomas Mellon, founder of the firm of T. Mellon & Sons, which was merged in the Mellon National Bank of Pittsburgh, died on the 3d inst., the ninety-fifth anniversary of his birth. Mr. Mellon was born in Ireland but at the age of five years was brought to this country by his parents, who settled in Westmoreland County, Pa. In 1834 Mr. Mellon entered the Western University of Pennsylvania and here took up the study of law. In 1859 he was elected Judge of the Common Pleas Court and served the full term of ten years. In 1870 Mr. Mellon founded the banking firm of T. Mellon & Sons, which was succeeded in July 1902 by the Mellon National Bank. Other interests with which he was identified include the Aluminum Co. of America, the Carborundum Co. of America, the Georgia Boxite & Mining Co., the J. M. Guffey Petroleum Co. and the Gulf Refining Co.

—The purchase of the entire capital stock of the German Trust Co. of Pittsburgh by the Land Trust Co. has been effected, and on Monday last the German Trust removed to the quarters of the purchasing company. Both institutions began operations in 1903. The German Trust Co. has an authorized capital of $200,000, of which $161,600 is paid in. The Land Trust Co. has a capital of $500,000. S. A. Steel and Jacob Klein of the German Trust Co. have been elected to the board of the Land Trust, and J. M. Hiller, Secretary and Treasurer of the first-named institution, will also become identified with the purchasing company.

—W. S. Linderman has been elected Vice-President of the Duquesne National Bank of Pittsburgh, to succeed the late A. H. Patterson. Mr. Linderman was previously Cashier, and is replaced in that office by S. A. McMullen, heretofore Assistant Cashier.

—Feb. 5 was the first anniversary of the National City Bank of Chicago, of which institution David R. Forgan is President. The year's business is certainly most encouraging and very remarkable, considering the times and conditions. The following comparative statement of deposits is sufficient evidence of the bank's success:

|---|---|
| February 5 1907 (opening day) | $2,198,337 25 |
| April 5 1907 | 3,645,246 72 |
| July 5 1907 | 4,924,697 10 |
| October 5 1907 | 5,402,507 92 |
| February 5 1908 | 7,202,985 84 |

The National City Bank has just opened a Bond Department for buying and selling only securities of the highest grade—railroad, corporation and municipal. R. W. Lansing is the manager of this department. He was formerly with Mr. Forgan in the old Union National Bank and, since then, for 5 or 6 years, has been in the bond department of the First National Bank and First Trust & Savings Bank.

—The 1907 balance sheet of the London City & Midland Bank, Ltd. (head office, London, E. C.), which is published to-day, is an interesting business record of this vast English banking organization. The corporation's "current deposits and other accounts" total $266,410,306, while "acceptances on account of customers" stood at $19,813,873. Its paid-up capital is $15,714,250 and reserve fund $15,714,250. The subscribed capital is $75,428,400. New York City, Boston and Philadelphia Banks.—The New York City Clearing House has since the panic discontinued issuing its detailed statement showing the weekly averages of condition of the separate banks, both the member and the "non-member" institutions. The last statement issued, that for Oct. 26 1907, will be found in the "Chronicle" of Nov. 2, on page 1124.

The Philadelphia and Boston Clearing Houses also adopted the course of not making public the returns of the individual banks. The publication of the Boston statement, however, was re-commenced on January 25.

Below is a summary of the weekly totals of the Clearing-House banks of New York City, Boston and Philadelphia, The New York figures do not include results for non-member banks.

We omit two ciphers (00) in all these figures

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—We imagine that no one well informed in regard to current events will be at a loss to account for a large falling off in the volume of business at the Stock Exchange and the decline of security prices which has taken place this week. There is nothing new in the general situation, however, except that the opposition to corporations and corporate interests has been emphasized and the extent of the paralysis which has overtaken so many of our industrial enterprises is better understood. The result is that the feeling of uncertainty in regard to the future has increased, the investment demand recently noted has almost entirely disappeared, and all classes of securities have declined in value.

Money continues to accumulate at this centre. Last Saturday's bank statement showed a surplus reserve of 40½ millions, as against a shortage of about 60 millions a few weeks ago, and lenders find it difficult to place funds even at the low rates now prevailing. The financial situation abroad is illustrated by a slightly lower percentage of reserve reported by the Bank of England and by tendency to lower security prices at London, Paris and Berlin.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¾% to 2%. To-day's rates on call were 1¾@2%. Prime commercial paper quoted at 5¼@5½% for 60 to 90-day endorsements and 5½@6% for best single names.

The Bank of England's weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £950,559, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 54.41, against 56.68 last week.

The discount rate remains at 4%, as fixed Jan. 23. The Bank of France shows an increase of 34,675,000 francs gold and a decrease of 2,950,000 francs silver.

State and Railway Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $5,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 24.

The market for railway and industrial bonds has been far less active of late, the daily transactions amounting to only about ¼ their recent average. Accompanying this decreasing interest in the market there has been a decline of prices, practically all active issues closing from 1 to 2 points lower than last week.

Rock Island bonds have been notably weak in sympathy with the shares. Brooklyn Rapid Transits and Interboro-Metropolitan 4½s are down over 3 points and Mexican Centrals have lost a substantial part of the advance noted last week. Other bonds which have been traded in are, as noted above, generally from 1 to 2 points lower.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board include $3,000 3s, coup., 1908-18, at 101¼ to 101½ and $1,000 3s, reg., 1908-18, at 101¼. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—One of the chief characteristics of the stock market throughout the week has been its dulness. On Tuesday the transactions aggregated less than 268,000 shares and for the week have averaged but little more. The tendency of prices has been almost constantly towards a lower level and the active list shows no exceptions in this particular.

The anthracite coal stocks have been more or less conspicuous features of the market.

As for a long time past, Reading has been the most active stock, but its fluctuations have not been especially wide. Central of New Jersey declined nearly 10 points on the offering of a few shares and closes with a net loss of 5. Delaware & Hudson is 6 points lower than last week. Pennsylvania and New York Central, on the other hand, are only about 1 point lower. Rock Island issues declined sharply on Monday, but both common and preferred have made substantial recovery. Union Pacific is down 4¾ points, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 4 and other active stocks from 2 to 3½ points.

All industrial stocks have followed the general trend of the market. American Ice declined from over 18 last week to 13 to-day, and Air Brake is also 5 points lower.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

South Side Elevated Railroad, Chicago.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

At the annual meeting last week President C. W. Weston said in substance:

General Results.—During the year 1907 the gross earnings from passenger traffic increased 17.47%. This increase is attributable partly to the normal increase of the population served and partly to the opening of five new stations on the Englewood extension and to opening to traffic the new Kenwood branch, on which there are seven stations.

The increase in net earnings was 9.3%. The lower rate of increase in net earnings is due to a normal increase in the operating expenses, and to some extraordinary expenses which were made for the improvement of the structure and operating conditions.

The extraordinary expenses included in maintenance of way and structures were: Remodeling old Congress St. station and tracks, $8,075; improvements to the structure at 55th St. Boulevard crossing and between 12th St. and Harrison St., $6,381.

Earnings—New Branches.—The effect due to the opening of the new branch lines and to the operation of express trains on the central track has been gratifying. During January 1907 the average daily traffic was 92,411 passengers. The patronage increased steadily until October, when the high-mark was reached, with a daily average for that month of 126,670 passengers. The sudden depression in general business which occurred in the latter part of October caused the traffic to decline during November and December. There are indications now that the low point has been reached, and that we are beginning to recover the business lost during the last two months of 1907. Rapid progress is now being made toward the completion of the Stock Yards branch. You may feel assured that the line to the Stock Yards will be opened to traffic on or before May 1 1908. It is expected that the business of the company will be augmented as soon as the operation of trains over the Stock Yards branch is begun.

Maintenance.—During the year 1,389 cross ties and 411 timber-guard rails were replaced. Steel rails on 7,702 feet of single straight track and on 2,227 feet of single curved track were renewed. This completed the work of renewing the running rails on the two old main tracks between 39th and 12th streets.

The storage battery at 61st St. was rebuilt and fifteen new cells added.

The steel structure between 12th and Congress streets was thoroughly overhauled and stiffened at expansion points by the addition of steel channels riveted to the columns and cross girders. 123 cars went into the shops for general repairs.

New Construction.—All new construction work authorized by the city ordinance of March 16 1903 has been completed, except the line to the Stock Yards, which is being constructed by the Chicago Junction RR. Co. and the Union Avenue Yard on the Stock Yards branch, which is being built by the South Side Elevated RR. Co. The whole construction will be finished within the amount of the bond issue. A large tract of land south of 63d St. between Calumet and Prairie avenues was purchased on which there have been created car storage facilities adequate for many years to come.

When the Stock Yards line is completed and in operation, the system will represent 36½ miles of single-track railroad, exclusive of yards and sidings, capable of handling a traffic enormously greater than the capacity of the loop terminal in the down-town district. The present traffic during the rush hours overtaxes the present terminal facilities in the business centre, and one of the most important problems confronting the elevated properties of Chicago at this time is the improvement of this terminal so that its capacity will approximate the ultimate capacity of the main lines.

Northern Ohio Traction & Light Co.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President H. A. Everett, under date of Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 18 1908, says in substance:

Track.—The total mileage Dec. 31 1907 was 214.53 miles, as compared with 204.12 for the year 1906, being an increase of 10.41 miles.

The line from Barberton to Wadsworth, 6 miles, was completed and placed in operation on April 9 1907. This line operates upon right of way owned in fee, and should eventually extend to Seville, connecting there with the lines of the Cleveland Southwestern & Columbus Traction Co. An extension was built from West Brookfield to East Greenville, 3 miles. In Akron, 1,800 feet of old tracks on Long St., which were laid with 40 and 50-lb. "T" rails, have been removed and new double tracks laid, with heavy 72-lb. "T" rails, on large ties placed on slag foundation and paved with brick; also, on North Howard St. 2,800 feet of track has been relaid in a similar manntr with 80-lb. "T" rails. In Canton about one mile of double track was laid.

Extensive repairs and renewals have been made on the various divisions by way of reballasting, placing new ties and the laying of new rails; 15,000 ties have been renewed. The tracks are now in first-class condition. A new steel bridge was constructed over Still Water Creek.

Additional private right of way has been purchased on the A. B. & C. Division, between Cuyahoga Falls and Newburg, making about 85% of the total right of way needed for the purpose of moving the tracks that are at present on the highway.

Franchises.—In consideration of our building from West Brookfield to East Greenville, the City of Masillon granted the company an extension of its franchises on all lines operated in said city for 25 years from Jan. 1 1907.

Rolling Stock.—The rolling stock and electrical equipment have all been maintained in first-class condition. Twenty-six additional cars were placed in service.

Power Stations.—In the Beech St. power house, Akron, two additional 300 horse-power Stirling boilers, equipped with automatic stokers, &c., have been installed, making a total boiler capacity of 3,600 horse-power. In the Cuyahoga Falls power house, the company has installed two additional 250 horse-power Stirling boilers; in the Bedford power house [illegible] power Stirling boiler.

Lighting Department.—In Akron 400 new arc lamps, known as the "Magnatite" lamp, were installed for street lighting purposes on Sept. 1, and have proved successful. The increase in gross earnings of the lighting department is very gratifying.

Parks.—The company is now operating two parks, including theaters—in Akron the Lakeside Park and in Canton Meyers' Lake Park. The total earnings from these parks were $68,161, out of which a net profit of $22,129 was derived.

Injury and Damages.—This account has been monthly credited with 2% of the gross receipts and the surplus in the account at the present time amounts to $21,800.

Dividends.—The customary 2% dividend was paid during the year.

Capital Stock.—A new issue of $1,000,000 stock was made during the year, the same being sold pro rata to the stockholders at $20 per share.

Stockholders.—The company now has 535 stockholders of record, an increase of 76 over the previous year.

Outlook.—We feel, notwithstanding a falling off in general business, that both the gross and net earnings of the company for the coming year will show an increase and that requirements for capital account will be comparatively small.

General Chemical Co.

(Report for the Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

William H. Nichols, Chairman of the Board, says:

Attention is invited to the new form of balance sheet which has been adopted for the purpose of greater clearness, particularly as to the relation of quick assets to quick liabilities. A balance sheet in the old form is also submitted to facilitate comparison with previous statements.

While the profits for the last 6 months are ample to justify a dividend of 2% upon the common stock at this time, the immediate outlook for business is so uncertain that the directors have deemed it the part of conservative judgment to recognize present conditions and declare a dividend of 1% only, with the expectation that these conditions are not permanent and that the common stock dividend will be paid quarterly hereafter.

This dividend will be paid March 2 to common stockholders of record Feb. 21 1908.

There was charged off plant and investment accounts during the year $320,171. There has been expended on new construction $375,647 and on repairs and reconstruction charged to expense $568,368.

American Can Co.

(Report for Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President W. T. Graham says in substance:

While the earnings for the year are the largest ever made, they are not as much as the business promised prior to the financial troubles of last fall and the partial paralysis of business that followed. Sales in November and December fell off heavily as compared with previous months of the year and the same months in 1906 years, and a heavy loss was occasioned by depreciation in inventory value of materials. Before determining net earnings, $3,246,828, as stated, $395,659 was written down from cost on tin plates, metals, other materials and products, and questionable accounts aggregating $113,925 were charged to profit and loss, so that inventory and receivables as stated are as clear assets as rigid scrutiny can make them.

There has been expended during the year in the completion of new factories at New Orleans, Savannah and New Castle, re-building those destroyed by fire at San Francisco and St. Paul, and in enlarging the capacity of others, $356,927, but due to the sale of unused properties for $128,910, and a liberal write-off for depreciation, investment in fixed property, namely, plants, real estate and new construction and improvements, has only increased by $147,930 a small sum as compared with increase in manufacturing facilities and the advantage of distribution from 3 new locations.

After paying dividends for the year and for extensions as stated, $552,477 has been added to working capital from profits. The products of your company are widely distributed, and of a character that do not enjoy extraordinary activity in boom periods or suffer the reverse in times of depression, and notwithstanding the fact that your sales for November and December fell off, and were not up to normal in January 1908, due to the financial situation, there is evidence of improvement, and it is reasonable to look for a fair business year without regard to the prospects in other lines of manufacture.

Death of President.—President George T. Dunlop died on Wednesday of this week. V. 84, p. 1365.

Chicago Great Western Ry.—Default on Notes—Noteholders' Committee.—Interest due Feb. 1 on the $2,499,697 5% gold notes dated 1904 and due Aug. 1 1909 remains unpaid (compare V. 79, p. 902). There are $8,511,818 5-year 5% notes outstanding, due from 1908 to 1912, both inclusive, to protect which the following committee has been formed: Otto T. Bannard, New York, Chairman; Sydney C. Borg and Winthrop Burr.

Deposits of the notes of the various series may be made with the New York Trust Co., 26 Broad St., as trustee, on or before March 2. Wm. H. Brown, care Simon Borg & Co., 20 Nassau St., N. Y. City, is Secretary to the committee, and copies of the agreement of deposit may be obtained from him or from Parkinson & Burr, 53 State St., Boston. Wallach & Cook are Counsel to the committee. See advertisement on another page.

Committee for Debent. Stock.—A committee consisting of William V. Read, Chairman, Edwin M. Bulkley, George P. Butler, Frederick H. Ecker and Frederick W. Whitridge, with F. E. Mowle, Secretary, 25 Nassau St., New York, and Joline, Larkin & Barnbone, Counsel, in view of the appointment of receivers and the issuance by the finance committee of a circular dated Jan. 9 (compare V. 86, p. 228, 107), recommending the creation of first lien 50-year bonds, to be secured by mortgage upon properties of the railway company, including rolling stock and terminals in cities, urges all holders of 4% debenture stock (total issued $28,127,089) ta deposit their holdings with the Bankers' Trust Co., 7 Wall St., New York, under the terms of a protective agreement dated Feb. 1 1908.

The committee is empowered to prepare a plan of re-organization and if, after 30 days' notice, holders of 40% of the certificates of deposit for debenture stock do not dissent, the plan will be binding on all depositors. The compensation of the committee is limited to 50 cents for each $100 of debenture stock deposited. See advertisement on another page.—V. 86, p. 228, 167.

Chicago & Milwaukee Electric RR.—Appointed Sustitute Receiver.—Judge Grosscup has appointed H. A. Haugan as co-receiver in place of A. C. Frost, who withdrew.

Outstanding Securities.—The Chicago "Economist" says:

There are now outstanding $15,000,000 of 5% bonds and an authorized issue of $2,000,000 of 6% notes (compare V. 85, p. 920). The Western Trust & Savings Bank, trustee under the note issue, states that only $100,000 of the notes were issued and about $170,000 of the Wisconsin Division bonds are held as collateral for these notes. One of the receivers states that only about one-third of the $10,000,000 Wisconsin Division bonds have been sold to investors the remainder being held as collateral for loans.

Earnings, &c.—Charles G. Dawes, President of the Central Trust Co. of Illinois, on Jan. 29 put out a statement in which he alleges on the authority of public accountants, who, it is said, made a somewhat hasty examination, that the freight earnings as heretofore published have included charges against the Republic Construction Co. for hauling materials and supplies for use in building the Milwaukee Division, $267,793 out of freight earnings amounting to $313,759 for the eleven months ending Nov. 30 1907, it is alleged, being so derived; also that the passenger earnings have been improperly shown. Compare "Chicago Evening Post" of Jan. 29, or "Chicago Economist" of Feb. 1. D. B. Hanna, Third Vice-President of the Canadian Northern Ry., says:

The statement was made upon the results of a three days' investigation of transactions covering years, and under conditions which could not show a complete analysis of the situation. The Canadian interests of $3,000,000, which I represent, do not doubt Mr. Frost's absolute honesty. The bondholders must complete the road as projected, and as the representative of the largest concentered interest I favor retaining Mr. Frost as operating manager under the receivership.

We Canadians have had the property thoroughly inspected, and we are satisfied that it is one of the best propositions of the kind in existence. There is no better construction extant. There remain eight miles of road to complete into Milwaukee, and a recent inspection showed that 60% of this construction is done. I see no reason why traffic between Chicago and Milwaukee should not be a reality by June 1 at the latest.—V. 86, p. 284.

Compare bond statement in President Winchell's letter of Jan. 20, 1908, in V. 86, p. 228.

Cincinnati Flemingsburg & Southeastern Ry.—A press despatch dated Jan. 20 states that the company has settled all of the damage suits brought as the result of an accident from the falling of a trestle between Flemingsburg and Hillsboro on May 10 last, in which one or more persons were killed and a number injured, and also the foreclosure suit brought by the Columbia Finance & Trust Co. of Louisville, trustee.—V. 81, p. 507.

Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton Ry.—Note Issue Ratified.—The stockholders yesterday approved the proposition to issue $14,286,000 5½-year 4% purchase money notes, per plan V. 86, p. 108.

Cleveland Painesville & Ashtabula Electric RR.—Report.—For calendar years:

—V. 82, p. 1379.

Cuba Eastern RR.—New Management—Protective Committee.—The embarrassment of the underwriters occasioned by the failure of the Knickerbocker Trust Co. of New York has led to the organization on Boston of the following protective committee:

Curtis G. Metzler, Chairman; George R. Leghorn, Secretary and Treasurer; Dudley S. Blakeley, Edgar L. Van Etten and Mortimer Smith. Depositary, Old Colony Trust Co., Boston.

Edgar L. Van Etten was recently elected President and George R. Leghorn, Treasurer, of the Cuba Eastern RR. Co. and the Cuba Terminals Co., at the instance, it is understood, of the aforesaid committee.—V. 86, p. 108.

Delaware & Hudson Co.—Offered.—The "Wall Street Summary" says:

Private offerings of the new $6,000,000 4½% six-months loan which was taken by the First National Bank and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., are being made at 99⅞. It is understood that the Delaware & Hudson secured the money at a cost of 5½%. Compare V. 86, p. 285, 282.

Des Moines Union Ry.—New Director.—N. T. Gurnesey has been elected a director to succeed C. Huttenlocher. —V. 75, p. 342.

Detroit Toledo & Ironton Ry.—Default—Receivers Appointed.—This company defaulted Feb. 1 on the interest then due on the consolidated mortgage 4½% bonds dated 1905 and due Aug. 1 1980. In view of this occurrence the United States Circuit Court at Detroit appointed Vice-President George K. Lowell and General Counsel Benjamin S. Warren as receivers of the property. On Feb. 5 Thomas D. Rhodes, formerly receiver of the Detroit Southern, was also made a receiver. On Feb. 4 the temporary receivers of the Knickerbocker Trust Co. obtained an attachment for $200,000, representing a 6-months' loan due last November.

The directors issued the following:

The failure of the company to pay the coupons on its mortgage can be directly attributed to adverse railroad legislation, particularly to such as in effect prohibits any railroad from having an interest, directly or indirectly, in any coal property in excess of a production equal to its own requirements. At the time of the organization of the company its prosperity was believed to be assured by the development of coal lands in northern Kentucky. Because of these conditions matured plans which would have brought about such a development had to be abandoned and the ordinary business coming to a railroad alone had to be depended upon for its growth and prosperity. Business depression has now cut into the earnings, which otherwise were sufficient to meet all fixed charges. The interests of all security holders and persons interested in the company are best served by appointment of receivers.

A director informs us that it is thought the interest due March 1 on the Ohio South. Div. firsts and June 1 on the generals will be paid from earnings, either at maturity or within the limit of grace allowed by the mortgages. See annual report in V. 85, p. 1335.

Committee.—The following committee has been organized to represent the holders of the consolidated bonds and by advertisement on another page requests deposits of these securities with the Central Trust Co. of New York.

Russell Harding, Chairman; Robert M. Gallaway, James Jourdan, P. J. Lisman and C. W. Watson, Committee; Henry V. Poor, Secretary, 54 Wall St., New York; Joline, Larkin & Rathbone, Counsel.

On June 30 1907 $9,356,400 consolidated mortgage 4½s had been issued, but only $2,776,400 had been sold. Of the remaining $6,580,000, $5,000,000 had been pledged as part security for the $5,500,000 5% notes issued in connection with the purchase of the Ann Arbor RR., and a further amount, presumably, is pledged for floating debt. A member of the Harding committee states that the $5,000,000 of consolidated 4½% deposited as part security for the notes were issued contrary to the reorganization plan, and that their lien will be contested in the courts.

Committee to Protect 5% Collateral Trust Notes.—Notice is given by advertisement on another page that the following committee, representing a majority of the notes, will act for the protection of the interests of the noteholders, and holders of notes are invited to deposit them with the New York Trust Co., 26 Broad St., New York, as depositary:

Joseph Ramsey Jr., New York City, Chairman; Hugh H. Harrison, New York City, Allen T. West, St. Louis, Mo., Leopold Kleybolte, Cincinnati, O., Newman Erb, New York City; with Walter L. Worrall, Secretary 30 Broad St., New York, and Curtis, Mallet Prevost & Colt, Counsel.

The notes are secured by the following collateral:

|---|---|
| Ann Arbor RR preferred stock | $3,102,400 |
| do do common stock | 2,190,000 |
| Detroit Toledo & Ironton consolidated mortgage 4½% bonds | 5,000,000 |

Compare V. 80, p. 2457, 2620; V. 81, p. 155.—V. 85, p. 1335.

Detroit (Mich.) United Ry.—Report.—For calendar years the combined results of the Detroit United Ry., Rapid Railway System, Sandwich Windsor & Amherstburg Ry. and the Detroit Monroe & Toledo Short Line (the latter since March 1 1906) were:

During the past few years large sums have been expended in the construction of branch lines and equipment for which no securities have been issued.—V. 86, p. 285.

Indianapolis Huntington Columbia City & Northwestern (Electric) Ry.—Sold.—The assets of this partly-built road were sold at receiver's sale at Warsaw, Ind., on Feb. 1 to Melvin A. Peoples of Chicago for a sum stated as $6,500.—V. 85, p. 1339.

New Orleans Railway & Light Co.—Official Statement.—Assistant City Attorney Villere, under date of Jan. 10, wrote a letter asserting among other things that the company has a floating debt of $1,777,438, owes the city and will eventually be forced to pay on account of paving an amount estimated at $1,500,000, and needs to expend at least $2,500,000 in repairing roadbed, cars, &c.

On Jan. 18 the directors in reply sent to the "New Orleans Picayune" (see issue of Jan. 19) a letter saying in part:

The audit for 1906 showed that the company had a surplus for that year applicable to dividends of $798,000, and $500,000 was paid in dividends.

The growth of the city of New Orleans in the past two years has been enormous. The books of the company show the following charges since July 1905 in excess of a reasonable expenditure upon the tracks and cars of the company:

Expenditures for Improvements and Additions (Compare V. 86, p. 168) &c., since July 1905.

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Power stations | $2,620,971 | Electric department | $201,076 |
| Betterments | 620,578 | Municipal construction | 123,671 |
| Equipment | 353,485 | Real estate | 52,093 |
| Gas department | 286,724 | Miscellaneous additions | 39,064 |
| Total additions and betterments | | | $4,297,662 |
| Stocks and bonds of constituent companies | | | 214,395 |
| Total expenditures on capital account | | | $4,512,057 |

The power plant, which has been the main drain, is now completed (V. 86, p. 168), and it can be reasonably assured that no further expenditure will be required on that line prior to Jan. 1910, unless the growth of the city should be phenomenal, but the company needs new cars and the expenditure of money upon its tracks and street work in order to place the property in first-class condition.

Had it not been for the financial crisis, this new capital would have been obtained. The company authorized an issue of $5,000,000 of 6% coupon notes, to be sold from time to time as needed, and had only required and sold $1,266,000 when the financial crisis made it impracticable readily to dispose of securities. (V. 84, p. 996.) With the restoration of confidence and easier money conditions, the company expects to obtain the new capital called for by its increasing business.

The present floating debt is mainly secured by its 4½% bonds, and causes no uneasiness. The total bonded debt of the company, represented by its 4½% bonds, including the $12,625,000 underlying bonds, amounts to $30,000,000, and the property could not be replaced for less than the amount of the bonds.

It should be appreciated that the people of New Orleans are being furnished with gas, electric light and power and street car transportation entirely at the expense of the stockholders, since no dividends are being paid (V. 85, p. 1519, 654) and none will be paid until satisfactory conditions are restored. The money paid by the people for these services is being applied to the cost of operation and the improvement and betterment of the property to enable the service to be furnished satisfactorily.

The amount of the surplus for 1907 will be accurately determined shortly by the audit of Haskins & Sells, but it will approximate $750,000. (Compare V. 82, p. 1502; V. 84, p. 868).—V. 86, p. 168.

New York City Ry.—Petition Dismissed.—Judge Lacombe in the United States Circuit Court in this city on Monday dismissed as premature the petition of the receivers appointed last November by the State courts for an order directing the Federal receivers to turn over the property of the New York City Ry. and Metropolitan Street railway companies.

The Court says the situation that would be presented if the State should succeed in one of the actions in which the receivers were appointed by the State courts might be quite different from that if they succeeded in the other or in both, and it would therefore be unwise to consider at present the underlying questions involved The dismissal is without prejudice to a renewal at the proper time, the various papers to remain on file for that purpose.—V. 86, p. 286, 169.

Norfolk & Southern Ry.—Offering of 3-Year 6% Collateral Trust Notes.—J. F. Pierson Jr. & Co., 66 Broadway, New York, are offering for sale by advertisement on another page this company's issue of $2,750,000 3-year 6% collateral trust gold notes, dated Nov. 1 1907 and due Nov. 1 1910, but subject to call at 102½ and interest on any interest date at 60 days' notice. Interest payable May 1 and Nov. 1 at office of Manhattan Trust Co., New York, trustee. Denomination $1,000 c*. The company covenants that during the life of these notes a sufficient number of "first and refunding" mortgage 5% bonds will be reserved to retire said notes. A circular says in part:

Collateral Deposited with Trustee as Security for These Notes.

| | Pledged. | Total Issue |
|---|---|---|
| N.&S.RR.Co. gen. mtge. 5% gold bonds, 1954 | $2,040,000 | $2,865,000 |

| N.&S.Ry.Co. 1st & ref. m. 5% gold bonds, 1956 | 1,000,000 | 15,000,000 |

Description of Collateral.—The first general mortgage bonds, $2,865,000 outstanding, are a direct mortgage lien on all the lines formerly of the Norfolk & Southern RR. Co., about 223 miles, subject in respect to 197 miles to the prior lien of $1,655,000 first mortgage 5% bonds due May 1 1941. Including prior liens, they are thus secured by main track at the rate of less than $20,270 per mile.

The $1,200,000 equipment bonds are a direct obligation of the railway company, secured by new standard rolling stock and equipment, costing over $1,500,000.

The "first and refunding mortgage" 5% gold bonds are a first lien on 238 miles of main line, second lien on 26 miles, and a third lien on 248 miles, being thus secured by main track at the rate of $39,570 per mile. In addition, they are a lien on the lease of the Atlantic & North Carolina RR., 95 miles, and by deposit with the trustee of the entire capital stock of the John L. R per Lumber Co., and of $10,000,000 first mortgage sinking fund bonds of that company, they cover lumber properties comprising over 600,000 acres of timber lands owned in fee and about 200,000 acres of timber rights, with standing timber, together with modern manufacturing plants (cost, $2,000,000), having a present annual capacity of 125,000 000 feet. The assets of the lumber company as of July 1 1907 were valued at $15,500,000.

Various extensions have been built, so that the railway company's lines now form a connected system of 610 miles between Beaufort and Goldsboro, New Bern and Washington, Raleigh and Washington, Washington and Mackey's Ferry, Edenton and Norfolk, with ample terminals in each of these cities. The entire system is now in operation, with the exception of branch lines aggregating 32 miles, and with the exception of the trestle across Albemarle Sound at Mackey's Ferry.

A syndicate was organized in March 1906 by Edward Sweet & Co., and provided $16,000,000, all of which has been paid, and about $6,000,000 thereof used for the development of the properties, including additional construction. The further sum of about $2,750,0 0 was required to complete the project and to furnish working capital, and the above-offered issue of notes was made for this purpose. (Compare V. 85 p. 1519.)—V. 86, p. 53.

Whitridge, already receiver of the Third Avenue RR., receiver for the 42d St. Manhattanville & St. Nicholas Ave. Ry. Co. and the Dry Dock East Broadway & Battery RR. Co.

The receivership applications were made by the Barber Asphalt Paving Co. with a claim of $20,349 against the first-named defendant, and by the American Hay Co. with a claim of $6,546 against the Dry Dock Co.

It is alleged that the 42d Street Co. has outstanding, issued to the trustee of the mortgage of the Third Avenue system, notes amounting to $6,491,967, and has not the cash to meet the interest on its $1,200,000 outstanding first mortgage bonds, due March 1.

The Dry Dock Co. defaulted Feb. 1 on its $1,100,000 outstanding 5% debenture certificates and its floating debt includes notes for $1,822,963 held by the trustees of the Third Avenue mortgage bonds and other notes for $136,239.—V. 86, p. 230, 170.

Cleveland (O.) A member of our firm is a director of the company

Abstract of Letter from Vice-Pres Samuel Scovil, Cleveland, O., Jan. 25, 1908

Property Covered.—The mortgage securing these bonds is a lien upon the company's entire property, franchises, &c., as now owned, or hereafter acquired, subject in part to a mortgage made in 1898. The plant, consisting of a central generating plant, sub-stations used for distributing purposes, underground construction, overhead lines, transformers, meters, &c., shows a cost of $7,637,515. The mortgage of 1898 covers certain specified property costing $3,012,514, so that there remains property wholly unencumbered, costing $4,625,001, upon which the new mortgage is a first lien. The proceeds of the new bonds issued will be used to retire floating debt and to provide additional equipment and facilities. For many years past, the company has secured the larger part of the funds needed to meet its growth through the issue of common stock, at par, and it is the intent of the management to pursue the same policy in the future.

Earnings.—The operations for the year 1907 showed a net income over operating expenses, including taxes and insurance, of $692,338. Under the mortgage of 1898, $1,950,000 of bonds has been certified by the trustee, but $250,000 of these bonds are still owned by the company, leaving $1,700,000 only as drawing interest. It is not anticipated that more than $1,000,000 of the new 6s will be issued during 1908.

The committee has received the resignation of Governor Cobb as a member of the committee, as, in view of his appointment as one of the receivers of the Consolidated Steamship Lines, he could not with propriety remain a member of the committee. The committee has also received the resignation of W. H. Granbery, who felt that he could not give the time necessary for the work of the committee; also the resignation of Albert B. Boardman, for himself and his firm, as associate counsel of the committee. To fill the vacancies Henry J. Braker, of H. J. Braker & Bro., and W. H. Thomas Interests Fail to Pay Installment Due Feb. 1 for Committee's Holdings.—E. R. and O. F. Thomas defaulted Feb. 1 on the first installment, 10% (about $200,000), of the deferred payments due to the stockholders' committee on account of the purchase price of some 16,000 shares of preferred and 6,000 shares of common stock of the Knickerbocker Ice Co. which they contracted to purchase at 95 and 66, respectively, in the interest of the Western Ice Co.

The sum of $50,000 was paid in cash last fall, the remainder being due 10% Feb. 1 and 10% Aug. 1 1908 and thereafter 20% annually from Feb. 1909 to Feb. 1912 (Compare V. 85, p. 725.) The default, it is stated, does not necessarily invalidate the sale. The stock is held under a trust agreement and does not revert to the original owners after the first default. The stock previously acquired by the Thomases, constituting, it is asserted, less than a majority (in Feb. 1907 being spoken of as 31,400 shares, or $3,140,000) of the entire issue was turned over to the Western Ice as security for its bonds, of which at least $1,000,000, par value, it is stated, are pledged to secure Thomas loans (compare V 83, p 1541; V 85, p 738, 809, 808, 867) —V. 85, p. 862

New Directors.—At the annual meeting this week F. W. Upham, E. R. Chapman and John W. Gary were elected directors to succeed O. F. Thomas, H. M. Carter and W. H. Card. Because of his equity in a large block of the shares, E. R. Thomas is still a director.—V. 85, p. 1649.

Lehigh Portland Cement Co.—New Stock.—This company has increased its capital stock from $7,500,000 to $8,000,000. Compare V. 84, p. 1117, 163.

G. A. Puryear, J. S. Cooley, W. D. Talbot, Charles Shinkle, L. W. Coleman, Thomas E. Matthews, A. W. Stockell and Sam Prichitt, who assert that they together hold $337,900 of the $1,150,000 outstanding capital stock (authorized issue, $1,500,000), claiming that the present management and board of directors represent only 7% of the share capital and that some of them have larger interests in a competing lighting company. Proxies for use at the annual meeting are therefore asked in the names of Thomas E. Matthews, G. A. Puryear and Charles Shinkle.

Thomas W. Wrenne & Co., the well known bankers of Nashville, on the other hand, owning and representing a large amount of the stock, are requesting proxies in the name of T. W. Wrenne, to be used, it is understood, in behalf of the present management.—V. 83, p. 821.

Sheffield (Ala.) Coal & Iron Co.—Reorganization Committee.—Circular.—A committee consisting of E. C. Converse, Chairman, Jamer Gayley, Isaac L. Elwood, William M. Douglass and C. William Funk, have sent to the shareholders a circular dated Jan. 11 1908 saying in substance:

The company was unable to meet some of its large obligations which matured about Dec. 1 1907. These obligations were in nearly all instances secured by bonds of the company issued under its mortgage dated Dec. 1 1904 to Bankers' Trust Co., as trustee. These bonds have also matured as to principal, and the company has been unable to meet either principal or interest. The financial difficulties prevalent generally rendered impossible any adjustment. Proceedings at the instance of bondholders for foreclosing the mortgage resulted in the appointment of Benjamin Strong Jr., Secretary of the Bankers' Trust Co., as receiver in New Jersey, Alabama and Tennessee, and he has also been appointed receiver of the property of the subsidiary companies, the Stonegap Colliery Co. and Wise Terminal Co. in Virginia. The receiver is preparing statements with respect to the company's condition, and it is the intention of the committee, upon procuring sufficient accurate information, to report thereon.

The undersigned have consented to act as a committee for the purpose of presenting a plan of reorganization. The larger creditors and bondholders have great confidence in the value of the property and its earning power if properly managed. They feel that the mines and ore properties, furnaces and equipment compare favorably in value and earning power with the best properties of the kind in the South. They feel that if these properties are foreclosed without organized effort for their protection on the part of the bondholders and stockholders, there will probably be a total loss to the stockholders. On the other hand, if this company can be rehabilitated under a plan such as the committee hopes shortly to present, the properties should be in a better condition than ever before and able to demonstrate a valuable earning power.

Pending the receipt of the details necessary for such a plan, the undersigned feel that they should receive indications from stockholders of sufficient interest to warrant a general reorganization. They therefore request the return of certificates of stock to the Bankers' Trust Co. as depositary not later than Feb. 1. Negotiable receipts will be issued entitling the holders, upon surrender of their receipts and without expense to themselves, to withdraw their certificates of stock at any time within twenty days after the mailing of the plan to the registered holders of such receipts, provided that such plan shall be so mailed not later than March 1 1908.

F. N. B. Close, Secretary, No. 7 Wall St., New York City, has been appointed Secretary to the committee. V. 85, p. 1579, 1649.

Standard Tool Co., Cleveland, O.—New Stock.—This company has increased its stock from $750,000 to $1,000,000.

Twin Falls Land & Water Co., Cassia County, Idaho.—Half Interest in Milner Dam.—See Twin Falls Northside Land & Water Co. below.—V. 82, p. 632.

Twin Falls Northside Land & Water Co., Lincoln County, Idaho.—Offering of Guaranteed Bonds.—The Municipal & Corporation Securities Co. of Pittsburgh is offering at par and interest an issue of $2,000,000 first mortgage 6% gold bonds, "an absolute first lien", dated Nov. 1 1907 and due in annual installments from May 1 1910 to 1918, both inclusive. The bonds are guaranteed, principal and interest, by endorsement by the American Water Works & Guaranty Co. of Pittsburgh.

The irrigation system comprises over 300 miles of main and lateral canals for the development of an 180,000-acre tract in Lincoln County, Idaho. The company has acquired an undivided interest in the great diversion dam built at Milner by the Twin Falls Land & Water Co., Cassia County, Ida. (compare V. 82, p. 632).

Union Oil Co., California.—Earnings.—For cal. years:

| Year— | Net Earnings. | Dividends. | Bal., sur. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1907 | $2,080,772 | (abt. 42%) $877,564 | $1,203,208 |
| 1906 | 1,029,478 | (abt. 8%) 561,108 | 468,369 |
| 1905 | 1,001,397 | (6%) 392,556 | 608,841 |

In April 1906 the monthly dividend was increased from 50c. to 75c., raising the annual rate from 6% to 9%; in May 1907 to 12% ($1 monthly), and in Nov. 1907 to 15% ($1 25 monthly). Stock outstanding Dec. 31 1906, $7,144,700, against $6,447,700 Dec. 31 1905.—V. 85, p. 1212.

United States Independent Telephone Co., Rochester, N. Y.—Sale.—At the foreclosure sale in Rochester on Feb. 4 the company's assets were bid in for the bondholders' committee by Chairman Walter P. Duffy for $250,000. Later on the same day the committee bought in also the properties of the Independent Telephone Securities Co., comprising the Rome, Syracuse and Utica companies, at foreclosure, for $150,000.—V. 86, p. 173.

United States Steel Corporation.—Authoritative Statement as to Special Distribution under Employees' Preferred Stock Subscription Plan.—The employees' preferred stock subscription plan has now been in operation five years. The terms of subscription open to employees of the corporation and its subsidiary companies provided:

1. For subscription to a limited amount of preferred stock in accordance with the salary of the employee, at a price fixed each year by the Finance Committee and payable within three years of 5% of salary or wages.

2. The payment of $5 a share each year for five years to holders of subscription stock who should continue in the service to render satisfactory service and retain their stock.

3. In case a subscriber canceled his subscription before completing payment; left the service or parted with his stock, the $5 per share which would otherwise have been paid him was paid into a special fund for distribution at the end of five years among those subscribers who had continued to render satisfactory service during the entire five years and who still retained their stock.

This special fund for account of 1903 subscriptions has just been distributed among those entitled to it as above, and amounted to $65 04 per share, resulting from widespread cancellations of subscriptions when the plan was new and not fully understood, coupled with a heavy decline in the market price of the stock while payments on account of subscriptions were falling due. Cancellations in subscriptions of subsequent years have been less numerous. The special fund accruing to 1904 subscriptions will be distributed in January 1909; for 1905 subscriptions, in January 1910, and so on.

Subscription Price for Each Year's Subscription.

|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| $82 50 | $55 00 | $87 50 | $100 00 | $102 00 | $87 50 |

The 25,000 shares of preferred stock offered to employees under the profit-sharing plan of 1908 was at $87 50 a share largely over subscribed.—V. 86, p. 283.

Western Ice Co.—See Knickerbocker Ice Co. of Chicago above.—V. 85, p. 867, 809.

Western Electric Co., Chicago.—Sales.—The company's sales for the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 1907 were $52,724,168, as compared with $69,245,332 for the previous year, a decrease of 23.9%.—V. 86, p. 234.

Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.—Notice to Creditors.—See advertisement on a preceding page and compare V. 86, p. 233.—V. 86, p. 289.

Whitney Company, North Carolina.—Receiver for Hydro-Electric Enterprise.—Judge Pritchard in the United States Circuit Court at Asheville, N. C., on Feb. 3, upon application made by A. O. Brown & Co. of New York, appointed Colonel John S. Henderson as receiver of the property.

The bill of complaint states that the company is indebted to A. O. Brown & Co. to the extent of more than $200,000, that there are outstanding $10,000,000 stock and $5,000,000 6% bonds (largely as collateral for loans); and that the company is unable to meet maturing notes, and will be without funds to pay the $150,000 interest due on its bonds May 1 1908.

President E. F. Buchanan (of A. O. Brown & Co.) is quoted:

The company has got to develop three additional dam sites and need about $1,500,000 for this purpose. It had no way of issuing any more first lien securities, and this action was taken in order to bring about a readjustment that would permit it. The company is building one of the greatest power plants in the South, and work will proceed without interruption. We are now at work on the plan for a reorganization.

The company expects to be ready to deliver power next summer. Compare V. 81, p. 1284; V. 85, p. 1467.

The year's income is charged with $531,714 44, sinking fund contributions and income from sinking fund inves ments. The proceeds from the sale of lands, also pledged for the redemption of bonds, amounted to $1,741,141 71. Thes sums, aggregating $2,272,856 15, are dealt with as Profit and Loss items, and accrue to the shares of the Companies in the reduction of their bonded indebtedness.

The results of the year's operations, compared with those of the preceding year, were as follows:

| | Increase. | Decrease. | Per Ct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Average miles of rail lines operated | 209.03 | | 2.27 |
| Gross transportation receipts | $19,310,248 18 | | 18.28 |

The details of the transportation receipts and operating expenses are fully dealt with under "Transportation Operations."

The decrease of $130,363 84 in "Income from sinking funds pledged for the redemption of bonds" resulted from the release and distribution of the securities pledged for the redemption of Northern Railway 6 per cent bonds of 1877, which matured January 1 1907, and were paid off; also from income on securities held in the sinking fund for the redemption of Southern Pacific Railroad Co.'s 6 per cent bonds of 1875, taken over directly into the current income of the Company. The securities held by said sinking fund amount to $2,824,041 53, and, as bonds to the amount of $34,174,000, face value, out of a total of $39,285,000, originally outstanding, had been paid off, further additions to the sinking fund were deemed unnecessary.

The decrease of $329,874 06 in interest on funded debt resulted from:

|---|---|
| The retirement of Southern Pacific Railroad Co.'s 6 per cent and 5 per cent bonds by the issue of First Refunding 4 per cent bonds | $313,348 58 |
| The purchase and cancellation of bonds from funds pledged for their redemption | 77,098 78 |
| Total | $390,447 36 |
| Deduction—Increase in interest on bonds of Southern Pacific Company and of Proprietary Companies, resulting principally from a full year's interest charge this year on bonds issued during the preceding year | 60,573 30 |
| Net decrease in interest on funded debt | $329,874 06 |

The decrease of $176,438 16 in the interest on the Central Pacific Railroad Company's 3 per cent notes to the United States of America resulted from the payment of the notes due August 1 1906 and February 1 1907, aggregating $5,881,-271 56. These payments released Central Pacific Railway Company First Refunding 4 per cent bonds to the amount of $5,881,000 00, face value, pledged as collateral security, which then became a free asset in the Treasury of the Company.

The expenditures for betterments and additions to the properties of the South Pacific Coast Railway, the New Mexico & Arizona Railroad and the Sonora Railway are, under the provisions of their leases to the Southern Pacific Company, payable by the latter Company, and are therefore a charge to its income. These expenditures, amounting to $603,972 14, were $367,040 76 greater than they were in the preceding year. This increase was entirely the result of expenditures on the property of the South Pacific Coast Railway (a narrow-gauge line), of which the principal part was for widening the tunnel at Wright for a standard-gauge line.

The year's income is charged with $592,489 43, advanced by the Southern Pacific Company to the Oregon & California Railroad Company; this sum, however, still remains due from that Company to the Southern Pacific Company.

The income hereinbefore reported includes that of the Proprietary Companies, whose lines form the main transportation lines of the Company, and whose operating and traffic statistics are included in the transportation operations hereinafter reported.

A statement of the income and the affairs of other companies whose capital stocks are principally owned by the Southern Pacific Company and in which the Company has equities in the surplus earnings applied to betterments and additions to the properties or in the undistributed surplus earnings, will be found in Table No. 34. The Company's ownership of stock in the Pacific Mail Steamship Company is slightly over one-half. Its income and its affairs are therefore separately reported and will be found in Table No. 35.

A combined statement of the Income Account, Profit and Loss Account and of Receipts and Disbursements from all sources of the Southern Pacific Company and the Proprietary Companies will be found in Tables Nos. 2, 3 and 4. Details of the Income Account and of the Profit and Loss Account of the Southern Pacific Company are shown in Tables Nos. 6 and 7, and of the Proprietary Companies in Tables Nos. 11 and 12.

BETTERMENTS AND ADDITIONS.

In order to ascertain the amount expended annually for betterments to and upon the existing roadway, structures, equipment and facilities as distinguished from expenditures for additions which did not take the place of anything previously existing, the Companies have arranged to keep separate accounts of expenditures under "Betterments" and under "Additions," respectively.

The expenditures for betterments amounted to $2,685,750 06 and for additions to $4,956,793 85, a total of $7,642,543 91. Of this sum $7,038,571 77 was charged to the capital account of the respective Companies and $603,972 14 to the Income Account of the Southern Pacific Company. The expenditures for the lines in Louisiana amounted to $926,612 40; for the lines in Texas, $443,579 10, and for the lines west of El Paso, Texas, and Ogden, Utah, $6,272,352 41, of which sum $66,460 65 was expended on the lines of the New Mexico & Arizona Railroad and of the Sonora Railway.

The details of the expenditures for betterments are shown in Table No. 22 and for additions in Table No. 23. The character of the principal betterments and additions are shown in Table No. 24.

The character of the principal betterments and additions, other than those stated in Table No. 24, were as follows:

Docks and Wharves.—At San Pedro, a new slip with wharves aggregating 3,680x34 feet, estimated to cost about $248,000, is in course of construction. Work is also progressing on an extension 800x52 feet, to the existing wharf. The work of filling the north and the south sides of the pier at Oakland is progressing and will probably be completed in the early part of the year 1908.

Real Estate, Right of Way and Station Grounds.—On the Pacific System lines $740,281 41 was expended in the acquisition of station terminal grounds at Oakland, Alameda, Stockton, Roseville, Sacramento, Washington, Santa Cruz, Visalia, Los Angeles, Roseburg and Portland, and $79,988 23 at various other points; and on the lines in Louisiana and Texas $34,670 57 for property at Dallas, San Antonio and other points.

Signals, Interlocking and Block.—On the Pacific System lines automatic block signals were installed between San Jose, and Gilroy, Pajaro and Santa Margarita, San Luis Obispo and Gaviota, Santa Barbara and Burbank, Basset and Pomona, Bloomington and Golton, Stockton and Elvas, Red Bluff and Redding, Sparks and Iron Point, Moor and Valley Pass, Lucin and Montello, and East Portland and Oregon City. Work is progressing on signals between San Bruno and San Jose, Gaviota and Santa Barbara, Redding and Edgewood, Yuma and Welton, Pembroke and Kim, Tucson and Lordsburg, Niles and San Jose, Iron Point and Harney, Ryndon and Wells, Lucin and Lakeside, Oregon City and Hubbard, Eugene and Goshen, and Drain and Divide. Interlocking plants were installed at Fruitvale Junction, and for the protection of the drawbridges across the Sacramento River at Tehama and across the Napa River on the Santa Rosa branch. The total amount expended for this work was $969,914 64, and, at the close of the year, 1,263 miles of lines were protected by signals, and work was either in progress or contemplated on 860 additional miles. On the lines in Louisiana and Texas automatic signals were installed between Lafayette and Lake Charles, and between Edgerly and West Lake; work is progressing between Echo and Ames, Houston and Hilda, Dayton and Crosby, and Buffalo Bayou and Harrisburg, a total distance of about 355 miles. These expenditures amounted to $121,497 05.

Engine Houses and Shops.—On the Pacific System lines there were completed or are in course of construction the following additions: At Lordsburg, a 10-stall engine house was completed costing $10,311 21; at Oakland Shipyard a planing mill, estimated to cost $14,300, is under construction; this will enable the Company to make repairs to the floating equipment with greater promptness and economy; at Oakland a 32-stall engine house, a boiler house 90x80 feet and a storehouse 50x40 feet, all of brick, estimated to cost $111,500, are nearing completion; at Los Angeles a carpenter's shop 80x114 feet, a blacksmith's shop 44x74 feet, a paint shop 28x53 feet, all of brick, and a car repair shed of corrugated iron, 100x250 feet, estimated to cost $56,500, are in course of erection, and will probably be completed in the early part of next year; a power plant at Ogden shops, estimated to cost $79,312, is about completed. In addition to the facilities at Roseville, California, mentioned in last year's report, for which there were expended $214,115 07, there are contemplated or are in course of construction a 32-stall brick and steel engine house, a brick storehouse, 50x180 feet, a club house, 48x64 feet, for the use of employees, a machine shop and a brick and steel power house, 38x70 feet, estimated to cost $115,000.

Station Buildings.—On the Pacific System lines at San Francisco, a new freight house, 80x1,008 feet, was completed at a cost of $34,393; at Tucson, a brick passenger station, estimated to cost $46,200, is nearing completion; and at Berkeley a brick passenger station, estimated to cost $40,500 is in course of erection. At Cuero, Texas, a brick passenger station estimated to cost $14,500, is about completed.

Second Main Track.—On the Pacific System lines 8.10 miles second main track between Burbank and Los Angeles were completed and opened to the public for traffic on June 30 1907. The second main track between Elvas and Roseville, about 15 miles in length, will probably be completed in the early part of next year. Work is progressing on about 3 miles between Shriever and Thibodeaux, Louisiana, estimated to cost $25,796 72.

Change in Gauge.—The details of changes from narrow to standard gauge of 24.75 miles of track are shown under "Properties and Mileage" on page 341.

* Maintenance of Way and Structures and Maintenance of Equipment. b Conducting Transportation and General Expenses.

There was a nominal increase in operating expenses of $12,099,907 03, or 17.76 per cent. The operating expenses of the preceding year were charged with $2,117,286 32, credited to a reserve fund for future maintenance and renewals, for which there was no necessity this year. The increase in the normal expenses, therefore, was $14,217,193 35, or 21.54 per cent. This increase resulted from higher wage schedules (of which the greater part went into effect in the fall of 1906), the greater amount of improvements made, the greater cost of material (principally of lumber and fuel), the greater amount of traffic moved, the additional expenses incurred in moving traffic under the exceptional conditions existing during a considerable part of the year, and from the greater cost attending the movement of traffic, which has exceeded the limit of handling it economically. The operations during the early part of the fiscal year were embarrassed by the accumulation of cars and traffic following the San Francisco fire. Later on there occurred, in California, Nevada and Oregon, rains which lasted longer than ever known since the construction of these lines, and, under the exceptionally heavy traffic, the entire roadbed in those States was so damaged that all of it had to be re-surfaced and much of it re-ballasted and re-tied. The reconstruction of the roadbed and the replacement of material which, before this time, had been entirely satisfactory have not yet been completed. The cost of this work will largely increase the expenses for maintenance in the ensuing fiscal year. For several months the movement of traffic was seriously interrupted by these rains and a congestion, extending over a considerable part of the system, resulted therefrom.

The increase or decrease was principally in the following items of expenses:

Maintenance of Way and Structures.—Repairs of roadway increased $659,086 62, the result, in part, of the cost of maintaining 234.44 miles of additional main track and of repairing damages caused by storms and floods which, on the Pacific system lines, amounted to $564,900. Repairs of bridges, culverts and trestles increased $457,546 93, resulting principally from the larger number of bridges and trestles, renewed with heavier structures to allow for the increased weight of rolling stock. The charges to these expenses include the cost of 6,904 feet of steel and wooden structures thus replaced and $101,680 35 for repairing damages caused by floods. Although there were 633,065 less ties laid in track this year than last, there was an increase in the charge to "Renewals of cross-ties" of $3,447 95, the result of an increase in the average cost of ties from 47 cents to 58 cents, or 23.40 per cent. Repairs of buildings, other than docks and wharves, increased $695,244 03. There is included in these expenses $93,350 for repairing damages caused by fire and earthquake, and about $98,300 for repairs to the passenger terminals at Oakland and at Alameda Moles. All other expenses increased $127,901 34. The expenses also include $218,092 43 expended by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company in reconstructing its line higher up on the side of the Salton Sink, necessitated by a crevasse of the Colorado River. Total increase in expenses, $1,516,-006 49, or 10.44 per cent. After crediting against this increase the $1,803,812 67 charged in last year's expenses to a reserve for future maintenance, renewals, &c., for which there has not been a corresponding charge this year, there remained a net decrease of $287,806 18, or 1.76 per cent.

The following rails, cross-ties and tie-plates were used during the year in making renewals, and the entire cost thereof charged to operating expenses, viz.:

| | This Year. | Last Year. | + Increase. — Decrease. |
|---|---|---|---|

Expenditures for maintenance of way and structures averaged $1,676 23 per mile of main and second track, against $1,744 47 for the preceding year.

At the wood-preserving plants in Louisiana and Texas 336,550 lineal feet of poles, 386,418 lineal feet of piling and 3,784,064 feet B.M. lumber were creosoted, and 963,587 cross-ties were burnettized; on the Pacific System lines 282,134 ineal feet of piling and 2,852,112 feet B.M. lumber were creosoted and 970,793 cross-ties were burnettized.

Maintenance of Equipment.—Repairs and renewals of locomotives increased $179,119 14, or 3.08 per cent. There was an increase in miles run by locomotives of 5,995,875 miles, or 12.27 per cent. The expenses include $201,850 17, the difference between the present cost of replacing 44 old, light-weight locomotives disposed of and the price received for them, if sold, or the value of the old material if dismantled. Repairs and renewals of passenger train cars increased $162,074 84, or 12.08 per cent, the result, in part, of an increase of 12,069,632 miles, or 9.92 per cent, run by passenger cars. The expenses include $139,927 88, the difference between the present cost of replacing 31 passenger train cars destroyed, condemned or sold, and the cash received for them, or the value of the old material if dismantled. Repairs and renewals of freight train cars increased $490,963 80, or 11.05 per cent, the result, in part, of an increase of 39,006,182 miles, or 10.70 per cent, run by cars in freight trains. The expenses include $1,136,918 80, the difference between the present cost of replacing 2,518 freight train cars destroyed, condemned or sold and the cash received for them, or the value of the old material if dismantled. Repairs and renewals of road-service cars increased $62,256 31. The expenditures include $67,115 69, the difference between the present cost of replacing 139 road-service cars destroyed, condemned or sold, and the cash received for them, or the value of the old material if dismantled. Repairs and renewals of shop machinery increased $100,874 76, from the greater amount of repairs and renewals caused by the greater number of locomotives and cars in service. All other expenses increased $210,947 74. Total increase in expenses, $1,044,553 18, or 7.48 per cent. After crediting against this increase the $313,473 65 charged in last year's expenses to reserve for future maintenance, renewals, &c., for which there has not been a corresponding charge this year, there remained a net increase of $731,079 53, or 5.12 per cent. There is included in the expenses for the year a charge of $275,878 08 for depreciation on floating equipment.

The average cost of repairs, renewals and replacements per locomotive and per car, and the average number of serviceable locomotives and cars owned per annum were:

|---|---|---|---|---|
| | This Year. | Last Year. | This Year. | Last Year. |

The equipment owned by the Proprietary Companies and the Southern Pacific Company is shown in Tables Nos. 20 and 21, and the changes in all equipment, the capacity, the service and the average cost of maintenance and renewals are shown in Tables Nos. 30, 31 and 32.

Conducting Transportation—(Increase $9,554,219 83, or 32.19 per cent).—Expenses for fuel for locomotives increased $2,213,327 34, or 42.89 per cent. Locomotive service, other than fuel, $1,333,825 62, or 21.78 per cent. Train service, $1,086,499 22, or 22.80 per cent, and station and terminal service, $2,381,813 80, or 26.47 per cent. These increases resulted from the increase in wage schedules, the greater cost of coal and fuel oil, an increase of 14.15 per cent in passengers carried one mile and 10.71 per cent in tons carried one mile, and the additional costs attending the movement of traffic under the exceptional conditions hereinbefore mentioned. Payments for mileage and switching amounted to $2,156,491 65, an increase of $1,738,429 99 over last year. This was the result of the greater charge per diem for the use of foreign cars and the unusual detention of cars caused by the congestion of traffic. Payments for injuries, loss, damage and other casualties increased $315,099 23, and all other items $485,224 63.

The increase in the amount of work done by the transportation department of the rail lines is shown in the following table:

| | Increase. | Pr. Ct. |

The expenses per locomotive mile run in service for which the attendant expenses are charged to conducting transportation were 13.353 cents for fuel for locomotives against 10.475 cents in the preceding year, and for the entire expenses of conducting transportation 71.035 cents against 60.229 cents in the preceding year.

A review of the general operating results by which these expenses are affected is given in Table No. 27.

General Expenses.—(Increase $881,110 37, or 35.77 per cent).—Expenses for general administration increased $475,258 64; for legal services, $45,551 90, and for stationery and printing, $74,839 96. Insurance increased $291,094 66, resulting from contributions to the insurance fund which was established July 1 1906. Rents and all other expenses decreased $5,634 79.

Water Line Expenses—(Increase $1,216,806 58, or 22.97 per cent)—Expenses for repairs of steamers, tugs and barges increased $128,522 24, and for repairs of docks, wharves and buildings, $53,187 62, a total increase in the expenses for "maintenance" of $181,709 86, or 17.30 per cent. Expenses for operating steamers increased $786,082 16, agency expenses, $120,011 91, general expenses, $25,306 00 and lighterage expenses, $103,696 65, a total increase in the expense of operation of $1,035,096 72, or 24.37 per cent. This increase resulted from the expenses incident to 45 additional single trips between New York and Galveston and 2 single trips between New York and New Orleans, from a higher wage schedule (mostly for cargo labor) caused by the overcrowded dock facilities in New York. The expenses for operation include $163,322 74, the year's proportion of insurance on the entire fleet.

In the above table the receipts and disbursements for the years 1898 to 1902, both inclusive, have been re-stated to accord with the method observed for the year 1903 and thereafter. The years 1899 and 1900 include the operations of the Houston & Texas Central Railroad and lines in Texas subsidiary thereto which were not taken up in the income account of the Southern Pacific Company for those years. The fixed charges include the annual sinking fund contributions, income from sinking fund investments and advances to the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railway Company under the guaranty of the principal and interest of the bonds of that Company. In the year 1905 there is included $1,271,845 50 for a note of the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railway Company. This note was given for moneys advanced to purchase $1,356,000, face value, First Mortgage Four Per Cent Bonds of the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Railway Company (guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Southern Pacific Company) and canceled pursuant to the requirement of the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Under provisions of the Inter-State Commerce Commission Act as amended, the railways are required to provide refrigerator cars, to show the charges for such cars and for the service of refrigeration, ventilation, etc., in their tariffs, and to include such charges in their freight bills. In order to furnish these cars and service, it was deemed advisable for the Southern Pacific Company to join with the Union Pacific Railroad Company in the incorporation of a company whose stock should be taken by said Companies and who should acquire and furnish them and their allied lines the necessary cars and service. In pursuance of this plan there was organized under the laws of the State of Utah the "Pacific Fruit Express Company" with an authorized capital of $12,000,000. Six thousand six hundred refrigerator cars were ordered, costing about $10,480,800. To June 30 1907 there were delivered 3,600 cars and the remaining 3,000 cars have since been delivered.

The operating expenses include $218,092 43 expended in completing the work of moving the tracks of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and in building about 40 miles of new line higher up on the side of the Salton Sink, a change made necessary by a crevasse of the Colorado River near Yuma. The expenditures in the preceding year for this work amounted to $536,626 73, a total outlay of $754,719 16, which was borne by the operating expenses.

Colorado River Crevasse.—The Colorado River supplies the water for the irrigation of the lands in the Imperial Valley. This valley, which is in the southern part of the Salton Sink, comprises about 800,000 acres of land as fertile as any in the world and has a population of about 10,000 persons. Its business is served by a branch line of railway extending from Old Beach (now Imperial Junction), a junction with the Southern Pacific Railroad to Calexico, California, a distance of 41.36 miles. Work is progressing on an extension of this line from Calexico through the northern part of the Republic of Mexico to Yuma, a distance of about 55 miles, of which about 19 miles is completed.

In the spring of 1905 there occurred an enlargement of a small artificial channel connecting the Colorado River with the California Development Company's Canal, which subsequently became the river's low-water channel. During a flood stage in November 1905 the Colorado River made this channel, parts of the Alamo and New Rivers and certain sections of the canal, its main channel. The river thereupon flowed inland and discharged into the Salton Sink instead of into the Gulf of California, where its waters had gone for centuries.

The surface area of the Salton Sink is about 1,950 square miles, and is, at the lowest point, near Salton, about 278 feet below sea level. The continuous inflow of the river filled up the sink, converting it into a saline lake over 45 miles in length and about 15 miles in breadth, having an extreme depth of about 80 feet. This inflow, unless checked, would ultimately have ruined all improved lands in the Imperial Valley as well as the lands along the lower sections of the Colorado River.

After a number of attempts by the California Development Company to close the crevasse it was successfully accomplished on November 6 1906. During the last days of November and the early part of December 1906 heavy rains on the headwaters of the Gila River sent a further flood, which reached its maximum at Yuma on December 8th, causing a break in the levee some distance below the original break. This rapidly enlarged to a width of 1,100 feet with a depth in mid-channel of 34 feet, through which the water rushed with a flow of 22,000 seconds feet back again upon its inland course and swept to destruction all before it.

It was believed that the work of closing the new break should be undertaken by the United States Reclamation Service, but, failing in having this done, and having been requested by the President of the United States to close the break at once (provision for the equitable distribution of the burden to be made by Congress), the Southern Pacific Company vigorously commenced operations, and men, material, cars and locomotives were assembled in order to do this work with the utmost expedition. On February 11 1907 a little over 15 days from the date of the dumping of the first rock, the break was successfully closed, and in that time there were put in place about 72,000 cubic yards of rock and 5,000 cubic yards of gravel and clay.

In completing the closure and the necessary protection work, the Southern Pacific Company built 2,250 feet of dam and put in place 80,000 cubic yards of rock, 80,000 cubic yards of gravel and 250,000 cubic yards of earth, a total of 410,000 cubic yards of material. It also built 15.6 miles of levee, handling in this work 920,000 cubic yards of earth and 215,000 cubic yards of gravel. To handle and place this material 17 miles of standard-gauge railway were built.

The Company incurred an outlay of $1,489,783 82 in aiding the California Development Company in its attempts to close the crevasse of the Colorado River, and $1,663,136 40 in undertaking the work it was requested to do by the President of the United States. The total outlay amounted to $3,152,920 22.

In addition to the completed lines of railway opened for traffic as reported under "Properties and Mileage," construction is progressing on the lines of the following companies, or of companies organized in their interest, viz.:

Morgan's Louisiana & Texas RR. & SS. Co.—On the extension from Lafayette to Port Allen (opposite Baton Rouge), about 21 miles are completed and work on the remaining 32 miles of the line is progressing. On the extension from Bayou Sale to South Bend, a distance of about 11 miles, the grading is completed.

Louisiana Western Railroad Co.—On the extension from Eunice to Mamou grading is completed on about 10 miles and work is progressing on the remaining 7 miles.

Texas & New Orleans RR. Co.—A line from West Port Arthur to Port Arthur, about 3 miles in length, was completed and opened to the public for traffic on September 15 1907.

Southern Pacific Railroad Co.—The grading is completed on a line from Benedict to Smeltzer, about 6 miles in length. About 7 miles of track have been laid on a line from Empire to Rossi, about 8 miles in length, and the grading for the remaining mile is completed.

Central Pacific Ry. Co.—A spur track from Tacoma, Nevada, to the Ore Bins of the Salt Lake Copper Company, about 3.88 miles in length, was completed and opened to the public for traffic on September 6 1907.

Southern Pacific Company—Bay Shore Line.—On this double-track line, from San Francisco to San Bruno, about 10 miles in length, there was completed during the year about 9 miles of the east track and about 7 miles of the west track. The remainder of the line, it is expected, will be completed during the early part of the next year.

Southern Pacific Company—Mexican Pacific Coast Railway Concession.—On this line, building from Navojoa, a point on the Cananea Yaqui River & Pacific Railroad to Guadalajara, a distance of about 720 miles, there was completed during the year about 40 miles, from Navojoa south, and work is progressing on other sections of the line.

Cananea Yaqui River & Pacific Railroad.—On this line, from Empalme, a point on the Sonora Railway, to Tonichi, about 159 miles in length, the line from Corral to Buena Vista, about 18 miles in length, was opened to the public for traffic February 9 1907, thus making a total of 82 miles in operation, and work is progressing on the remaining 73 miles. On the extension from Corral to Alamos, about 92 miles in length, the line from Corral to Velderrain, about 27 miles in length, was opened for traffic February 9 1907, and from Velderrain to Navojoa, about 27 miles in length, was opened for traffic on May 7 1907, thus making a total of 54 miles in operation, and work on the remaining 38 miles is progressing.

Inter-California Railway.—On this line a continuation of the main line from Calexico to Yuma, about 19 miles of track and about 3 miles of grading, are completed, and work on the remaining 33 miles is progressing.

Central California Ry. Co.—This company was organized to build a line from Niles to Redwood City, about 16 miles in length. About 3 miles of the line are graded and work on the remainder is progressing.

Coast Line Railway.—On this line building northward from Santa Cruz, a distance of about 12 miles, about 9 miles are completed and work on the remaining 3 miles is progressing.

Peninsula Railroad Co.—This company is building a line from Mayfield to Vacona, about 16 miles in length. About 9 miles of this line are graded, and the grading is progressing on the remainder of the line.

Lincoln Northern Railway Co.—This company was organized to build a line from Lincoln to Dairy Farm Mine, about 11 miles in length.

Oregon Eastern Railway Co.—On the 152 miles projected by this company, the surveys between Natron and Klamath Falls, and between the eastern side of the Cascade Mountains and Ontario, have been completed, and considerable right of way acquired.

Oregon Western Railway Co.—On the 82 miles projected by this company the surveys have been completed from Drain, via Marshfield to Ward, and considerable right of way acquired. The work of grading and tunneling the line is progressing, and a large part of the steel bridges, rails, ties and other track material for the line were purchased during the year, but have not yet been put in place.

There were also acquired during the year the securities of the following companies:

Phoenix & Eastern Railroad Company.—The entire outstanding capital stock of this Company, which owns a line of railway from Phoenix to Winkelman, Arizona, about 95 miles in length.

Corvallis & Eastern Railroad Company.—The entire outstanding capital stock and bonds of this Company, which owns a line of railway from Yaquina to Idanho, Oregon, about 142 miles in length.

Coos Bay Roseburg & Eastern RR. & Navigation Company.—The entire outstanding capital stock and bonds of this Company, which owns a line of railway from Marshfield, on Coos Bay, Oregon, to Myrtle Point, Oregon, about 28 miles in length.

Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company.—During the year the Southern Pacific Company and the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company each acquired one-half of the capital stock of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company. The Southern Pacific Company caused to be vested in the said company the railways of the California Northwestern Railway, the San Francisco & North Pacific Railroad, the North Shore Railroad and the Eureka & Klamath River Railroad companies, an aggregate of about 326.79 miles, receiving for the outlays incurred for account of the aforesaid properties cash and securities of the new company. The Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Company caused to be vested in the said Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company the railways of the San Francisco & Northwestern Railway and the Fort Bragg & Southeastern Railroad Companies, an aggregate of about 77.49 miles. The purpose of the consolidation was to ensure the construction of a link connecting the railways of the California Northwestern Railway and the San Francisco & North Pacific Railway Companies with the railway of the San Francisco & Northwestern Railway Company, and also a link connecting the railway of the Fort Bragg & Southeastern Railway Company with the railway of the San Francisco & North Pacific Railway Company, in order to more fully develop the natural resources of the territory served by these lines.

The death of Mr. David Willcox on April 24 1907 is announced with much regret by the Board of Directors. Mr. Willcox had been a member of the Board since April 5 1905.

*The liabilities for the fiscal year of 1906, given in this table, have been redistributed to accord with the classification observed for the fiscal year 1907.

—The twentieth annual statement of the American Real Estate Co. at 527 Fifth Ave. (Night and Day Bank Building), this city, which was advertised in last week's issue of the "Chronicle," is ready for distribution and will be mailed on request, with full information regarding its 6% bonds based on the ownership of selected New York realty. On Jan. 1 1908 the concern had $8,047,365 in developed properties ready for building improvement; $691,278 buildings in course of construction and land therefor, $1,059,060 of rental properties—lands and buildings; $488,811 mortgages receivable, besides $178,927 of cash in banks and offices. Against the $10,558,500 of assets there are outstanding $7,501,420 of its bonds and certificates and also $1,304,914 real estate mortgages. Capital stock is $100,000 and surplus $1,540,969. The company's statement is certified by Patterson, Teele & Dennis, certified public accountants, the real estate valuations were appraised by the Real Estate Board of Brokers of the City of New York, and the titles to properties are insured by the title guarantee companies. The American Real Estate Co. commenced business in 1888. The company issues two kinds of bonds for investment, viz.: 6% coupon income-bearing bonds at par in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000, or any desired amount, paying 6% interest semi-annually by coupons attached, and 6% accumulative income savings bonds purchasable by installment payments covering terms of 10, 15 or 20 years. The executive staff is as follows: Edwin K. Martin, President; Dyer B. Holmes, Vice-President; Edward B. Boynton, Second Vice-President; William B. Hinckley, Secretary; Richard T. Lingley, Treasurer, and Francis H. Sisson, Asst. Secretary. James Cowdin Meyers, Counsel.

The Wm. R. Compton Bond & Mortgage Co. of Macon, Mo. (which during the past few years has built up an extensive and successful municipal bond business in that city) is about to remove its headquarters to St. Louis, which offers a wider field for development. The William R. Compton Co. has leased commodious offices on the second floor of the Merchants, Laclede National Bank Building, and will be ready for business about March 1st. Connected with the company are Wm. Foley (formerly with the Mercantile Trust Co.), Mr. Dysart, Mr. Emmert and Mr. Clarkson Potter—all gentlemen of experience in the handling of investment securities.

—Fisk & Robinson, 35 Cedar Street, in the February issue of their "Monthly Bulletin of Investments," give in parallel columns an analysis of the Fowler bill, the currency measures proposed by the American Bankers' Association and the Aldrich bill. They discuss at length the relative merits of the three propositions, giving their approval to the Fowler bill, and as a compromise measure the recommendations of the American Bankers' Association.

—The stock-brokerage firm of Tracy & Co. has completed the removal of its main Chicago office to spacious and well-equipped quarters in the rotunda of The Rookery—the fine suite formerly occupied by Chas. G. Gates & Co., and later by Harris, Winthrop & Co. Tracy & Co. also retain an office in the First National Bank Building, which is under the management of G. C. Morgan.

—Spencer Trask & Co., investment bankers, William and Pine Sts., New York, announce the publication of the 1908 edition of their booklet entitled "Statistical Tables," copies of which may be had on application. The current edition comprises 84 pages and is replete with information relating to American railroad and industrial companies dealt in upon the New York Stock Exchange.

—Hayden, Stone & Co., New York and Boston, have issued a circular regarding the Interborough-Metropolitan Co. and its 4½% collateral trust gold bonds, dated 1906 and due April 1 1956, which at present prices return the investor 7½% interest and are recommended as a "decidedly attractive speculation."

—W. Graham Browne announces that he has opened an office in Montreal as a dealer in government and municipal bonds and debentures, and other high-grade securities, under the name of W. Graham Browne & Co. The company's quarters are in the Bank of Ottawa Building, 222 St. James Street.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been on the whole quiet, trading being limited for the most part to professional operators, and the net changes in prices have been slight. The outside public still holds aloof, reports have been current from time to time that short time is likely in Lancashire, the stock market has been depressed, and at times the crop movement has increased somewhat. Liverpool prices have shown the effects of American selling there, and Liverpool, Southern and Wall Street selling has also been more or less of a feature of the trading here, so far as it showed any feature at all. There has been a certain amount of liquidation all the week, and at times room traders have put pressure on the market. Some large operators who have bought March and May are said to have sold July, and the President's message with its reflections on speculation in commodities as well as stocks has been followed by proposed anti-option legislation in the New York Assembly, a message to both houses of the Mississippi Legislature recommending that laws be enacted prohibiting speculation in futures, and a speech by the Governor of Alabama attacking the so-called "gambling" in cotton, all of which has a tendency to curtail speculation, already fallen to very small proportions. The season, moreover, is approaching for preparations for the new crop, and according to some of the Texas reports there is likely to be an increased acreage planted in that State, owing to the breaking up of new lands. Finally, spinners, according to most reports, are buying only from hand to mouth, with the trade in cotton goods as a rule on a restricted scale. On the other hand, however, spot markets have for the most part been firm, and it is denied that there is any possibility of short time in Lancashire in the immediate future, some reports stating that not a few English mills are sold ahead for some months to come. The Southwestern crop movement of late has been light, some large spot interests are said to have been buying March, and certain Wall Street people have been buying May, apparently for both sides of the account. But the feature which stands out the most distinctly is the dulness of the speculation. Even professional operators as a rule are inclined to proceed very cautiously, awaiting more light on the general trade and financial situation. Much of the business in such circumstances has been done by a few prominent groups of operators some of whom have been buying March and May, even if they have sold July against it, while others appear to have been retiring short commitments, if they have not really switched to the bull side. Taken as a whole, it is a quiet period not only in speculation but also in business in the actual cotton. To-day prices were irregular, owing to a noticeable pressure to sell July, attributed to prominent people, accompanied by considerable buying of May. July closed 8 points lower and other months unchanged to 2 points higher. Receipts were light, exports large and spot market firm. Spot cotton here has been quiet. Middling uplands closed at 11.70c.

BREADSTUFFS.

Prices for wheat flour have shown no important changes during the past week. The trading in the local market has continued to be of a hand-to-mouth character. Some of the mills are said to have shaded quotations on large lots in the hope of stimulating business, but have not met with success. Export trade has been at a standstill, and the clearances of flour from the seaboard for Europe have been light. Advices from the important milling centres at the Northwest, the Southwest and the West have shown no improvement in the general situation. Corn meal and rye flour have been quiet and steady.

Wheat has advanced, partly on some increase in the export trade, a temporary falling off in the Argentine offerings in European markets, some purchases of Argentine wheat in London by Russia and the strength of other grain. Moreover, the market had become somewhat oversold, and it required very little to bring about at least a temporary rally. On Wednesday Buda Pesth advanced equal to 5½ cents, owing to a better demand there and light offerings. Other Continental markets were also stronger and Liverpool on the same day advanced equal to 1⅝ to 2 cents. But since then the export demand has fallen off and at times prices have receded. Argentine offerings have increased, and the Argentine surplus has been estimated at 144,000,000 bushels, against previous estimates of 125,000,000 to 130,000,000 bushels. Northwestern receipts have continued liberal, and reports about the condition of winter wheat have in the main been favorable. Although some reports state that there is a lack of snow protection in certain parts of the wheat belt, in other sections it is ample. Nowhere is any serious damage reported, even where snow is much desired. Argentine shipments this week are estimated at 5,200,000 bushels, against 5,408,000 last week and 3,072,000 last year. It will be seen that Argentine figures very largely in the present situation, and for the time being, at least, it has precedence in the European markets. The speculation has fallen off in this country to some extent, not only on account of the recent sharp decline in prices, but also by reason of a certain uneasiness in regard to the financial situation as reflected in a declining stock market. Yet, in the main the drift of late has been towards better prices for wheat. Liverpool, after wavering for a day or two, has rallied again. Minneapolis and Duluth have had a good cash demand from mills in that section. On Thursday a better export demand was again noted, both Duluth and St. Louis reporting business with Europe, and at Chicago an increasing quantity of No. 2 red is being taken from store. Chicago has also reported a better export inquiry. The result is some advance for the week, the signs apparently pointing to a revival of European demand for American wheat in spite of the free Argentine offerings. To-day prices were weaker early on large Argentine shipments, bearish pressure and liquidation, but later they advanced on bullish reports on winter wheat, reports of a good cash business and general buying.

Indian corn futures have advanced, owing largely to small receipts and buying by strong bullish interests at Chicago. Their purchases led to active covering of shorts, and in the absence of offerings prices readily moved upward. The better tone of the wheat market, too, has had a bracing effect. Contract stocks at Chicago continue small and this fact naturally tends to restrict short selling. The weather of late has been favorable for curing the crop as a rule, but in spite of this the interior movement has fallen off, country holders in many cases not being disposed to sell. Liverpool, too, has shown strength at times and the cash markets at the West have been firm. To-day prices were higher on the rise in wheat, small receipts, light country acceptances and buying for both sides of the account.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have advanced, owing to the small crop movement, the strength of corn, buying by prominent operators and commission houses and covering of shorts. Offerings have been light. Not only have the receipts been small, but advices from the interior predict a diminution in the movement. There has been a good cash demand at the West at firm prices. Supplies of contract grade at Chicago are moderate. Many consider oats too high, but the fear of manipulation by strong interests restricts short selling. To-day prices advanced on the strength of wheat, light receipts and offerings, and covering of shorts.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, Feb. 7 1908.

Trade in cotton goods has shown little if any improvement during the past week, and sellers as a rule are more in doubt as to the immediate future than they were. The volume of business has been very light and mostly in the shape of small lots to meet immediate needs. Buyers who were here from the West appeared more or less indifferent, and the majority of them returned without leaving many substantial orders behind. The demand for fine and fancy cottons for spring has been especially disappointing; in these as in other lines forward ordering has been checked by the uncertain trade outlook and by the curtailed buying power of many interests, while the unsettled price situation has no doubt been a deterrent factor. In some quarters still lower prices are reported on various lines, but the concessions have failed to stimulate much activity. In not a few cases mills making fine cotton goods have met cuts made by second hands, which, together with the price war among jobbers, has naturally had a bad effect upon buyers, especially converters and cutters, who continue to operate very conservatively and appear to be getting enough goods through deliveries on contracts to supply their immediate requirements. Jobbers have had only a moderate trade and are preparing for numerous special offerings during the coming week of dress goods, silks and fancy and fine cottons. Narrow print cloths have been reduced, but regulars continue dull and nominal. Some inquiries for export have been received from the smaller countries, but the larger ports have failed to show much interest and new business is scarce; a moderate volume of domestics, however, continues to be shipped out on old contracts. In some lines of men's wear more activity has developed, but staples continue to drag; new lines of heavy-weight worsteds were opened during the week and some fair-sized orders were placed. In dress goods also several lines of staple and fancy worsteds for fall were opened, but business so far has been exceptionally slow.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending Feb. 1 were 2,807 packages, valued at $211,650, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York to Feb. 1— | Week. | Since Jan. 1. | Week. | Since Jan. 1. |
| Great Britain | 1 | 39 | 52 | 4,250 |

| Other Countries | 210 | 1,841 | 4,844 | 7,511 |
| Total | 2,807 | 12,540 | 13,504 | 30,246 |

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $948,292 in 1908, against $1,827,132 in 1907.

The demand for bleached goods fell off materially in the past week, despite further revisions in prices of some lines, and current business is confined to small lots. Further price concessions on linings have stimulated a larger demand; kid-finished cambrics have been reduced ¼c. to 4½ and 4¾c. and there are intimations of further reductions. In heavy cottons the small demand in evidence comes principally from bag manufacturers and for special lots for export. Sheetings show no material change, and prices are so close to actual cost that sellers do not appear anxious to trade on an extensive scale. Prints are dull, although some orders are being placed. During the week there has been a further break in narrow print cloths, 25-inch 56x44s at first hands having sold at 2½c., compared with the previous quotation of 2⅝c., which is still being asked in some quarters. Regulars show little change, but wide goods are slightly easier from second hands. There is no conspicuous demand for print cloths, and not much change in the situation is expected until general business revives.

WOOLEN GOODS.—In men's wear, fancy worsteds show more activity, and clothiers have been placing orders more freely than for some time past. Staple goods, including serges, however, are not moving satisfactorily, owing, perhaps, to the trend to fancies. More lines of fine heavy-weight worsteds were opened during the week, and some good-sized orders were placed for these and also for woolens. Other lines of men's wear fabrics will probably be opened next week. The best grades of unfinished worsteds appear to be meeting with the most active demand from jobbers. There is talk of price-cutting in some quarters to move stocks, especially kerseys. Duplicate orders are being received for light-weight worsteds, and in some instances mills are charging 5% more than the original prices. In dress goods several lines of staples and fancies for fall have been opened; some prices are slightly lower, but others are unchanged compared with last season. Business booked so far, however, has been extremely slow, and most of the large dress goods buyers have returned home without placing substantial orders, owing to the uncertainty as to what their requirements will be. It is becoming more and more evident that sellers this season will have to make unusual efforts to secure even a normal volume of business.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—The situation in imported woolen and worsted dress goods shows little change. Silks and ribbons continue quiet. In the linen market buyers are still very conservative as to forward purchases, owing to apprehension of price revisions. Burlaps have ruled steady.

STATE AND CITY DEPARTMENT.

MUNICIPAL BOND SALES IN JANUARY.

Sales of municipal bonds in January reached a total of $10,064,536, not counting $25,860,000 temporary loans negotiated and $1,169,700 Canadian securities disposed of. The average output for the month of January for the previous sixteen years was $10,472,056, but the 1908 total compares well with that for the years immediately preceding, the amount for 1907 having been $10,160,146, for 1906 $8,307,582 and for 1905 $8,436,253. Among the more important sales during the month may be mentioned the following: $1,500,000 5s of King County, Wash.; $770,000 5s of Galveston, Texas, $501,000 4s of Minneapolis, Minn., $473,000 4s of Boston, Mass., $434,000 5s of Bayonne, N. J., $400,000 4½s of Spokane, Wash., $400,000 4s of Allegheny County, Pa., and $388,100 4s of Richmond, Va.

The number of municipalities emitting bonds and the number of separate issues made during January 1908 were 132 and 168 respectively. This contrasts with 161 and 334 for December 1907 and with 146 and 195 for January 1907.

For comparative purposes we add the following table showing the aggregates for January for a series of years:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1908 | $10,064,536 [1902] | $10,015,845 [1896] | $6,507,721 |
| 1907 | 10,160,146 [1901] | 9,240,854 [1895] | 10,332,101 |
| 1906 | 8,307,582 [1900] | 2,371,321 [1899] | 7,072,267 |
| 1905 | 8,436,253 [1899] | 2,015,453 [1898] | 5,438,577 |
| 1904 | 23,315,891 [1898] | 3,147,833 [1892] | 6,352,000 |
| 1903 | 15,941,796 [1897] | 10,405,776 | |

Owing to the crowded condition of our columns, we are obliged to omit this week the customary table showing the month's bond sales in detail. It will be given later.

TRUST COMPANY REPORTS—NEW YORK, BOSTON, PHILADELPHIA AND ST. LOUIS.

We give up to-day fourteen pages of our space to the comparative returns of the trust companies of New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis. They will be found on pages 387 to 400.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The distinctively favorable event of the week has been the success attending yesterday's offering of New York City bonds. The city invited proposals for $50,000,000 of 4½s, and received no less than 1,168 bids. The prices, too, were up to expectations, as may be seen by reference to the particulars of the sale given in our State and City Department on subsequent pages. The success of this important offering imparted strength yesterday to security values on our Stock Exchange, and led to a substantial recovery in values all around. The stimulus was badly needed, for during the last few weeks great weakness has prevailed, and sharp and general declines in values have been recorded, until for the large majority of share properties prices were fast getting down to the low level reached at the time of the financial cataclysm last October and November.

The reason for the renewed depression which had developed in the security markets, with the recurring uneasiness to which it gave rise, is found in the unfavorable political happenings. No one who carefully traces the course of business since the beginning of the year can doubt that our troubles are largely, if not chiefly, political. During January there was a pretty general determination on the part of all interests to help in bringing about a restoration of confidence and secure a resumption of business. Every one manifested a disposition to co-operate to that end. The manufacturer whose plants had been in total or partial idleness made known his desire to extend the scale of his operations again, thereby giving work to large numbers of unemployed laborers; railroad managers resumed giving orders, in particular for rails and material of that sort; the investor appeared to be gradually regaining his courage and confidence, and in a small way began to make purchases on the Stock Exchange and from bond dealers; the larger capitalists and financial interests, aided by ease in the money market, made purchases on a still larger scale, thus contributing still further to the improved feeling. Following the panic, the political agitators at Washington had remained quiescent, and even at Albany there was a disposition to proceed cautiously—studying closely the possible effects before proceeding with any new move. Thus encouraged, our people proceeded to take hold in earnest in the endeavor to get back to the prosperous business conditions prevailing twelve months ago—the theory held being that the country's political agitators had learned well the lessons taught by recent experiences, and that little further disturbance need be apprehended from that source. The stock market reflected the improved feeling in a rise in prices which encouraged and promoted the sanguine views to which everybody was so ready to give adherence.

But during the last two weeks hopes have again been dashed. There has been a succession of unfavorable political developments, which has proved in the highest degree disturbing. As a consequence confidence is again being undermined. The first serious shock came the latter part of January, in the announcement contained in the papers Sunday morning, Jan. 26, that the rumors which had been current were well founded, namely that the U. S. Government had determined to begin legal proceedings for the disruption of the Union Pacific combination of roads. On the very last day of January there came President Roosevelt's extraordinary message to Congress containing a reaffirmation of all the old theories and heresies which have already done so much harm, with the addition of some new ones, and an especial fulmination against Wall Street. Since then hardly a day has elapsed without bringing further adverse developments of the same kind. William J. Bryan, most prominently mentioned as the probable Democratic nominee for the Presidency, has been following in the wake of Mr. Roosevelt, approving what he had said in his special message of Jan. 31, and making some attacks of his own on the railroads, on men of wealth and on Wall Street. Within the past week, moreover, those three men most frequently mentioned as possible candidates for the Presidential nomination by the Republicans—we mean Secretary of War, Mr. Taft, Governor Hughes and Senator Knox of Pennsylvania—have all been prominently in the public eye, and their utterances and actions have certainly not been of a conservative nature. Governor Hughes on Tuesday sent to the Senate a special message repeating his demand of last year for the removal of Otto Kelsey as State Superintendent of Insurance—the grounds on which the demand is made being very flimsy, as we show in another article. On the same day Governor Hughes took still another step calculated to focus attention upon him. He granted the request of Attorney-General Jackson, that District Attorney Jerome be superseded in the conduct of the so-called Ice Trust cases, and that he, Jackson, be delegated to conduct the prosecution himself and infuse new vigor into it.

Senator Knox has heretofore been looked upon as having strong conservative leanings. But here, too, disappointment has come. In a speech made at Kalamazoo, Mich., Tuesday night, Mr. Knox indulged in a wholesale laudation of the existing Administration, and in particular expressed approval of the Hepburn Rate Law, saying that it provides a sound system of railroad regulation. Furthermore, he insisted that the law must be rigorously enforced, adding: "We must not forget that the efficiency of all law lies in the efficacy and persistence of its enforcement." Secretary of War Taft has made two speeches during the week, and both were of the same tenor. At a banquet Monday night given by the Association of Young Republicans of Missouri, at which he was the guest of honor, he defended the President's message of Jan. 31, declared it had "heartened" the great body of the people and was a "bugle call" to renewed support of the policies of the Administration. The second address was made at Detroit Thursday afternoon, where he was the guest of the Michigan Retail Lumber Dealers' Association. In this address, according to the reports in the daily papers, he declared that "we have not quite enough regulation of railways. Other powers ought to be conferred upon the Inter-State Commerce Commission. . . . We must see that we secure strong men to sit upon that Commission, who can prove by their administration that it is the proper way. . . . I believe it is possible to enforce the present Anti-Trust Law, but we need a new law more specific to bring all within its provisions. I think that to-day the violation of the law is by no means so fashionable as it was formerly."

Under the influence of such causes as these, is it at all surprising that gloomy views again prevail in the security markets and that business men are losing heart? At the same time, returns of railroad earnings for the time being are very unfavorable, and unfortunately the loss in earnings cannot be ascribed entirely to a falling off in business. Some considerable part is due to those "regulative" laws for which Secretary Taft and the others whom we have mentioned are so earnestly pleading. As one illustration, we may state that computations made by one of the officials of the St. Louis & San Francisco system show that had the Frisco road obtained the same rates in the six months from July to December 1907 as in the corresponding six months of the previous year, its passenger earnings would have been larger by $600,000 and its freight earnings by $285,000. In other words, this one road alone has lost $885,000 through rate reductions.

Have we not, therefore, arrived at the point where further political agitation and Governmental action calculated to harm railroad and business interests, already so seriously weakened, should cease? We entirely agree with the utterances of President James J. Hill delivered a week ago, namely that "What the country needs now is rest. Let it have rest, and let a stop be put to this ghost-dancing and everything will turn out right." The words of Melville E. Ingalls in his remarks at the Bankers' Club dinner, at Detroit, on Lincoln's birthday, are also appropriate. "Less talk, less legislation, less shrieking and less abuse"—these are the essentials for a return of prosperity.

If this admonition be not heeded, further suffering is in store for the business interests of the country. Obviously the part played by political events during the next few months is likely to be very important. This being so, the fact should not be overlooked that some little indications of promise are appearing in another direction. The first of these is the reconciliation which seems to have been effected between the two factions of the Democratic Party in this city. The result is expected to be an anti-Bryan delegation from this State to the National Democratic Convention. Another very hopeful sign is that a movement has been inaugurated by some of the labor men in favor of pushing Judge Gray as a candidate for the Democratic nomination. Should such a movement succeed, this would provide a candidate around whom conservative men in both parties could rally.

A minor incident in the European situation this week was a crisis in Copenhagen which was due to a stringent money market and excessive speculation on the Bourse. There were runs on several of the banks and one of them was forced to suspend. After a conference by the Minister of Finance with officers of the principal institutions, it was announced that the Government, in conjunction with the leading banks, would guarantee all risks for the concerns affected by placing the necessary funds at their disposal, which course, it was expected, would immediately satisfy all Danish and foreign creditors.

Another incident, of a political character, which, when first reported, seemed likely to be highly important as affecting the near Eastern situation, was an aggressive military demonstration by Russia against Turkey, with the object of forcing the Sultan to withdraw his troops from the Persian frontier. As the result of the demonstration, it was later announced that the Turkish troops had been withdrawn,and that harmonious relations had been established between Russia and the Porte. It was reported, though the report was not confirmed, that upon the submission by the Russian War Office to the Duma of the plans of the Government, that body immediately assented to the necessary appropriation, and, at the same time, authorized the expenditure of 10 million dollars for floating batteries along the Baltic coast, which, owing to the weakness of the Russian navy, is at the mercy of Germany. This statement, if true, would seem to indicate that the Duma will not withhold appropriations which may be needed either to provide means for the national defense or for the purpose of enabling the Government to regain, through military demonstrations, its prestige.

As has been heretofore noted, the Bank of England has been remitting to Paris considerable amounts of gold in settlement of the Bank's indebtedness to the Bank of France on account of the advances of 15 million dollars which the latter made to the English Bank last November. It appears, by late mail and cable advices, that a good part of this sum has already been remitted. It is stated that when the above-noted advances were made, it was agreed that the sterling bills through which the loan was effected should be redeemed in sovereigns; thus far, about one million of these coins have been taken from the Bank of England and a little more than 3 millions have been obtained from shipments to London from Egypt, whence 3½ millions more are en route. When this consignment shall arrive and be transmitted to Paris there will remain less than half of the 15 millions to be remitted on account of the Bank's indebtedness. It is now regarded as probable that when final settlement shall be made, the Bank of England will have supplied a comparatively small proportion of the gold from its own stock, the remainder being obtained through purchase.

It will be interesting to note that the German Government and the Reichsbank are making earnest efforts to encourage the employment of checks in the conduct of business, with a view to minimizing the use of gold in the circulation. Provision was recently made for the emission by the Bank of 75 millions of small notes, and these are coming into general use, resulting in a decrease in the requirements for gold in the circulation, and consequently aiding the Reichsbank in augmenting its gold reserve. If the use of checks should now also become popular among the business community, it would, it is thought, probably contribute still further to minimize the demand for gold.

The Fall River cotton manufacturing establishments make a very satisfactory dividend exhibit for the first quarter of 1908. On a capitalization of $24,775,000 there will be a distribution of $561,550, or an average of 2.27%, the shareholders of each of the thirty-three corporations included in our compilation participating.

The current quarter's average dividends are, moreover, with the exception of that for the corresponding period of 1907, greater than in the first quarter of any year in our record. As regards the exhibit for last year, it is to be said that exceptional dividends in two instances —one of 10% and the other, 14%, the same mills declaring 1½% each the current year—account for the better showing made then than now. In fact, all things considered, the quarter's exhibit for this year is really the more favorable; for aside from those mills pursuing a conservative course in the matter of dividends, and, consequently, merely maintaining the previous year's rate, all establishments but the two referred to above have paid out a greater amount than in 1907. Actually the amount distributed last year in the first quarter was $35,350 greater than the dividend declarations for this year, the average dividend having been 2.60%. In the ten years prior to that time the heaviest rate of distribution was 1.99% in 1896 and the lowest 0.26% in 1898.

The prosperous character of affairs the foregoing apparently discloses can hardly be said to apply to the present time, although no claims are made that operations are not upon a profitable basis. The output of goods is being curtailed moderately in conformity with the agreement entered into before the close of 1907 and demand at the moment is rather light, especially for print cloths, and at lower values. It would, therefore, be hardly safe to accept the dividend result for the first quarter as a guide for succeeding periods of the year.

Building operations in the United States in the opening month of 1908 continued upon the restricted plane noticeable in the closing months of 1907. This is not at all surprising, of course, for, with general mercantile and industrial affairs less active, it was not to be expected that other interests closely allied therewith would be unaffected. From a perusal of the data furnished by the "American Contractor," which cover forty-seven leading cities of the country, and upon which our conclusions are based, we find that at all points where building construction is carried on extensively, there was a marked falling off in Jan. 1908. Taking Greater New York as an example, we note that in the month of 1907 contracts entered into for structures for mercantile or dwelling purposes called for an outlay of $13,791,986, whereas in the current year the total reached but $6,862,105, or a decrease of fully 50%. Results for the various boroughs of the city vary widely, for while in the Bronx an actual increase of about 1% over 1907 is shown in the value of this January's contracts, in Brooklyn a decline of 74% is indicated, this year's intended outlay being only $1,363,185, against $5,337,871 in the month of 1907. Manhattan Borough makes a poor showing also, the comparison being between $4,072,020 in 1908 and $7,039,165 in 1907, or a drop of 42%. At Philadelphia the building contracts for the month this year covered only $954,510, against $2,488,460 a year ago, or a falling off of 61%, and Chicago's total of $2,570,050 exhibits a falling off of 21% from the $3,285,810 reported for the month of 1907. The same condition exists in most other cities, large and small. In fact, going all through the list, there are but nine cities where building operations showed greater activity in January this year than last year, and at only three of them (Kansas City, with proposed outlay of $515,360, against $444,355; Denver, $294,750, against $278,555; and Omaha, with $188,750 to be expended, as compared with $170,775) do the amounts covered by the contracts reach as much as $100,000. In the aggregate the Jan. 1908 building engagements at the forty-seven cities represented a value of $16,870,910, against $30,729,162 in the month of 1907, or a decline of 44%. This is a noticeably large decline in activity in a very important branch of industry. It does not mean merely that dealers in lumber, brick, iron and stone have suffered a large decrease in their business, but that the takings of builders' hardware, such as locks, hinges, nails, &c., &c., have also fallen off greatly.

China's status among the world's producers of cotton has always been largely a matter of conjecture, owing to the impossibility of securing any reliable information on the subject from official sources. For the same reason it has never been possible to determine with even approximate correctness the extent to which the manufacturing of cotton goods is carried on in that country. Our own efforts at various times within the last thirty years to obtain reliable data as to growth or manufactures have been abortive, and others have had like experience. So that whatever figures have been published have been purely estimates. But of recent years, or, more concisely speaking, since the Japan-China war, more information of a fairly reliable character has been available, and it is quite probable that before long a pretty correct idea on the subject will be possible of attainment.

It is, of course, a known fact, arrived at by deduction, if in no other way, that cotton is raised in China, and has been for many years, and that not only is much of it there spun into yarn, but that, as in India, one of the industries of the country is the weaving of cloth on hand looms. That has, until lately, been all that was known that was at all conclusive in nature. Now, however, the appearance of reports bearing upon growth of the raw material in China and the turning of it into goods have somewhat revived interest in the matter.

As regards the culture of cotton in China, a report to the Department of Commerce and Labor by the United States Consul at Tsingtau, Mr. Ernest Vollmer, contributes considerably to our enlightenment. He says that in North China and on the Shantung peninsular much more cotton is raised than is generally supposed, but, unfortunately, he does not go to the length of giving even an approximate idea of what the annual growth is. He refers, however, to the principal seat of cotton culture, and describes how the natives, by the work of many years, turned a large, shallow lake in the Hauli region of Shantung into a flourishing plantation, with irrigation ditches, from which a good crop is almost certain to be secured each year, no matter what the atmospheric conditions. Planting, he says, is carried on in May and picking proceeds during October and early November. The method of ginning is decidedly primitive, a device with two wheels arranged like a clothes-wringer being used. Small teeth pull the fibre through, while the seeds, being too large to pass between the rollers, drop to the ground. The cotton is then separated and rendered soft by being beaten with an instrument closely resembling a large violin bow. The native cotton, while whiter than that from India (of which there are importations each year into China), is coarse, of very short staple and not so strong, and hence of little value for weaving. It is used almost exclusively, therefore, for wadding for heavy winter garments, for comforters, or, spun into yarn, serves as warp for Chinese cloth (nankeen) woven on hand-looms. Mr. Vollmer concludes his report by stating, in effect, that, considering the poor staple and crude methods of preparing the cotton for market, there is little present possibility of its culture increasing much, although the crop is a profitable one to the farmer and is entirely suitable for the main use to which it is put—cotton-wadded garments.

The manufacturing of cotton goods in China is treated quite fully in a report of the British Commercial Attache at Peking to his Government. His investigations indicate that there are 28 cotton-spinning mills in China engaged in turning out yarn for the home market. Their equipment is approximately 750,000 spindles, and operations the last few years have returned good results. The mills in the latest year covered by the Attache's report—1906—were run night and day, and running on counts of yarn ranging from 10s to 16s, turned out about 12 ounces of yarn per spindle per day, or a total of 562,500 pounds per day for the whole equipment. On that basis he figures the annual output (for 320 working days) at 180,000,000 lbs. of yarn, and the great bulk of it, he remarks, finds its way into the country around Shanghai and becomes the warp of Chinese cloth woven on hand-looms, the weft being made from imported yarn. In fact, most of the imported yarn is thus used, although in some establishments at Shanghai a certain quantity of goods is made entirely of imported yarns, especially colored fancy-patterned cloth.

In neither of the reports to which we have referred above is there any direct reference to the annual production of the raw material in China. That to the British Government, however, contains a calculation, based upon certain assumptions, placing the production in the neighborhood of 300,000 tons, which, reduced to bales of 500 lbs. average weight, would give a crop of 1,200,000 bales. It has been the practice quite frequently to credit China with a production second only to the United States, but it is highly probable that the figure given above, while not claimed by its promulgator as correct, is not far wide of the mark.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week; compared with last week, unofficial, or open market, rates were steady at all the chief centres. It is reported that the Japanese Government is seeking to effect a loan in Paris through one of the large private banks; the amount of the proposed loan is not stated nor are other details made public.

The statement of the New York Associated Banks last week disclosed, as the most notable feature, the unexpected decrease of $10,973,800 in cash; this was claimed to be due to withdrawals by trust companies, from their bank depositories, of cash deposits in order that these companies might make a good exhibit. Largely as the result of this cash loss, the surplus reserve was decreased $10,694,550, to $29,832,175; deposits decreased $1,117,000 and loans increased $5,969,600. The Clearing-House statement of actual condition of banks (a new feature) showed a percentag of 27.70% reserve to deposits, against 27.6% as indicated by the averages. The reports of State banks and trust companies outside the Clearing House combined with the statement of banks in that association showed 15.03% reserve to deposits. A statement issued on Monday, giving the combined reports of State banks and trust companies outside of this c ty as of Feb. 7, showed an average reserve of 18% for State banks and of 15.63% for trust companies. It may be noted that outstanding Clearing-House loan certificates amounted on the date of the bank statement to $4,500,000; they were carried in the item of loans.

The market for call money was only slightly influenced in tone by the above-noted reduction in bank reserves, and it was not affected by current absorptions, by the Sub-Treasury from the banks, of cash incident to payments to the former on account of bank-note retirements and redemptions which called for remittances of lawful money to Washington. The market for fixed-date loans was a shade firmer, but this was not due to any increased demand. There continues to be reliance by commission houses upon the call-loan branch of the market for short-term requirements, and the outlook for an improvement in speculation is not encouraging, so that there is little inquiry for loans for longer periods. Some business is reported for six and for twelve months, but such transactions are chiefly the result of special negotiation. Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week uniformly each day at 2% and at 1¾%, with the average and the bulk of the business at 2%; trust companies did not appear to be lenders. Time loans were quoted at 3¾@4% for sixty and 4¼% for ninety days; 4½% for four, 4½@4¾ for five to six, 4¾@5% for nine and 5@5¼ for twelve months. The demand for commercial paper continues good, though the local inquiry is comparatively light. Rates are 5¼@5½% for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, including choice Eastern mill paper; 5¼@5½% for prime four months and 5½@6% for this grade of six months single names and 6% and above for good paper of the last-named period of maturity. Much interest was manifested during the week in the New York City bond offerings which were made on Friday; the absorption of these bonds apparently by syndicates of bankers was expected to have a good effect upon the bond market and also upon the general investment and monetary situation.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 4%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 3¾@3⅞%. The open market rate at Paris is 2⅝% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4⅝@4¾%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England gained £476,899 bullion during the week and held £38,034,490 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due almost wholly to receipts from the interior of Great Britain, imports and exports nearly offsetting each other. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £813,000 (of which £655,000 from Egypt and £158,000 bar gold bought); exports, £836,000 (of which £531,000 to Paris and £305,000 to South America), and receipts of £500,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was heavy this week, influenced chiefly by expectations that the New York City bonds, bids for which would be opened on Friday, would be subscribed for largely by the Morgan syndicate, with the intention of placing them abroad. If expectations of a foreign distribution of the bonds should be realized, the creation of so great an amount of exchange as would result therefrom would, it was thought, be almost certain to cause a more or less important reduction in rates for such bills. Therefore, there were liberal speculative sales of exchange and a limited demand for current remittance, which contributed to a steady decline in the market. Though the semi-monthly settlement on the London Stock Exchange was in progress after the middle of the week, there did not appear to be any special inquiry for cables incident thereto, indicating a small American account at the settlement. Arbitrage purchases of stocks for Europe were offset by subsequent selling, so that no influence was exerted by these operations. Buying of long sterling for investment was one feature. Commercial bills were in moderate supply and chiefly confined to those against cotton. The occurrence of the holiday on Wednesday tended to make the market comparatively active on Tuesday. On Thursday the tone was quite weak, owing to the pendency of the New York City bond sale.

On Saturday of last week the market was lower and, compared with the previous day, long fell 15 points to 4 83@4 8310, short 15 points to 4 8635@4 8640 and cables 10 points to 4 8665@4 8670. On Monday long declined 20 points to 4 8285@4 8290, short 5 points to 4 8630@4 8635 and cables 15 points to 4 8650@4 8655. On Tuesday long fell 5 points to 4 8280@4 8285, short 15 points to 4 8610@4 8620 and cables 5 points to 4 8645@4 8650. On Thursday long fell 30 points to 4 8250@4 8275, short 20 points to 4 8585@4 86 and cables 30 points to 4 8615@4 8625. On Friday long declined 15 and short 10 points; cables were unchanged.

a The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver; but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

b The Austro-Hungarian Bank Statement is now issued in Kronen and Heller instead of Gulden and Kreutzer. The reduction of the former currency to sterling Pounds was by considering the Gulden to have the value of 80 cents. As the Kronen has really no greater value than 20 cents, our cable correspondent in London, in order to reduce Kronen to Pounds, has altered the basis of conversion by dividing the amount of Kronen by 24 instead of 20.

d The total of gold in the Bank of Russia includes the balance held abroad—that is, the amount held for Russian account in other Continental banks. The proportion so held, and consequently duplicated in the above statement, is about one-quarter of the total.

MR. BALFOUR ON DECADENCE OF NATIONS.

We referred last week, in our comments on the political situation of Portugal, to Lord Salisbury's famous classification of "dying nations." There comes to hand this week, very much in point to such discussion, the text of a lecture delivered at Cambridge University by Lord Salisbury's nephew, Mr. Balfour, on the subject of the decadence of nations. The subject was approached by this accomplished public man with that keenness and imagination which always stimulate thought among his readers or hearers. If his discussion leaves the main question very far from solved, and possibly a little more unsettled than before, it does not altogether differ in this from Mr. Balfour's other excursions into philosophy. The decadence in respect to which, in the speaker's own language, he "wished to put questions," was the decadence "which has attacked, or is alleged to attack, great communities and historic civilizations; which is to societies of men what senility is to man, and which is often, like senility, the precursor and the cause of final dissolution."

Pointing out the general acceptance by the thinking world of the theory that nations and civilizations thus decay, Mr. Balfour bluntly asks, what is the evidence of it, and what, if it is true, is its purpose in the development of human progress? "Was it needful for the cause of civilization as a whole that the organized embodiment of each particular civilization, if and when its free development was arrested, should make room for newer and more vigorous competitors"? Mr. Balfour is cautious about admitting this. Even where decadence of nations has to be conceded, "it is always complicated with, and often acts through, other more obvious causes. It is therefore possible to argue that to these causes, and not to the more subtle and elusive influences collectively described as decadence, the decline and fall of great communities is really due."

Naturally, the case of the Roman empire comes at that point to mind. Mr. Balfour, balancing between the larger and the narrower causes, points out that, while the Western half of the Roman empire went down in complete collapse and decay, the Eastern half survived it for a thousand years, and would perhaps still exist but for the alternate ill-judged action or inaction of Western Europe during the struggle with Mohammedanism. Coming down finally to the theory that races and civilizations which have lived out their life must give place to new and vigorous organizations, Mr. Balfour asks, if the energy of development among existing States were some day to be exhausted, "where are the untried races competent to construct, out of the ruined fragments of our civilization, a new and better habitation for the spirit of man"?

It will be seen from this brief summary that Mr. Balfour asks questions which he does not answer, and that his dialectics have as their principal result the upsetting, to a greater or less extent, of previous theories on the subject. Yet the question which he approaches in his address is of vital interest, not only from a historical point of view, but to the practical consideration of the present day. If, for example, a certain type of political and social development, once in complete domination of the world, could be arrested and overthrown, as was that of the Roman empire, how can we be sure of the permanence of our own more modern type? More definitely, if certain nations have, as is generally admitted, fallen behind in the race of progress after playing, like Spain and Italy, a great part in the earlier episodes of modern history, what is the guaranty against the similar displacement of nations which now stand in the front of progress? That the question is not by any means abstract one may judge from the fact that in England's political distresses during our war of independence, and even in its much more recent period of isolation during 1895, there were Continental critics who triumphantly proclaimed that the day of British prestige in the world's development was over.

We believe that the fundamental cause underlying such decadence of nations is clearly and correctly realized in the mind of the average thinking man. It is only when the special and peculiar cause for any one episode of the kind is taken in consideration that dispute and confusion begin. Quite aside from the more familiar theories that luxury, slavery and effeminacy of themselves sapped the vigor of Roman society and Roman institutions, we have Sir Archibald Alison's stubborn maintenance of his belief that decline in production of the precious metals wrecked the foundations of the society of the period, and Mr. Buckle's equally insistent argument that every decay of nations, especially in modern history, has resulted from the surrender of civilization to the influence of religious superstition. These provide endless material for controversy. But we imagine that the practical thinker will sweep aside all this special pleading and arrive at the conclusion that the adaptability of a given state to the needs of civilization at a given time is what constitutes and what will alone preserve its title to international power and prestige. That the work of Greece in history was to preserve and impart the culture of the old civilization; that Rome's part in history was the establishment of civil rule and law as against barbarism; that Spain and the old German Empire, in their time, were the very much needed bulwarks of centralized government in feudal communities; that the office of England has been the development, first, of popular institutions at home, and then of commerce and colonization abroad; and that the function, so far as we may yet define it, of the United States has been promotion of personal liberty—these are conclusions so thoroughly established in the thought of the community that they need only be summed up.

What is not always taken so fully into account is that the decadence of Greece occurred, not alone because of the loss of their pristine vigor by its citizens, but because it had done its work and imparted its lesson of culture to the surrounding world. So, in a very large degree, of the Roman Empire; so of the Spain and Germany of the Sixteenth Century, whose peculiar social and sacerdotal institutions, valuable in the highest degree as a wall against the encroachments of feudal anarchy, became themselves anachronisms when the feudal system had lost its hold on society. One might, indeed, in following this same line of thought, call to mind the fact that the single bright period in which Portuguese history became a matter of vital interest and concern to the world at large was when the predominant need of civilization was for solving the problem of the unknown Western continent. The hardy Portuguese navigators of the period, before and after Columbus, gave to the government under whose auspices they embarked a part in the progress of civilization for which there is to-day no longer opportunity.

Naturally, it is easier to assign the causes for the events of another century than to show what causes are at work at the present time, and what they foreshadow for the future. That the demand of present-day civilization is for material progress along the lines of science, industry and commerce, there will be few to doubt; nor can it be questioned that England, Germany and the United States are the foremost exponents of this movement, and for that reason rightly hold the centre of the stage. The interesting problems of doubt in the longer future of the nations concern, so far as can now be seen, the two States, Russia and Japan. In the one case we have a young and vigorous community, fettered by worn-out and obsolete institutions against which the people are struggling violently; in the other, a nation of Oriental origin and traditions which has adopted voluntarily the institutions, social, industrial and political, of the most enlightened Christian States. To what consummation the tendencies in either of these two interesting communities are to lead hereafter is a question which may have a bearing not only on future history, but on the theories of the past into which Mr. Balfour's discussion dips. With the conclusion of his speech, that, though time has brought to progressive nations new causes of disquiet, it has also brought new grounds of hope, and that "whatever perils be in front of them, there are, so far, no symptoms either of pause or retrogression in the onward movement which for more than a thousand years has been characteristic of Western civilization," there will be among thoughtful men little difference of opinion.

THE INTENSITY OF THE CRISIS.

Each new crisis in the economic world usually marks a forward step in human experience. It is rarely that identically the same errors are repeated in successive financial disturbances, although from a psychological point of view the phenomena of each great period of expansion and contraction are much alike. The financial world moves on from one set of discredited experiments to another, putting up bars for the future against the errors which have been discovered, but without being capable of providing fully against errors to come. A crisis is the penalty for such errors. It arises from the reaching out in new directions of experimental legislation and economic fallacies. Financial projects which were the cause of crises in the past have been relegated to the list of settled affairs. The issue of money by the Government, the formation of banks, the building of railways, loans to counties, States and foreign governments have all passed through this stage of evolution. With some exceptions their possibilities and their risks are now well understood. They are much less likely than formerly to be the source of important financial crises.

One of the sources of strength in the existing situation, and one which may diminish the intensity of the crisis, is the sound basis of our currency system. This element of security was lacking in 1873 and in 1890. On both occasions the state of the currency, the measure and standard of values, was a subject of serious concern. It kept every one in doubt as to the depth of the mire which might be reached before bottom was touched. During the present crisis there has never been a question of the value of the Government money nor of the solvency of the Treasury. The country owes both of these sources of security in a measure to the Gold Standard Law of 1900. Instead of a reduction of the gold reserve on several occasions below $60,000,000, the presentation of greenbacks and gold certificates for redemption in gold, and the disbursement of gold because there was no other money left on hand, the present crisis has witnessed no attack upon the reserve and no presentation of notes for redemption; and the Treasury is being criticized for tendering too much aid to the market instead of being almost unable to tender any. Where the amount of outstanding gold certificates was reduced at the close of 1896 to $37,887,439, the amount outstanding at the close of last month was $805,590,869, and where the total gold held in the Treasury for all purposes was only $175,000,000, it now stands at about $985,000,000, or not far below a thousand millions.

The new elements which entered into the causes of the recent crisis, aside from the primary one of political agitation, were chiefly the increase in the output of securities, the increase in loans upon such securities, especially by trust companies, and the untried nature of the new industrial issues. Never before has so large a proportion of the wealth of the community been put into this seductive and convertible form. Even if all such new issues were sound and safe, the fact that they became a basis for bank loans upon a large scale was an element which invited excessive speculation. Such a flood of securities as a basis for speculation was really a new element in the banking situation, in spite of the fact that in principle such loans were not novel. It was a fundamental weakness of the trust company situation—not that the loans made by trust companies were not in particular cases well secured, but that the entire principle of loaning in that way nearly the entire assets of a corporation paying deposits on demand was a venturesome policy. The public has awakened to these facts, and the result is embodied in part in some of the legislation proposed at Albany.

If each new panic is a step in the direction of progress, then there may be some reason to hope also that each successive event of this sort will strike less deeply into the economic prosperity of the country. The conditions of the flurry in 1903 and 1904, which was called "the rich men's panic," may be duplicated to some extent in the present case. There is no doubt that the present crisis cuts much deeper than that of 1903; but the substantial basis upon which the prosperity of the country rests is sounder than in 1893 in that the currnecy standard is not in question.

THE CASE OF COMMISSIONER KELSEY.

The very long report of last week, by Mr. Fleming, who has been for some months occupied in looking into the conduct of the Insurance Department of this State, is followed this week by a renewed recommendation to the Senate that Commissioner Kelsey be removed. Of the score of charges against him, nearly one-half are so absurd that Mr. Fleming is compelled to mention them only to dismiss them. It has long been known that statisticians and investigators who look for facts and figures to sustain a pre-determined conclusion never fail to find them. Last year, as will be remembered, Gov. Hughes failed to win a majority of the Senate for displacing Mr. Kelsey by some man of his own selection, and did not take his defeat graciously, his own political prestige being somewhat involved; it is not unjust to assume that he started this inquiry by Mr. Fleming, not so much to discover the facts independently as to get material on which to base a renewal of an attempt to which he felt himself committed.

The Fleming report is, therefore, discredited in advance by its obvious bias; moreover, it gives evidence throughout of having been shaped to a purpose. For example, it is admitted that certain sales of securities in one company at present in trouble were made early in 1907 and not discovered by Mr. Kelsey until near the end of the year, whereas a Western commissioner heard of it a little earlier, and was induced thereby to begin an examination. Much stress is laid upon this and upon the plea that the dignity of this State requires that it should take the lead and not be beaten in suspicion and alertness by a distant State. "This ignorance (says the investigator) was due to the fact that no effort was made by the Department to obtain periodic reports of the financial transactions of insurance companies." But to have positive knowledge of all "financial transactions" in regular routine would require a detailed examination monthly or quarterly, and is obviously impracticable. Insurance supervision has never been conducted in that manner, and never can be.

Mr. Fleming mentions several times that the accounting officers of the Mutual Life failed to report certain profits by sales of securities. This appears to be true, but the statement is nevertheless misleading, since it has reference to past practice, not present practice. The custom had previously existed of omitting such profits from the annual reports, but crediting them to real estate to offset depreciation in real estate values. But this method was abandoned long ago and did not come down later than 1904, two years before Mr. Kelsey came in; yet, while Mr. Fleming's specific language is that of condemning Mr. Kelsey for not having discharged an old employee who ought to have detected this "wrong" in 1904, he adroitly makes it appear as if this custom were continued to the present time and Mr. Kelsey had not stopped it. There are several other matters as to which the Mutual is cited, and in such manner as to suggest that the company has been violating law without being called to account therefor—intimations which the company shows to be utterly groundless. In the elections which once drew much attention, the commissioners of some States (notably Kentucky and Tennessee) took a stand for one ticket and displayed much partisan activity on its behalf; this course is held up by Mr. Fleming as evidence of commendable zeal in contrast with the conduct of Mr. Kelsey, who really deserves commendation for holding himself aloof.

But the desire of this investigator to make out a case is shown by the fact that he goes back and puts upon Mr. Kelsey shortcomings and defects of the Department before he came into it. For instance, in the autumn of 1904 (18 months prior to the Kelsey appointment) an insurance journal published information supplied by a discharged clerk of one of the smaller companies, by which it appeared that the annual statement of the previous year was false, and the company was actually impaired. It may or may not have been culpable negligence in a Department employee that he failed to note something singular in the figures at the time; the Fleming report assumes that it was, and condemns Mr. Kelsey for not discharging him therefor when he came in, more than a year afterwards.

The Department of this State is second in the country in point of age, dating back nearly a half century. It is supposed to have had as its original motive the desire to provide a place, and in fact the debauching touch of partisan politics has never been quite absent from it. Its administration has had only a short term of noticeable ability, being in general rather perfunctory, and at one time the incumbent was so much engrossed with other matters that the annual report was delayed until late in the summer, and was then submitted without text. Naturally, some defects gathered in it in this long term, but in seeking to make out inefficiency against Mr. Kelsey the great charge is that he has not "reorganized" the Department. He came in, however, with no experience of the subject, as his predecessors did, and now their sins are imputed to him. There was probably no time prior to the investigation of 1905, now says Gov. Hughes, when the Department could not have made an imposing report of its difficulties and burdens. Perhaps so, for anybody can tell a tale of trouble; and he adds, "but in that investigation it also appeared that if its energy had been well directed and the Department had been efficient in the true sense, most of the scandals which were revealed could not have existed." Suppose that be so, what bearing has what might have been done long ago upon the question of Mr. Kelsey's efficiency now?

He came in without experience, only a few weeks after the San Francisco calamity, which cast on him such a burden as no predecessor had encountered. A hundred pages of new laws were also put in his hands. Gov. Hughes speaks of these as an aid, being "clearly defined obligations which were not left for him to discover but which were writ large in the minds of all the people of the State." On the contrary, he had "to discover" several mooted points, so perplexing that in one instance the Attorney-General gave an interpretation which he himself reversed within ten weeks, and there is not even now complete agreement as to what is required. At the same time, the conduct of and responsibility for the elections in the great companies was put upon him, and all through the first eight months, while he was trying to bring the fire insurance companies through their great trial with the least sacrifice, he was beset by persons to intervene as a partisan, and take up the most preposterous charges of misconduct against the company managements. Several times a week, through the summer, he was appealed to thus; the sensational journals also urged him and printed every wild story, and because he held himself aloof and left the policy-holders to do their own voting, he is charged with feebleness. It has been reiterated that he ought to have "reorganized." The truth is that, while he has made some mistakes, never was a man in a like position so harried, and rarely has one had so much excuse for extreme deliberation in the extraordinary circumstances. To say that he should have immediately or soon turned out the experienced employees, merely because some outsiders demanded a clean sweep, is too absurd to consider.

It must further be said that no whisper has been uttered against Mr. Kelsey's integrity and his sincere desire to do well; on the other hand, his industry is amply shown. In contrast with the tardiness under some of his predecessors, the Fire report of last year was published complete early in April and the Life report early in October, the delay in the latter being explained by the enormous increase of detail in returns required under the new laws. This year the report proper in both Fire and Life appeared in proof-sheet form a month ago, covering all figures of the latter except the detailed statements of each company, the text of comment and recommendation occupying 63 pages. The detail called for, by the way, has so increased that the report has grown from the three volumes of recent years to five in 1907 and in this year. On the score of industry, hard work and faithful intentions, all evidence is in favor of the present incumbent.

Whatever his merits, however, or the demerits of the onslaught upon him, we might not deem the case worth special attention in the "Chronicle" if it concerned only the treatment of one man. But it does not stop there; it involves the larger question of the treatment of insurance by the State. Displacing Mr. Kelsey implies at least a long step towards what one Senator at Albany, last summer, called having a Superintendent with brass knuckles, who would take the companies by the neck and ram the new laws down their throats. We shall not stop now to argue that supervision as it exists has widely departed from the sounder original theory and has developed into a monstrous burden; but the question must be met and decided whether a huge batch of new laws, interfering and regulative in a degree never before proposed, of very doubtful constitutionality in a number of provisions, and already shown to be unbearable in some particulars which the Legislature is now asked to change, are to be interpreted with literal harshness and in a punitive spirit. Texas and Wisconsin sought to conciliate retiring companies by offering liberal reading and gentle enforcement of new laws, and a like assurance is indicated in case of some Federal statutes. Possibly the brass-knuckles manner might prove the speediest way of re-action from statutes which are intolerable, and yet the country needs rest. It may well shrink from further pounding under pretense of exorcising demons.

And after all is said, we might well be startled by recognizing the fact that custom has blunted our sensibilities until we are scarcely moved by the practical certainty that the issue which Gov. Hughes has again raised will be decided, as it was decided last year, not by the merits of his recommendation and the professed regard for the public interests, but as a struggle in personal politics, which is made more bitter by the present strife for the nomination in June next.

THE TRUST COMPANIES IN NEW YORK AND ELSEWHERE.

The trust companies were exposed to full fury of the financial gale which broke over the country last autumn, and had to bear the brunt of the terrific onslaught directed against the banking world generally. For these reasons the returns of these institutions which we give to-day on subsequent pages possess a special value and interest. Following a practice begun by us six years ago and continued annually since then, we devote no less than fourteen pages (see pages 387 to 400) to a presentation of the returns of the trust companies of this city (Manhattan and Brooklyn boroughs) and also those in Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis. We give the figures for all the separate companies in the cities referred to. In the case of the companies at this centre the data have been obtained from the reports required to be made to the State Superintendent of Banking at Albany. In the case of the companies in Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis the figures are our own, we having in each instance made direct application for them to the companies themselves, though in a few instances where our request has met with no response we have had recourse to published statements made in response to a call from the public authorities. A study of these comparative figures given at such great length will indicate how each company has fared in the troublous times experienced since we printed similar tables twelve months ago.

The reader need not be told that the results on this occasion are totally different from those disclosed in our former reviews. Previously the record had been one of large, almost phenomenal, growth, until it seemed as if there was to be no limit to the development of that class of financial institutions —an entirely modern creation; apparently they were destined to outstrip all other financial organizations performing banking or semi-banking functions. This growth has now been interrupted. We use the word "interrupted" because we are not among those who believe that these companies, treating them as a class, have been permanently maimed, or that hereafter their field of usefulness is to be narrowed in any degree. A few of the companies—a very few—have succumbed, those in this city being the Knickerbocker Trust, the Williamsburgh Trust and the Jenkins Trust, and this has entailed the hardship to depositors that always attends the suspension of a banking concern of any kind. We do not imagine, however, that confidence in the trust companies as a whole will be found to have been seriously disturbed when recent events are well behind us and time has elapsed for the taking of a careful reckoning.

Whether depositors in the suspended institutions will eventually sustain any real or substantial loss cannot of course at this time be stated, but this much can be said: suspensions among trust companies, notwithstanding the prominence given to those which happened in New York, have certainly been much less numerous than among the banks. This in itself proves nothing as concerns the relative stability of the two classes of institutions, but at least it has a bearing on the question as to whether public confidence in the same is to be maintained. While the trust company is a wholly modern creation, it had up to the time of the occurrences last October and November enjoyed remarkable immunity from disaster—so much so that trust company embarrassment had become almost unknown and was treated by many as if out of the question. This extreme optimism with reference to these organizations is seen to have been unwarranted, but hardly a stronger inference than that would seem justified from recent events.

In the financial cataclysm of the autumn the trust companies were subjected to a strain such as no other class of financial institutions has probably ever been called upon to bear; and the returns we present to-day give evidence in every item of this strain and of the severely trying ordeal through which the institutions have passed. But having stood this test and only a relatively few of the institutions having succumbed under the strain, must we not assume that this fact will be recognized and proper weight given to it by the patrons of banking institutions? It is only two weeks ago since we saw a whole row of banks in this city go down after they had been carried along by the Clearing House for over three months. In face of such a happening, no one can with propriety point the finger of scorn at the trust companies.

The extent to which the trust companies have suffered is shown by the way their deposits have fallen off. A shrinkage in the deposits, and a large one at that, would have been inevitable in such a period as that which overwhelmed the whole banking and financial world. At such a juncture depositors have need for their funds both to protect themselves and to extend aid to those less fortunately situated, and hence withdrawals naturally follow. In the present instance, in addition to this natural and normal cause for a diminution in deposits, the trust companies suddenly became the cynosure of all eyes. A very large company in this city—one of the very few that still retained Clearing House privileges—received notice late on a Monday afternoon from its clearing agent that after the next day this clearing agent would no longer act for it. Developments the previous week with reference to certain banks in this city had made the public suspicious and under the announcement referred to this unfortunate trust company was the following day subjected to a run, and after paying to clamorous depositors the not insignificant sum of $8,000,000, closed its doors, owing to its inability to convert its remaining assets into cash. Immediately attention was directed to other trust companies and a number of these likewise suffered "runs."

The banks had always contended that the trust companies were not holding large enough cash reserves, and now came the time when great prominence was given to this feature. Deposits were drawn out in enormous amounts not alone from the institutions never noted for conservative management, but from the oldest and strongest institutions—those concerning which there could not be the slightest ground for suspicion. Many depositors had undoubtedly been scared by the talk about insufficient reserves and proceeded to draw out their deposits. No banking concern of any size can pay out the whole of its deposits all at once, and if under the distrust thus engendered general disaster for the trust companies had resulted, it would have been no surprise. But the fact of the matter is that, with the exception of the three institutions already referred to—namely the Knickerbocker Trust, the Williamsburgh Trust and the Jenkins Trust—the trust companies successfully weathered the storm. And this is a feature that will always stand in their favor, that under the severest trials they showed soundness, strength and endurance. If now it should happen as the result of their recent experience that they should hold somewhat larger cash reserves—we do not mean reserves of the magnitude of those required of the banks, but reserves proportioned to the character of their business—will they not be in a position to command public support as never before?

A few figures to show the extent to which individual trust companies in this city have suffered will be useful at this juncture. The Trust Company of America having been the scene of an unparalleled run has naturally sustained the largest falling off in deposits. Comparing figures for Aug. 22 1907 with those for Jan. 1 1908, this company's deposits have dropped from $64,125,000 to $20,705,636, a loss of no less than $43,419,364. The Lincoln Trust Co., as will be recalled, was also subjected to a severe run. Its deposits are down from $22,400,961 to $6,483,067, a loss of $15,917,894. The Morton Trust Co., we may suppose, suffered by reason of Mr. Ryan's connection with it. Its deposits have fallen from $40,510,828 to $22,166,365, a decrease of $18,344,463. Yet companies like the United States Trust, the Central Trust, the Union Trust, the Farmers' Loan & Trust, the Guaranty Trust, the New York Life Insurance & Trust and the New York Trust have also sustained larger or smaller reductions, though the ratio of loss has varied more or less. The ratio is an important item to consider in comparisons of this kind; amount alone is hardly a sufficient guide, since very naturally the loss is proportioned to the size of the deposits. As a matter of record we print here the following comparative statement, showing both the amount and percentage of decrease between Aug. 22 1907 and Jan. 1 1908 for all the trust companies in the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn. The figures in this form recently appeared in a little cardboard circular issued by the firm of Moffat & White and which we have checked up and found correct. It is rather noteworthy that the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., which held first position for amount of deposits in its August statement, still holds first position in the January statement, notwithstanding the decrease in deposits in the interval.

Dealing now with the grand aggregates for the whole State of New York, as is our custom, the reader will be prepared for a very large falling off in the totals, seeing how considerable has been the contraction by the separate companies. It appears that on Jan. 1 1908 the aggregate deposits of all the trust companies in this State were only $732,278,460, against $1,084,376,517 on Jan. 1 1907, $1,055,128,422 Jan. 1 1906 and $1,127,627,100 Jan. 1 1905. The loss as compared with a year ago, it will be seen, is over $352,000,000, of which $72,000,000 is accounted for by the three trust companies in this city which suspended. It will be noted that once before—in 1905—there was a shrinkage in the deposits, the most of which, however, was regained the very next year. This previous shrinkage was due to an entirely different cause, namely that the life insurance companies, which had been keeping enormous amounts of cash with some of the trust companies, had heavily reduced their deposits following the insurance investigation; and, secondly, that, owing to the high interest rates which money had been commanding, many individual depositors withdrew their money from the trust companies, where they had been getting a low rate of interest, and invested the same elsewhere at more remunerative figures. The following little table compares present deposits for the trust companies of this State with corresponding figures for previous years since 1898. It will be noted that, under the loss now disclosed, the aggregate is smaller than in any year since 1901—that is, the companies as a whole are now back to where they were over six years ago.

A comparison of the aggregate resources of the trust companies shows results much the same as in the case of the deposits, only that we have much larger figures to deal with. It is significant of the magnitude of the business of these institutions, and their importance in the financial world, that even after a reduction of over $352,000,000 during the last twelve months, their aggregate resources still exceed 1,000 million dollars—the exact total of the resources for Jan. 1 1908 being $1,012,747,930, against $1,365,245,430 Jan. 1 1907. Large though the aggregate still remains, however, the present amount is the smallest of any year since 1902, as will be seen by the following:

In meeting the extraordinary call upon their resources to which they were subjected, which of their assets did the companies chiefly realize upon? Naturally they disposed of those most readily convertible. They called in their outstanding loans on collateral. As compared with twelve months ago, the aggregate of these loans has been reduced over $251,000,000, and the item is now smaller than at any time since 1901, as will appear quite clearly from the following comparative figures:

The so-called stock investments, representing security holdings, shows a much smaller reduction, both proportionately and absolutely, than might be supposed. One reason for this doubtless is that, at the time of the panic, no one was in position to buy securities, even of high-grade character, and prices dropped so low that no considerable body of securities could have been disposed of except at a great sacrifice. For Jan. 1 1908 the stock investments stand at $259,846,213, which compares with $300,751,163 Jan. 1 1907, a decrease of not quite 41 million dollars, or less than 14%. In the case of the loans on collateral, the shrinkage has been over 38%. The present total of the stock investments remains larger than at any date prior to July 1 1904.

Cash holdings have, of course, been drawn down, but not to the extent that might be supposed, considering the extreme monetary tension that prevailed up to the very close of the year. Of specie and legal tenders in their own vaults, the trust companies Jan. 1 1908 held $47,830,348, against $55,537,002 Jan. 1 1907, but only $24,817,055 on Jan. 1 1906, which latter was before the new law went into effect respecting the reserves of the trust companies. Deposits with the banks and with reserve agents were, of course, also drawn down, but here, too, the contraction has been smaller than might have been looked for. Altogether, the trust companies had cash on hand and on deposit with banks aggregating $154,139,313 Jan. 1 1908, against $199,832,255 Jan. 1 1907. It is to be observed, however, that trust company deposits with the banks had previously been very greatly reduced, owing to the high interest rates prevailing, which had made it more profitable for the companies to loan their surplus cash out directly than to keep it on deposit with the banks, where it earned only, say, 2%. This explains why, July 1 1904, aggregate cash on hand and on deposit was as high as $262,247,178 and dropped by Jan. 1 1906 to $149,787,595.

TRUST COMPANIES AT OTHER POINTS.

In the case of the trust companies outside of this State no such comprehensive comparisons as those just made are possible. As noted in previous reviews, our summaries for the other centres covered by our tables, namely Philadelphia, Boston and St. Louis, are such as we have been able to prepare ourselves and necessarily are limited to a few leading items. Nor are the returns in those instances cast on uniform lines, nearly every company having its own distinct method of classification, making general footings out of the question except as regards those few common things treated alike by all and which have a definite established meaning, such as capital, surplus and profits, and deposits.

None of these outside points show such heavy proportionate losses as the institutions at this centre, one reason being that they were not subjected to quite the same strain, and yet they all have suffered a very considerable shrinkage, which was to be expected, seeing that the financial disturbances were of such a nature as to shake to the very foundation the banking system of the whole country. In Boston no trust company was forced to go out of business during the panic; indeed three new companies of small size were organized during the last six months of 1907, increasing the aggregate number by that figure. Nevertheless aggregate deposits of all the trust companies Dec. 31 1907 were only $125,254,672, against $145,253,769 June 30 1907 and $158,213,825 Dec. 31 1906. The loss for the twelve months, it will be seen, has been, roughly, 33 million dollars, or somewhat over 20%. The ratio of falling off for the New York State companies, as we have already seen (including the loss due to the failed companies), was about 32½%. In the following we show the Boston summaries back to Dec. 31 1900.

Philadelphia may be said to have fared best of all. At that point, too, all the trust companies passed safely through the panic, and as seven new companies were organized during the year, and only one small company went out of existence, the aggregate number of trust companies Dec. 31 1907 was 58, against only 52 twelve months before. However, aggregate deposits now at $169,669,224 contrast with $193,283,-134 Dec. 31 1906 and still larger totals in the periods immediately preceding. If we compare with the maximum of $215,524,448 reached June 30 1906, the loss is, roughly, 46 million dollars, or 21%.

In the case of St. Louis the number of companies is small and was diminished by one during the year, owing to the absorption of the Missouri Lincoln Trust Co. (which had a capital of 3 million dollars) by the Mercantile Trust Co. Altogether the eight companies had aggregate deposits Dec. 31 1907 of $66,329,762, against $71,375,803 for the same companies June 30 1907 and $74,512,832 for the nine companies on Dec. 31 1906. Here, too, a falling off had occurred prior to 1907, for on Dec. 31 1904 the five companies then in existence showed aggregate deposits of $78,706,-702. In the three years since then the falling off has been 12 1-3 million dollars, or about 15%.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 1907.

Our compilations of the gross earnings of United States railroads for the calendar year 1907 serve to show what a tremendous industry is being put in jeopardy through the reverses that have followed as the result of the policy adverse to railroad interests pursued by State and nation. The income returns of the railroads just now are making very unfavorable comparisons; but it should be remembered that this has been the condition only since the panic in October and November. Previously continued growth in traffic and revenues had been the feature, and it is this fact that stands out most conspicuously in a review of the results for the calendar year. The tables we present show that the further gain in gross receipts for the twelve months was of enormous magnitude, notwithstanding the losses which came in the closing months as a result of the circumstances already noted. The change from these large gains to the extraordinary losses now being reported marks the extent of the calamity which has overtaken our railroad transportation lines.

We have returns altogether from roads operating in the aggregate 201,767 miles of line. On this mileage there is an increase in gross revenues over the twelve months of the calendar year 1906 in the extraordinary sum of $215,968,261. Had it not been for the losses in November and December, the increase would have been of still larger extent. Even as it is, 1907 for further growth ranks among the most noteworthy of that long series of years, extending back over a decade, all distinguished for large improvement. For 1906 our compilations, covering a somewhat smaller mileage, recorded an increase of $224,062,452, and that year showed the very largest gain both in amount and ratio of any for the decade; 1907 stands second only to that year. In the following we furnish a summary of the yearly totals back to 1896:

Note.—Neither the earnings of the Mexican roads nor the mining operations of the anthracite coal roads are included in this table.

The foregoing gives the figures for each year just as registered by our annual tables. The totals, it will be seen, are of enormous extent, particularly for recent years, the aggregate for 1907, for instance, reaching 2,491 million dollars and for 1906 2,275 million dollars. Nevertheless the figures do not cover the entire railroad system of the country. It has been impossible to make up or to procure figures for a few of the roads, and accordingly a small amount of mileage (roughly about 10%) is unrepresented in our totals. We should judge that if we could have returns for the missing mileage, the aggregate of the gain in the gross earnings for the twelve months would be increased to about $225,000,000. For 1906, it may be recalled, we estimated the gain for the entire railroad system at $250,000,000. This makes an addition for these two years alone of $475,000,000. As a matter of fact, however, gains have been piling up, year by year, for over a decade, as already stated. For 1905 we put the increase for the full mileage at $180,000,000, and for 1904 (which was a poor year) at $10,000,000. Previously we computed the gain for 1903 at $210,-000,000; for 1902 at $105,000,000; for 1901 at $155,-000,000; for 1900 at $120,000,000; for 1899 at $140,-000,000; for 1898 at $90,000,000, and for 1897 at $75,-000,000. Thus we get an improvement for the eleven years from 1896 to 1907 in the prodigious sum of $1,-560,000,000. From this record of unparalleled and prodigious growth we have now passed to the opposite extreme, where revenues are shrinking and where the losses are proportioned to the extent of the previous gains.

It is proper to state that the preponderating part of the $225,000,000 gain for the twelve months occurred in the first half of the year; for in our review of the results for the six months to June 30 we estimated the increase for that period at $140,000,000, leaving therefore a gain for the last six months of $85,000,000. The improvement was continuous through all the months except December. The last few months of the year, however, the increases gradually diminished, until in December there was an actual loss; the precise extent of this we are not yet able to indicate, as returns for that month are still incomplete. We annex a summary of the monthly totals:

It will be observed that in January and February the improvement was relatively small. This was due to the fact that weather conditions in those months in 1907 were unusually severe, whereas in the corresponding month of 1906 the winter had been one of the mildest on record. In March not a few of the roads suffered by reason of floods, particularly in the Ohio Valley and the Middle States, the floods at Pittsburgh having been the worst ever experienced. Nevertheless the improvement for that month for the roads as a whole exceeded that of either January or February, reflecting the improvement in weather conditions which occurred in the territory between Lake Superior and the North Pacific Coast. In April and some of the succeeding months comparison was with the period of the strikes and suspension of work at the coal mines in 1906, causing unusual ratios of gain for these months with the absence of any such disturbing conditions in 1907.

What has been said relates entirely to the gross revenues. In the case of the net results the showing has been entirely different; here instead of large gains there are only very small gains in most instances, and not infrequently actual losses. Considerable time must elapse before it will be possible to have reasonably complete figures of the net for 1907. The best that can be done now is to furnish a rough indication of the course of affairs in that regard. A table was given in the "Chronicle" of Jan. 25 1908 covering 87 roads for the eleven months ending Nov. 30 and this showed that with $163,533,112 gain in gross, the addition to the net had been only $4,754,679. The experience of the Pennsylvania Railroad may also be taken as typical of the railroad industry as a whole. On the roads directly operated East and West of Pittsburgh the Pennsylvania added $24,683,700 to its gross earnings, but the net earnings actually fell off a trifle—$7,600.

With reference to the year's traffic influences, it may be said that these were very generally favorable until the closing months. Trade and industry in practically all branches continued in a state of great activity until about the beginning of November, when the crisis which then occurred brought a serious revulsion. As illustrations of the way traffic was added to in various directions, we may note that the shipments of coal and coke originating on the Pennsylvania Railroad lines East of Pittsburgh and Erie for the calendar year 1907 were 58,457,932 tons, as against only 49,711,088 tons in 1906. Of this increase 1,111,965 tons was in the shipments of anthracite. Including the other anthracite carriers the total anthracite shipments to market in 1907 were 67,109,393 tons, against 55,698,595 tons in 1906. The shipments of iron ore by water from the Lake Superior regions were 41,292,350 tons in 1907, against 37,513,642 tons in 1906 and 33,476,904 tons in 1905. All this tonnage had first to be moved from the mines to the Upper Lake regions, and afterwards, on its arrival at the Lower Lake ports, had to be transported to the iron-making plants.

As far as tonnage in the leading staples is concerned, this was also generally heavier in 1907 than it had been in 1906. In the case of cotton, the gross shipments overland in the two years were pretty nearly even, being 1,422,572 bales for 1907 and 1,406,558 bales for 1906; the receipts at the ports were 8,684,758 bales, against 8,597,139 bales. In both cases, however, there was a loss in the last six months, the new crop having been a late one. The shipments overland the first six months had aggregated 953,606 bales, against 639,914 bales, while the port receipts in these six months were 3,629,445 bales, against 2,438,426 bales. The table which follows compares the port receipts for the full twelve months.

The Western grain movement ran very much heavier than in the preceding year, though this does not apply to every one of the cereals nor to all of the primary markets. Combining wheat, corn, oats, barley and rye, aggregate receipts at the Western primary markets for 52 weeks of 1907 were 719,697,438 bushels, against 686,319,773 bushels in 1906. More than the whole increase, however, occurred in the first 26 weeks, when the deliveries reached 339,651,750 bushels, against 283,933,868 bushels. The Western grain movement in detail is shown in the following.

At the seaboard the deliveries did not quite equal those of 1906, the comparison being 279,836,479 bushels, against 289,148,931 bushels. In this case there appears to have been an increase the last six months, since the loss for the full 52 weeks is smaller than it had been for the first 26 weeks, when the statistics showed receipts of only 132,929,003 bushels, against 153,043,583 bushels.

The live-stock movement in the West also appears to have exceeded that of 1906 except in the item of sheep. Taking the five leading live-stock markets together, namely Kansas City, Chicago, Omaha, St. Louis and St. Joseph, the receipts of cattle were 9,319,254 head, against 9,071,949 head; of hogs, 16,278,342 head, against 16,109,929, and of sheep, 9,149,454, against 9,954,962.

In the case of the separate roads or systems, the record of improvement in gross earnings is just as striking as for the roads as a whole—that is, the gains are of really phenomenal extent. Moreover, these gains come from all classes of roads and from all sections of the country. Typical illustrations are the Pennsylvania (lines directly operated East and West), $24,683,700 increase; Southern Pacific, $18,317,285 increase; Atchison, $10,161,145; Union Pacific, $9,405,665; Rock Island, $8,291,191; St. Louis & San Francisco, $7,295,768; Canadian Pacific, $7,886,289; Northern Pacific, $7,190,060; New York Central, $6,623,400. In the following we show all changes for the separate roads for amounts in excess of $250,000. It will be observed that there is only one road with a loss exceeding that amount, and we may add that there are only 14 decreases of any kind out of the 140 roads reporting.

NEW CONSTRUCTION ON THE KANSAS CITY MEXICO & ORIENT RAILWAY.

The following letter from President Stilwell of the Kansas City Mexico & Orient Ry. Co. is self-explanatory:

THE KANSAS CITY MEXICO & ORIENT RAILWAY CO.
Kansas City, Missouri, February 6 1908.

The Wm. B. Dana Co., New York City.

Gentlemen:—In your issue of the "Commercial and Financial Chronicle" for January, section two, in an editorial article headed "Railroad Construction and Betterments in 1907," page 7, second column, you say:

"The Kansas City Mexico & Orient Railway itself completed only 18 miles in Mexico last year. It also built 23 miles in Texas, and is now running trains on five disconnected sections of its total proposed line from Kansas City to the lower part of the Gulf of California."

A little further along in the same article you sum up the various pieces of road operated, making a total of 651 miles, according to your statement.

The statement that you have made as to the amount of mileage built in Texas and Mexico during the year 1907 is correct, but as you omit entirely any mention of the mileage constructed in Oklahoma the statement as a whole, as you will see, is misleading.

During the year 1907 72 miles were built in Oklahoma, making the total construction for the year 114 miles.

To put the matter very clearly before you, I have obtained a statement of our mileage from our Chief Engineer's office, which is as follows:

|---|---|
| In Kansas | 91.45 miles |
| In Oklahoma | 173.86 " |
| In Texas | 101.87 " |
| In Mexico | 357.49 " |
| Making a total of | 724.67 miles |

All of this mileage is now being operated except 11 miles built north from San Angelo, which leaves a total of 713.67 miles in operation, against your statement that only 651 miles is in operation.

As we have over 3,500 shareholders in this country who are interested with us, very many of whom no doubt are readers of your valuable paper, and as your publication has always been noted for the accuracy of its statements, I thought that you would probably be willing to correct any wrong impression which might have been made by the article in your January issue to which I refer.

Very truly yours,
A. E. STILWELL, President.

—Tacoma, Wash., was designated a reserve city on the 3d inst under the Act of March 3 1887.

—Another of the handsome volumes which preserve the records of the development of banking in the United States comes to this office, this one being issued as commemorative of the completion of the first century of the Trenton Banking Company. The institution began with the year 1805, originating, as usual, in a recognition of the need of banking facilities, and hardly was organization completed when an anonymous communication in a Philadelphia journal made the singular complaint that it was not generous in Philadelphians to come forward and subscribe to nearly three-fourths of the capital stock before citizens of New Jersey had an opportunity of taking what they wanted. The start was modest indeed, being made in "the Old Court-house and Gaol," which was built about 1730; tradition had it that the Continental Congress met in the building in 1784. It was altered to adapt it to the bank's use, and in 1838 the present building was erected on the same site. Salaries of the President and Cashier were respectively $700 and $1,300 at first. By resolution of the board in April of 1806 the Cashier was requested to buy an eight-day clock, which he did, and the same clock still marks time in the President's room; we also read that "on June 14 1808 the President was authorized to have the discount room papered." At the start, accounts were opened with the Philadelphia Bank in Philadelphia and the Manhattan Company here. Both these accounts ran without a day's interruption during the first seventy-five years, says the record, and for anything that appears they are still maintained. One interesting incident is that Prince Lucien Murat, nephew of the first Napoleon, having lived many years in Bordentown, N. J., and desiring to return after the dethronement of Louis Philippe, obtained a loan of $8,000 from the Trenton bank on security of a diamond bracelet which had been intrusted to him by Queen Hortense of Holland.

In 1805 a subscription for five shares in the stock of the Turnpike Road Company was made to help on the enterprise of better connecting Trenton with the waters of the Susquehanna, the travel between New York and Philadelphia then being by a weekly stage which took almost two days for the trip. So one might go on taking out bits which recall the early years of the country. The Trenton Banking Company is now firmly in its second century of usefulness.

—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Finance, in a speech before the Senate on Monday last discussed the currency bill bearing his name now before Congress. He declared that the serious defect of our monetary system, as disclosed by our recent bitter experience, is the fact that we have no means whatever for providing the additional currency issues necessary to meet or to prevent panic conditions. "Events," he continued, "having brought this defect to the attention of Congress in the most forcible manner, we cannot wisely or prudently fail to give it serious consideration." Referring to the financial disturbances through which we have just passed, Mr. Aldrich pointed out that during the progress of the crisis, in its more or less acute stages, the following extraordinary steps were taken to avoid final disaster:

First, the Secretary of the Treasury added to bank reserves by increasing the deposits of public moneys in New York and other banks between Sept. 30 and Dec. 7 to the extent of $70,000,000.

Second, clearing house certificates were issued by the various clearing houses of the country to the extent of about $190,000,000.

Third, checks were issued by clearing houses, banks and private individuals, intended to be used as currency, and which were so used, to the amount of at least $75,000,000.

Fourth, an enforced enlargement of the bank note circulation took place, through an exchange of bonds and by other means, from Oct. 1 to Jan. 1 to the amount of $94,759,115.

Fifth, importations of gold were secured, amounting, during the period last named, to $107,000,000, and resulting in an enlarged issue of gold certificates in the same period of $56,000,000.

From this it appears that from time to time during the crisis there was an enforced increase in the amount of currency and currency substitutes, not including additional deposits of public moneys in the banks, to the extent of about $468,000,000.

Of the expedients adopted, Mr. Aldrich stated, the use of clearing house certificates was unquestionably the most effective. Their employment, he added, has been beneficial at times in preventing a serious disaster, but it has sometimes resulted, as in 1907, in such a derangement of exchanges as to make it doubtful whether, from the standpoint of the public interest, the disadvantages were not greater than the benefits derived from their issue. He contends that if the experience of last year should be repeated, the methods of relief that were employed in 1907 will not be available for the following reasons:

First, it is not at all likely that the Treasury will be in condition to make increased deposits of public moneys in national banks. With the strong probabilities of a considerable deficit, and as a matter of wise policy, Government deposits in national banks must, and I am quite willing to say should, be largely diminished.

Second, the fact that a very large proportion of United States bonds is now held by the national banks, an amount which cannot be materially increased, makes it probable that there will be a diminution rather than an increase of national bank notes based upon United States bonds. In fact, it would be almost, if not quite, impossible to further increase the volume of such notes in case of an emergency.

Third, it is quite possible that we may not be able to command large importations of gold. The very large increase in the exportation of products, with reduced importations which took place in the last four months of 1907, produced an unusual balance of trade of more than $300,000,000 in our favor, and this fact was of great assistance in making large gold importations possible in the months of November and December. These favorable conditions may not exist again, and it may be much more difficult to induce the foreign banks to acquiesce in gold shipments in our favor. In any event, imports of gold can never be made in time to relieve an acute condition of panic.

Fourth, men may not be found in another emergency with the patriotism, courage and capacity of those who in this crisis rendered such conspicuous and invaluable service to the financial interests of the country.

Fifth, the suspension of bank payments with its resulting strain upon the credit of the country and its resources will not be tolerated again.

Continuing, Mr. Aldrich argued that if the business interests of the country are left defenseless through the inaction of Congress, the most serious consequences may follow. Under these circumstances, he considers it the imperative duty of Congress to provide some means of escape from another calamitous crisis. The expedients which the Government and financial institutions were obliged to adopt in the panic of 1907 point the way, he declares, to effective legislation. There seems but one way, Mr. Aldrich contended, in which this can be accomplished, namely, by some provision for the authorization of additional notes to be used only in emergencies. He stated that the Committee on Finance, with practical unanimity, arrived at the conclusion that it would not be possible to secure this relief by the adoption at this session of any measure which should provide for the thorough revision or reconstruction of our monetary system, however advisable such a course might be from a scientific or practical standpoint. The plan for additional notes which the committee recommends for adoption, he pointed out, is substantially the plan of the Imperial Bank of Germany, with a change of class of securities required, and a change in the rate of taxation. It was the belief of the Committee that the example of Germany was the safest precedent for them to follow, and the one most likely to successfully answer the requirement for a temporary note issue, for a currency which would not be permanent in its character, and which would add no new elements to our somewhat complicated currency scheme.

The remedy provided in the proposed measure Mr. Aldrich terms as simple, prompt and efficient. At any time within forty-eight hours, he asserts, if an emergency requires it, $500,000,000 of new money can be put into the channels of trade to allay public excitement and to meet extraordinary demands. He adds: "The Committee believes that this great fund, placed by the Government at the disposition of the bankers and business men of the country, will have a strong tendency to prevent financial crises and to preserve public and private credit at home and abroad. In periods of distrust large numbers of people are controlled by sentiment. Experience has shown that at such a time the strongest element in allaying excitement and creating confidence is the knowledge that a remedy exists which can and will be effectively applied. The existence of this great fund is like the creation of an ample water supply with effective apparatus to check conflagrations."

—Reports from Copenhagen on the 9th inst. stated that a tight money market and extensive speculation had brought about a small financial panic there. Two of the smaller banks, it was said, were affected, and one of these had been forced to suspend. Later in the week—on the 13th inst.—cable advices stated that the Folkething had passed the Government bill authorizing the State guaranty of the liabilities of the Freeholders' Bank and the Detailhandlers Bank. During a debate on the subject, the Danish Minister is said to have expressed the opinion that the banking crisis could now be regarded as virtually passed.

—The Kansas Legislature, which convened in special session on Jan. 16 in response to the call of Gov. Hoch, adjourned on the 4th inst. Although one of the principal objects in calling the Legislature together had been to effect the passage of a law guaranteeing bank deposits, the session closed without such enactment. The measure offered for the guaranty of deposits was killed in the Senate. A deposit insurance company bill, however, was regarded somewhat more favorably, having succeeded in passing both branches of the Legislature; notwithstanding this, it failed to become a law, having been vetoed by Gov. Hoch on the 1st inst. This bill provided for the chartering of corporations to be formed for the purpose of issuing policies to insure bank depositors against loss in case of the failure of the bank covered by the company's policies. Gov. Hoch in setting out his reasons for vetoing the measure said in part:

This bill would not have passed the House except for the understanding, clearly stated on the floor by many of its advocates, that it was supplemental to the depositors' guaranty bill which the people demanded, and to permit it to become a law I believe to be against public policy. Many who favored it in addition to the depositors' guaranty bill did so in order to help secure the passage of that bill, but all familiar with the situation and with the tactics of the powerful lobby that was here to prevent depositors' guaranty legislation, know that the final passage of this bill independent of the other was pleasing only to those who desired to defeat the legislation demanded by the people on this subject.

This bill purposes the organization of banking insurance companies absolutely free from supervision by the banking department or insurance department of the State. It provides no State supervision except by the charter board, which is furnished with neither funds nor experts for the work of such supervision. It provides no limitation upon the rate of insurance and leaves that and other vital matters entirely to the private corporation it purposes to charter.

It would subject all the banks of the State to the dictation of a company of speculators, whose arbitrary terms the State is given no power whatever to control.

This bill contemplates the organization of a bankers' trust which would give a few big bankers an opportunity to exploit small ones. It would create a powerful political machine, especially for the control of legislation in which 900 banks would have to participate or suffer the disfavor of this powerful combination. We have had enough of this experience this session. This bill makes the Secretary of State an agent to boom a private corporation organized for profit, and requires him to solicit stock from every bank in the State in this exclusive corporation before the company is organized.

—The Kansas City Clearing House Association has taken favorable action in the matter of establishing the office of Clearing House Auditor, to which we alluded in this department Jan. 11. F. Stanley Young has been appointed to the newly created office, and will take up his duties on March 1. He is at present a resident of Chicago and is associated with his brother, Arthur Young, under the firm name of Arthur Young & Co., certified public accountants. Mr. Young's duties in his new post will be along the lines of those required of the Clearing House Examiner in Chicago and Minneapolis.

—That the operation of branch banks in Colorado is in violation of the laws of that State is the opinion of Assistant Attorney-General S. H. Thompson Jr. of Colorado, who has thus expressed himself to State Bank Examiner Henry M. Beatty. According to local papers, this means that numerous branch banks doing business throughout Colorado will have to close up or incorporate as separate associations. The opinion, the Denver "Republican states," is based upon two sections of Mills' Annotated Statutes, Laws of 1891; the first of these, which absolutely prohibits the practice is as follows:

No banking association or corporation shall declare any dividend except from the net earnings after deducting all losses, overdrafts and obligations suspended or overdue, nor establish any branch office or agency thereof, or employ any agent or person to make loans or discounts at any other place than the banking house of such banking association.

In the second section quoted, covering incorporation, the Assistant Attorney-General points out that it provides for the designation of only one place of business, the words "'particular county, city or town' being used in the singular." It is contended that if it was the contemplation of the Legislature that there should be branch banks, the words would have been in the plural, as in the section covering certificates necessary to be filed in the case of general corporations. Mr. Thompson also holds that the use of the words "bank, banking, banker or trust company" by a concern not incorporated as a bank or trust company is unlawful.

—The New York Clearing House Association resumed last Saturday the issuance of the detailed bank statement, the publication of which had been discontinued after the issue of the return for Oct. 26. A new feature which marked the re-appearance of the statement was the insertion of totals showing the condition of the Associated Banks at the close of business on Friday, as well as the averages of the various items for the week. At the same time the New York State Banking Department put into operation its plan of giving out average weekly aggregates for the State banks and trust companies in Greater New York not reporting to the Clearing House. Furthermore, on Monday last, a statement showing the combined report of State banks and trust companies outside Greater New York was also issued. Altogether, therefore, an extensive amount of information concerning the banking institutions of this State is now to be available each week. The following announcement has been made by the Banking Department concerning its innovation:

The promptness with which the banks and trust companies have made their first report to this Department under the recent order is very gratifying. All the banks and trust companies in the metropolitan district under State supervision, numbering 57 and 48 institutions respectively, have rendered the statements called for.

With the necessary elimination of reports of the State banks which are members of the clearing house and the combination of the statements made to this Department with the Clearing House statement, we are enabled to know for the first time the general condition of the banking institutions of the City of New York.

The reports which will be made weekly to this Department will not only accomplish this result, but will afford opportunity to keep more closely in touch with the condition of the banks and trust companies under State supervision.

—The publication of the customary itemized statement of the Philadelphia Clearing House Association, which had also been suspended last October, was resumed on Monday. It is stated that the final retirement of Clearing House certificates was effected last Saturday. The total issue, the Philadelphia "Ledger" reports, was $13,695,000, and of this amount not more than $10,545,150 was outstanding at any one time.

—The New York Clearing House Association has modified its position in the matter of allowing deposits as offsets against notes pledged as collateral for Clearing House certificates. At a meeting on Thursday of the Loan Committee of the Association and legal representatives of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank and the Oriental Bank, a settlement of the question was arrived at in the adoption of a resolution by the Association which permits the application of deposits toward such maturing notes without prejudice to the rights of either party, and reserves the question for future adjustment. Previously the Association had taken the stand that this would not be allowed, its attitude being that it stood in the position of an innocent third party, holding these notes for value, before maturity, and therefore had a right to enforce payment without regard to the equities existing between the various classes of depositors. Charles Strauss, counsel for the depositors' committee of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank, in commenting on the action of the Clearing House, laid stress on the fact that its decision was voluntary, and was reached in the interests of the business houses who were depositors in the banks. The following notice on the subject has been sent out by the Clearing House with every call for payment of maturing notes:

You are hereby notified that your (note, draft, acceptance) for $——, dated —— 19 –, and maturing —— 1903, is now held by the New York Clearing-House Association as security for an indebtedness of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank, and that the same will be presented for payment in due course at maturity.

If you had a balance to your credit as a depositor in the Mechanics' & Traders Bank at the time it suspended and desire to withhold for future adjustment the amount of such deposit, payment for the difference between such amount of deposit and the amount of your indebtedness will be accepted by this Association without prejudice to the right of the Association to enforce payment of the full amount, and without prejudice to your right to insist that your deposit should be offset.

Your obligation will be presented in due course at the place where it is made payable. Where such partial payments are availed of, if there are endorsers on the note, waiver of demand, protest and notice of protest should be given by the endorsers, as well as the makers, in order to avoid protest of the item. Settlement on the above-mentioned basis may be made at the New York Clearing House by certified check, if presented before the due date.

In the event of such partial payment, further action will not be taken by the Association until all other available free collateral has been exhausted.

—The special grand jury which has been probing local banking matters returned two indictments on Monday against Charles W. Morse, one of which, it is reported, charges grand larceny. The grand jury's action is said to be based on the discounting by Mr. Morse of a note received from Morgan J. O'Brien and made payable to the latter. The note, it is understood, represented part payment for 667 shares of stock in the National Bank of North America. It is stated that an understanding existed between Mr. Morse and Mr. O'Brien that the note was not to be discounted for a stipulated time, but notwithstanding this, Mr. Morse is alleged to have discounted it before the specified date, receiving a check payable to Mr. O'Brien. This, it is claimed, he appropriated to his own use, Mr. O'Brien, it is stated, having no knowledge of the transaction.

At a meeting of the directors on Tuesday an assessment of $55 per share was levied on the stockholders to meet the impairment of $165,000 in the $300,000 capital. The city's deposit amounts to $600,000 while that of the State is about $90,000. City Treasurer Walter L. Clarke was authorized on the 3d inst. by the Providence City Council to approve the plan for resumption, and on the 4th inst. both branches of the General Assembly passed a resolution authorizing State Treasurer Walter A. Hilton, who had been acting as temporary receiver, in his statement presented at the hearing last week, said that no reasonable hope could be held out that the company could resume, owing to the inconvertible nature and doubtful value of its assets. Mr. Hilton's statement also contained the following report concerning the company's capital:

The authorized capital stock was $250,000. Of this amount $166,000 has from time to time been issued. Of the gross amount issued $125,000 of stock was in payment for rights in the Thomas D. Taylor System of Banking and $36,000, at par value, was issued in exchange for stock in other corporations, which has since been re-exchanged and canceled. Of this $125,000, $100,000, face value, has been surrendered and canceled in consideration of the surrender of rights for the city of Providence in the Thomas D. Taylor System of Banking.

There is outstanding at the present time $40,000 of capital stock, o which, so far as can be ascertained from the books, only $14,500 has been paid in in cash at par value, the balance having been issued for rights in the Thomas D. Taylor Systems and for services.

The institution was originally incorporated under the Arizona laws as the Commonwealth Trust & Savings Bank, and began business in May 1906; shortly after, however, the bank was notified that certain provisions of the Illinois banking law had not been complied with, and its business was thereupon turned over to George W. Dreblow and operated under the title of Dreblow & Co. Subsequently it was transferred to Edwin C. Kingsbury, who sought to effect a reorganization a year ago under the name of the International Trust & Savings Bank. The capital was fixed at $200,000. It is stated in the Chicago "Record-Herald" that about $128,000 was subscribed, but the labor men could not get the necessary $200,000 to enable the bank to do a State business. The unions were backward in supporting the institution; few of them subscribed for stock as unions, and only a few union men could be induced to risk their savings as individuals. Another transfer of the business is said to have been made a few months since, this time to the firm of A. C. Tisdelle & Co., which suspended two weeks ago.

—The newly formed Citizens' National Bank of Macon, Ga., commenced business on the 1st inst. The institution reports a cash capital of $250,000, and is under the management of W. C. Stevens, President; J. N. Neel and J. C. Murphey, Vice-Pres.; E. W. Stetson, Cashier; B. S. Walker Jr. and A. B. Simms, Asst. Cashiers.

—The Alabama Bankers' Association has arranged to hold the current year's convention on May 15 and 16 at Montgomery.

—The Canal-Louisiana Bank & Trust Co. of New Orleans opened in its new building at Camp and Gravier streets on the 3d inst. The bank had issued special announcements inviting an inspection of its new quarters, and many of its friends availed of the privilege thus accorded. The general offices of the company, which are tastefully fitted up, and are provided with all modern conveniences necessary for the banking house of to-day, are located on the ground floor of the structure, which is ten stories in height. In addition the company has set apart the top floor as a storehouse for its records, dating back to 1830, when the Canal Bank was organized, and has utilized the basement for its vaults.

—The stockholders of the State National Bank of New Orleans unanimously decided on Jan. 30 to place the institution in voluntary liquidation, and the following were named as liquidators: John H. Fulton, Vice-Pres. and Gen. Mgr. of the Commercial National Bank; Charles Janvier, Vice-Pres. of the Canal-Louisiana Bank & Trust Co.; Charles Godchaux, Pres. of the Whitney-Central National Bank; Louis Kohlmann; Warren Kearny, a stockholder in the State National; and Charles A. Morgan, a Vice-President of the institution. The decision to wind up the bank's affairs grew out of the unexpected resignation in December of Pres. William Adler, the bank as a result having experienced large withdrawals, notwithstanding the fact that an examination made by a committee representing the New Orleans Clearing House Association on Dec. 22 showed it to be in an absolutely solvent condition. C. H. Culbertson, who was elected to the presidency to succeed Mr. Adler, has become a Vice-President of the German-American National Bank of New Orleans.

—The stockholders of the First State Bank of Dallas, Tex., on Jan. 29 ratified a proposition to increase the capital of the bank from $100,000 to $150,000.

—The payment of a first dividend of 5% to the creditors of T. W. House, of Houston, Texas, has been authorized. A general assignment was made by Mr. House on Oct. 17.

—The Citizens' State Bank of San Francisco, which was closed by the State Banking Department on Dec. 11, has been declared insolvent by Judge Seawall, and Frank J. Symmes has been appointed receiver. The bank had a capital of $50,000.

—The American National Bank of San Francisco, at the annual meeting of stockholders held on Jan. 14, received the reports of its officers showing that the bank paid the 6% annual dividend during the past year and added $100,000 of net earnings to the surplus fund. The following directors were re-elected for the ensuing year: W. H. Talbot, Louis F. Monteagle, W. H. Chickering, James McNab, P. E. Bowles, Francis Cutting, Henry J. Crocker, Geo. P. McNear and E. W. Wilson.

—The banking house of Dexter Horton & Co. of Seattle, Wash., purposes to increase its capital from $200,000 to $1,000,000, the trustees having authorized such increase. The new capital will be provided for through the conversion of the surplus, which is now $800,000. The institution was established in 1870, and on Oct. 15 last reported deposits of $11,025,881. N. H. Latimer is manager.

—In response to the petition of W. M. Ladd, who has guaranteed the payment of all claims against the Title Guarantee and Trust Co. Savings Bank of Portland, Oregon, R. S. Howard has been appointed receiver of the defunct institution to succeed E. C. Mears. Mr. Howard is Assistant Cashier of the banking house of Ladd & Tilton.

—For the half-year ending Nov. 30 the Merchants' Bank of Canada (head office Montreal) shows net profits of $473,145. With the balance of $34,256 brought forward from May 31 1907, the balance sheet shows a total of $507,401, out of which two quarterly dividends aggregating $240,000 were paid (at the rate of 8% per annum), leaving $267,401 to be carried forward. The institution has a paid-up capital of $6,000,000; a reserve fund of $4,000,000 and surplus profits of $267,401. The deposits Nov. 30 were $36,254,344, while total assets were $52,135,598. In accordance with the decision made at the annual meeting in June, the yearly meetings are now held in December instead of June, and the bank's year will hereafter end on Nov. 30, instead of on May 31, as heretofore. E. F. Hebden is General Manager.

—The Scandinavian-American Bank of Portland, Oregon, organized with $100,000 capital, began business last month. The officers are C. F. Hendrickson, President; Sylvester Peterson and Dr. Henry W. Coe, Vice-Presidents; Anton Eckern, Cashier, and H. Rostad, Assistant Cashier.

—The shareholders of the Crown Bank of Canada (head office, Toronto) at their annual meeting on the 7th inst. unanimously approved a resolution providing for the merger of their institution with the Northern Bank of Canada.

—The three trustees appointed to represent the associated banks of Canada in the winding up of the affairs of the Sovereign Bank, have tendered their resignations under an arrangement whereby W. E. Stavert becomes sole trustee. This action, it is said, was taken to facilitate the liquidation of the assets of the bank.

Trust Company Returns.

BOSTON, PHILADELPHIA, NEW YORK, BROOKLYN AND ST. LOUIS.

We furnish below complete comparative statements of the condition of all the trust companies in Boston, Philadelphia, New York and St. Louis. This is in continuation of a practice begun some six years ago. The statements occupy altogether fourteen pages. These statistics will be found particularly interesting this time in view of the special strain to which the trust companies were subjected during the panic in October and November.

The dates selected for comparison are December 31 1907, June 30 1907 and December 31 1906, or where, as in the case of the New York companies, the June 30 figures are no longer compiled, the dates of comparison are December 31 for each of the last three years. In the case of the Boston, the Philadelphia and the St. L companies, we have also sought to get figures for December 31 and June 30, and have quite largely succeeded. As, however, the fiscal periods of these companies do not all correspond with those dates, and no returns for those dates are required by the State authorities, several of the Boston companies and a number of the Philadelphia and St. Louis companies have not found it convenient to compile statistics to December 31, but have furnished instead the latest complete figures available—usually some date in December.

Monetary and Commercial English News

(From our own Correspondent.)

London, Saturday, February 1 1908.

The rise in high-class securities which has been going on since New Year's Day has made further progress this week and there are many who think it is likely to continue. It is possible, of course, that the budget which will be introduced early in April may be disappointing, and therefore may give a check to the rise. If it is not, there is every reason to look for a steady recovery in high-class securities and especially in the securities of the British Government. There is also a steady investment in Paris. Speculative securities are avoided there just as they are in London. The investment is chiefly in Russian bonds. In London, there is very active buying also for French account of American notes, American railway bonds, South American securities and the like. Furthermore, the French banks are buying English bills in very large amounts.

In Berlin business is quiet; still, there is a fair amount of investment. The various federal governments and municipalities are borrowing and the public is applying for the bonds fairly well. All sorts af speculative securities, for the time being, are neglected, but for really sound securities there is a good demand. Money is still scarce and dear and will continue so for a considerable time, firstly, because not only the federal governments and municipalities but the Imperial Government also need large loans; and, secondly, because the banks have given an undue amount of accommodation to their customers and have not yet been able to liquidate those accounts sufficiently. Still, all danger of serious trouble in Germany now appears to be over, and gradually, no doubt, the banks will be able to reduce the very large loans which they have given.

At home trade has unquestionably received a check. But the best opinion continues to be that the check will not be very serious nor will it last long. Still, the check is causing money to flow back to London. Consequently, the Stock Exchange is able to obtain all the accommodation it requires on very easy terms, and business, therefore, is steadily increasing. Even this week, when the final settlement of the month has been going on and when the banks have been calling in loans from the bill brokers, as they always do at the end of the month, the supply of accommodation was fairly satisfactory. There has been some borrowing, no doubt, from the Bank of England, but not as much as might have been expected considering that the collection of the revenue is now going on at a very rapid rate. As yet, investment is largely confined to really sound securities.

The demand for British railway stocks has been checked by the unsatisfactory dividends. All well-informed persons knew beforehand, however, that the dividends would be unsatisfactory, firstly, because the price of coal was so high that it greatly increased the cost of working; and, secondly, because the threatened strike which hung over the companies for the larger part of last year compelled the companies to increase wages. Now that the price of coal is falling and that a settlement has been arrived at with the employees, it is hoped that the position of the railways will steadily improve.

The directors of the Bank of England have made no change in their rate af discount this week. It was recognized as unlikely that they would do so, for while rates are falling all over the Continent, yet the rate of discount of the Imperial Bank of Germany remains at 6%. It is undeniable that the gold reserve of the Imperial Bank is too low and requires to be replenished. But the very fact that it does require to be replenished makes it probable that if the Bank of England were to lower its rate further while the German rate is as high as 6%, gold would be withdrawn. It is true that we can now afford a considerable loss of gold. Still, it is to be borne in mind that we have to dispatch a good deal of the metal to South America—probably not less than 3 millions sterling—and it is also not to be forgotten that London will have to repay nearly 3 millions sterling to the Bank of France. Therefore, from the point of view of the directors of the Bank of England, it does not seem advisable to put down the rate of discount while the rate of the Imperial Bank remains as high as 6%.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 80 lacs of its bills and the applications amounted to 243 lacs at prices ranging from 1s. 3 29-32d. to 1s. 3 31-32d. per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 3 29-32d. and for telegraphic transfers at 1s. 3 15-16d. per rupee were allotted about 32% of the amounts applied for.

In accordance with the announcement made by Mr. Clark Williams, New York State Superintendent of Banks, in his recent annual report, all institutions under his supervision are now required to submit weekly reports of condition to the Department. These statements were furnished last Saturday for the first time, and the Superintendent has had compiled from them a summary in which is included the figures for all State banks and trust companies in New York City (all boroughs) that are not members of the Clearing-House Association. He has also prepared a statement showing the condition of State banks and of trust companies outside of Greater New York. All of these figures are given in the following table, together with the totals for the Clearing-House banks, the averages for the week and the actual figures for the beginning of business on Feb. 8.

Trust companies in Greater New York are required to keep a reserve of 15%, of which only 5% need be in cash and 5% more may be in municipal bonds, while in the case of the trust companies in the rest of the State the required reserve is 10%, of which only 3% need be in cash and 3% more may be in municipal bonds.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Influences which for some time past have had a tendency to depress the security markets remain in force and prices have again steadily declined throughout the week. Practically all the aggressive operations at the Exchange have been on the selling side, with the result that a few railway issues have recorded the lowest quotations in recent years. Generally speaking, there is, however, a substantial margin between the present level of prices and that of last October and November.

Among the hopeful "signs of the times" is the increasing frequency with which announcements are made of the reopening of mills and factories in various parts of the country. Moreover, there is reported to be a little better demand for time loans and rates show a corresponding tendency to harden. Considerable interest has been shown in the New York City bond offering to-day of $50,000,000. the results confirming the prevailing opinion that the amount would be largely oversubscribed. An increase in the supply of foreign exchange in this market is supposed to be based on European bids for this issue. The weekly bank statements cabled from abroad on Thursday show little change in the situation there except the transfer of more gold from London to Paris.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¾% to 2%. To-day's rates on call were 1¾@2%. Prime commercial paper quoted at 5¼@5½% for 60 to 90-day endorsements and 5½@6% for best single names.

The Bank of England's weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £476,899, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 53.48, against 54.41 last week.

The discount rate remains at 4%, as fixed Jan. 23. The Bank of France shows an increase of 25,100,000 francs gold and a decrease of 7,300,000 francs silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of averages for the week ending Feb. 8 showed a decrease of $10,973,800 in the reserve held and a surplus of $29,832,175 over the required reserve, against a surplus of $40,526,725 the previous week.

These figures, together with the returns of separate banks, also the summary issued by the State Banking Department showing the condition of State banks and trust companies not reporting to the Clearing House, appear on the preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—The market was heavy this week, influenced by speculative selling in expectation of a large supply of bills as the result of placing in Europe of a considerable amount of New York City bonds from the sale to-day; the tone was steady at the close.

To-day's (Friday's) nominal rates for sterling exchange were 4 84 for sixty-day and 4 87½ for sight. To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for sterling exchange were 4 8250@4 8260 for long, 4 8580@4 8590 for short and 4 8615@4 8625 for cables. Commercial on banks 4 8190@4 82 and documents for payment 4 81½@4 82½. Cotton for payment 4 81½@4 81¾, cotton for acceptance 4 8190@4 82 and grain for payment 4 82¼@4 82½.

To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for Paris bankers' francs were 5 20@5 19⅜ for long and 5 18⅛@5 17½*h* for short. Germany bankers' marks were 94 3-16@94¼ for long and 94⅞*d*@94⅞ for short. Amsterdam bankers' guilders were 40 16@40 18 for short.

Charleston selling $1 per $1,000 premium. New Orleans bank $1 per $1,000 premium; commercial 50c. per $1,000 discount. Chicago 5c. per $1,000 premium. St. Louis 15c. per $1,000 premium. San Francisco 60c. per $1,000 premium.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $10,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 25.

The market for railway bonds has been somewhat more active than last week, a condition due chiefly to an excess of offerings. Prices have been more or less irregular, but the prevailing tendency was downward, and after a substantial recovery to-day in several issues and a general hardening of the market, out of a list of 25 active issues only 5 are higher and 7 are a point or more lower than at the close last week.

Some of the industrial issues have been notably weak, including Central Leather, Colorado Industrial and American Tobacco. A few bonds have, on the other hand, been notably strong, among which are Burlington & Quincy, Pennsylvania, Norfolk & Western, Mexican Central and United States Steel.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board include $10,000 2s, reg., 1930, at 104; $5,000 3s, coup., 1908-18, at 101, and $1,000 4s, reg., 1925, at 119. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been more active and again, for the most part, decidedly weak. The transactions on Monday aggregated almost a million shares as a result of persistent liquidation and aggressive operations on the short side of the market, which carried a long list of active shares down from 3 to 5 points. There was a tendency to recover shown on Tuesday, but after the holiday on Wednesday Thursday's market was irregular and decidedly waek in spots. To-day there has been a substantial recovery in many issues, but only one of the railway list, Delaware & Hudson, closes with a net gain.

Denver & Rio Grande preferred is conspicuous for a decline of 10 points, and other Southwestern stocks have been weak, Missouri Pacific selling at the lowest price since 1899.

Smelting & Refining declined nearly 8 points and recovered 2½. Air Brake has been relatively strong throughout the week, closing 4 points above the lowest. Steel preferred closes over 3 points above Monday's lowest and the common is fractionally higher than at the close last week.

Outside Market.—Trading in the earlier sessions of the "curb" market showed a continuation of the weakness noted last week. In the later dealings a better tone was reported. Copper shares furnished the principal features. Cumberland-Ely was especially active and was heavily traded in. It sold down from 7⅝ to 6, moving finally to 7½. Boston Consolidated Copper, after fluctuating between 14¾ and 14¼, advanced to 15¼, easing off subsequently to 14¾. Butte Coalition from 18½ dropped to 17 and closed to-day at 17½. Davis-Daly Estates declined from 4⅝ to 4 and to-day sold at 4⅛. Greene Cananea fell from 8½ to 7⅜, moved up to 7⅞ and closed to-day at 7¾. Nevada Consolidated Copper sank from 10 to 8¾, moved back to 10, the final transaction to-day being at 9¾. Nevada-Utah sold down from 4⅛ to 3½ and up to 4¼. Nipissing ranged between 6⅜ and 6⅛. The only feature outside the mining issues was the trading in the new New York City 4½s "when issued" at from 104¾ to 105⅜. Otherwise the industrials were practically lifeless. Standard Oil in the beginning of the week broke from 500 to 490. Later it recovered to 495. Havana Tobacco preferred sold up from 17 to 18½ and down to 17¼. Havana Commercial preferred rose from 38½ to 41. Chicago Subway, after advancing from 16 to 16½, dropped to 15, the close to-day showing a recovery to 16. Consolidated Steamship 4s were traded in down from 9 to 8⅞ and up to 9½, and in to-day's trading registered a further advance to 10.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

b Net earnings here given are before deducting taxes.
c Figures revised for previous year so as to accord with the new classification of earnings and expenses now required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.
s After allowing for miscellaneous income, which was a debit item for the Month of December, total net earnings were $262,799 in Dec. 1907, against $369,066 last year, and for period from July 1 to Dec. 31 were $2,066,186 this year, against $2,448,340.
v The operating expenses for 1907 contain $553,141 account depreciation of equipment as per new ruling of Inter-State Commerce Commission. No similar charge was made in 1906, hence for accurate comparison this amount should be added to the balance of $8,451,064, making net earnings $9,004,205 in 1907, against $10,024,906 in 1906.

Interest Charges and Surplus.—The following roads, in addition to their gross and net earnings given in the foregoing, also report charges for interest, &c., with the surplus above or deficit below these charges.

On East Main St., Norwalk, 1,300 feet of new track was laid and the material is on the ground for the other track for this same distance. Five new sidings have been laid. Between Milan and Norwalk, and between Lorain and Vermillion, considerable ballasting was done with crushed stone. Five concrete culverts were built and one large highway culvert was extended.

Lorain Street RR.—A 400 K. W. rotary was installed in the South Lorain plant. The remainder of the double track, with the exception of approximately 1,500 feet, was completed between the steel plant at Lorain and the loop in Elyria. This company has in operation 23 cars in all.

Sandusky Fremont & Southern Ry. Co.—Construction work was continued throughout the year and the road is now completed, except a small portion of the ballasting. From the junction with the main line of the Lake Shore Electric Ry. at Fremont to the connection with the Lake Shore Electric Ry. at Venice Road, Sandusky (20 miles), the road is on private right of way, nearly all 80 feet in width. This company purchased during the year 10 fifty-foot interurban cars, equipped with Westinghouse 121 motors with automatic control; also eight Rodgers ballast cars. A sub-station was built at Whitmore in which has been installed two 400 K. W. rotaries. The earnings of this road are shown as the S. F. & S. Division of the Lake Shore Electric Ry.

Mileage Operated.—This includes (single-track miles): Lake Shore Elec. Ry. Co., 170.49; Lorain Street RR. Co., 24.77; Sandusky Fremont & Southern Ry., 20.03; total, 215.29 miles.

RESULTS FOR THREE YEARS—NOT INCLUDING LORAIN ST. RR.

(The Sandusky Fremont & Southern Ry., 20 miles, was placed in operation Sept. 17 1907 with road only partially completed; its total gross earnings in 1907 were $14,637, and are here included.)

Rolling Stock.—The equipment consists of 225 motor cars, 183 coaches, 79 control coaches and 17 miscellaneous. The above includes 20 vestibule motor cars recently purchased from the Pullman Co.

Extension.—The mileage operated durng the year has been increased two miles by the extension of the Douglas Park Line, the total mileage at the end of the year, exclusive of side tracks, being 50.55 miles. The Douglas Park Line was opened for traffic to 46th Ave. on May 22; to 48th Ave. Dec. 16. In building this line, the structure was extended from 40th Ave. to 42d Ave., a distance of a quarter of a mile. The incline comes to the surface at 43d Ave. and the track continues on the surface, passing through a subway under the Belt & Manufacturers' Junction Rys. to 48th Ave., a distance of ¾ of 1 mile.

The Western Electric Works having reduced their force early in 1906, the traffic from this extension has not been as large as anticipated. The business coming from this line is sufficient to pay operating expenses and fixed charges. With a revival of business conditions, an increasing volume of business is looked for.

Improvements.—An additonal waiting room 28x60 ft. has been built at Logan Square and a new waiting room at Gunderson Ave. At Canal St. both platforms have been extended. The structure from Centre Ave. to Paulina St., Paulina St. to Kinzie Viaduct and from Paulina St. to California Ave. has been thoroughly cleaned and painted. In compliance with a city ordinance, an arc lamp has been suspended from our structure at each street intersection, making it necessary to install 205 lamps. A storage battery with a capacity of 3,200 amperes has been purchased and installed in a concrete and brick constructed building at Loomis St., just west of the main power station.

Expenses.—The cost of transportation has increased materially, due to increased cost of power, labor and material. The general taxes amounted to $145,752, an increase of $15,114 over 1906. The total taxes, including car licenses and special assessments, amounted to $176,390, as compared with $158,128 for the previous year.

Knickerbocker Ice Company, Chicago.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President John S. Field, under date of Chicago, Feb. 5 1908, says:

General Results.—The earnings for 1907, while larger than the average of all previous years, were not as large as might reasonably have been expected. The financial depression during the last quarter caused a general cessation in building operations, and the cool weather prevailing in the latter half of the year lessened the demand for ice. The additional facilities, however, acquired during 1906 enabled our operations to be so extended that the sales of ice in tons in 1907 were greater than in any previous year, except in 1906, in which year, on account of the mildness of the previous winter, large quantities of ice at exceptionally good prices were shipped to consumers outside of our usual territory.

The increase in plant account resulted principally from the necessary completion of two artificial ice plants and other improvements contracted for or commenced in the year 1906.

Deductions were made from the earnings for the year to the amount of $224,445, for depreciation, repairs and renewals.

Bonds.—During the year first mortgage bonds to the amount of $8,000, par value, were canceled through the sales of real estate and exchange for refunding mortgage bonds, of which $6,000 are now in the treasury and $2,000 were placed in the sinking fund. Three-year collateral notes to a total of $13,000 were canceled, making in all $69,000, par value, of such collateral notes now paid. There was added to the refunding mortgage sinking fund (including the $2,000 above mentioned) $65,000 refunding bonds. The total amount now in such sinking fund is $318,285 in bonds, cash and accrued interest on current coupons.

Dividends.—There were earned and declared during the year 1907 dividends Nos. 18 and 19, of 3% each, on the preferred stock—No. 18 paid Oct. 25 1907 and No. 19 payable Feb. 19 1908. There was also earned and declared during 1907 a dividend of 2% on the common stock, for which dividend warrants are to be issued Feb. 20 1908. Payment of these warrants can be required only after the collateral notes have been paid, but not by renewal, and when the company's fixed charges and the full preferred stock dividends in the year of such payment have been provided for. (V. 85, p. 1649.)

People's Gas Light & Coke Co., Chicago.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President Geo. O. Knapp, Chicago, Feb. 10, says:

General Results.—The gross earnings for the year were $13,146,368, the largest in the history of the company. For 1906 the gross earnings were $11,680,044. This increase was largely due to the acquisition by lease of the plants, properties and business of the Ogden Gas Co. and the Universal Gas Co. These leases were authorized to be made by the City Council in Feb. 1906, and were actually made and ratified by the stockholders in Feb. 1907.

In common with business generally the company was obliged to meet a higher cost for both labor and materials during the year 1907.

The surplus earnings for the year, after deducting bond interest, was $2,518,783. This is equivalent to 7.64% on the outstandng capital stock. After the payment of dividends at the rate of 6%, a surplus for the year remains of $540,637.

Favorable Decision.—During the year the Supreme Court of the United States upheld the company's contention on the questions involved in the re assessment, or back assessment, of taxes, which matter had been in the courts several years, thus finaly disposing of that important litigation.

Additions.—The plant was substantially increased during the year, due largely to the acquisition of leased properties, the total mileage of mains now being upwards of 2,311 miles, and the gain during the year, including leased mains, being upwards of 208 miles. The increase in the number of metres in use, including leased metres, was 51,326, and in the number of gas stoves installed, 31,575, and in the number of arc lamps, 15,108. There was a loss in public street lamps, the decrease being 1,030.

Illinois Brick Co.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President C. D. B. Howell says:

One piece of real estate was sold during the year and one purchase was made. Building and machinery account was reduced by the sale of old machinery.

The earnings for the year were $105,394. The earnings for the first 10 months of the year were nearly enough to meet the dividends declared (viz.: four quarterly payments of 1% each April 15, July 15 and Oct. 15 1907 and Jan. 15 1908, together calling for $160,000—Ed.). The rebuilding of the plant destroyed by fire in October, entailing a loss of $35,000, and the lack of business, and low prices for November and December, have brought the result above indicated. The sum of $54,235 was expended for betterments during the year and does not appear in the surplus. Although the result of the year's work is far from satisfactory, the plants as a whole are in better condition than ever, and our efforts to keep the costs at the proper point have been realized.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

American Railway Association.—Reduction of 50% in Per Diem Freight Car Charge.—At a special meeting of the Association held in Chicago on Feb. 7 it was voted, in view of the great number of idle freight cars (numbering, it is said, over 300,000), to reduce the per diem charge for retention of foreign freight cars from 50 to 25 cents, as prior to July 1 1907. A press dispatch from Chicago says:

This action was taken pending the appointment of a commission of five traffic experts to examine the cost of operation of freight cars throughout the country, upon which to base a new permanent rate. A letter ballot on the proposition will be sent out to the 328 railroads which are members in the association, the balloting to close Feb. 25; 165 roads, owning more than 1,600,000 freight cars, must vote for the 25-cent rate to make it effective.

(Some doubt is expressed as to whether the proposed reduction will be ratified. The New York New Haven & Hartford RR., it is stated, has been debiting itself at the 50 cent rate since Oct. 1 1907, when the company withdrew from the association, the account now aggregating about $800,000; but is not expected to settle for much more than half that amount.)

Compare report of N. Y. N. H. & H. RR. in V. 85, p. 859, 221, and Boston & Maine RR. in V. 85, p. 1461.

Bald Eagle Valley RR.—Merger.—See Pennsylvania RR. below.—V. 85, p. 721.

Brooklyn (N. Y.) Rapid Transit Co.—Brooklyn Bridge Terminal.—The company began operating the Brooklyn Bridge Terminal under a new system on Jan. 26.

The cable traction, which has been in use ever since the bridge was opened to traffic, 24 years ago, has been abandoned, and with it the operation of local bridge trains. Instead the trains across the bridge now run through to destination over various lines of the Brooklyn Elevated RR. system, and the change of cars at the Brooklyn end of the bridge is avoided. In addition, six-car trains replace the five-car trains operated with the cable system, and it is expected to operate these on a headway of 60 seconds in the rush hours. The local traffic across the bridge from terminal to terminal is to be handled by special trolley cars running on the bridge roadways. It is believed that the new method of operation will shortly prove its great advantage over the old.—V. 85, p. 1082.

Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh Ry.—Quarterly.—Earnings for the 3 and 6 months ending Dec. 31 were:

Cuba Eastern RR.—Bondholders' Committee—Deposits Called.—Inasmuch as mortgages have heretofore been executed by the several companies in the system to the Knickerbocker Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure the following issues of bonds, namely:

the following committee has been organized to protect the bondholders of all four companies, and urges the deposit of the bonds with either the New York Trust Co., New York, or the Old Colony Trust Co., Boston, as depositaries under the terms of a bondholders' agreement dated Jan. 24 1908:

General Committee.—Benjamin P. Cheney, Chairman; George P. Hilton, William Barbour, Thomas J. Vail, W. Harris Roome, I. H. Lehman, C. W. Warner, P. Chauncey Anderson, N. L. Office of committee, 20 Broad Street.

And "Whereas, the Cuba Eastern RR. Co. has guaranteed the payment of the principal and interest of the first mortgage 5% gold bonds of the Northeastern Cuba RR. Co., and owns a majority of the capital stock thereof, and the line of railroad of which latter company having been completed on or about the middle of Sept. 1907, no opportunity of determining whether or not the operation of said line of railroad will become profitable has as yet presented itself, in view of the fact that the period of six months from July to December in Cuba is known as the dead season, when by reason of climatic conditions, transportation of products to the markets is practically at a stand-still; and

"Whereas, there is a large floating debt, of which there are certain pressing claims which will have to be promptly provided for; and

"Whereas, for the protection of the interest of the holders of bonds above referred to and to avoid any precipitate action on the part of pressing creditors or the appointment of receivers, and to enable said companies to realize such benefits as shall result from the operation of the recently completed line of railroad of the Northeastern Cuba RR. Co., and to create for the securities of said companies the proper marketable value warranted by the physical condition and earning power of the enterprise, or, if found necessary, to effect a readjustment or reorganization of the affairs of said companies.

The committee is empowered, if deemed necessary, to fund the coupons on any of the deposited bonds for a period not exceeding 2½ years from March 1 1908. If a plan of reorganization or for the sale of the bonds is presented, the depositing bondholders who dissent thereto will be given 20 days in which to withdraw their bonds on payment of a pro rata share of the expenses of the committee.

In a circular dated New York Jan. 24 the committee says:

The situation is very critical. There are a number of claims, particularly in Cuba, which are pressing, and some method must be provided by which they can be taken care of. The committee believes that with a sufficiently large number of bonds deposited they will be able to make arrangements to adjust these claims so that the properties can be operated and get the benefit of the earnings during the next six months, which are by far the most lucrative of the year.—V. 86, p. 337.

Gray's Harbor Railway & Light Co., Aberdeen, Wash.—Bonds, Earnings, &c.—The company has issued the $150,000 of its first mortgage 6% bonds previously held in reserve, thus bringing the total amount outstanding up to the $500,000 authorized. Comptroller Miner D. Crary, writing from Warren, Pa., on Jan. 22 1908, says:

In addition to the 9½ miles previously in operation between Aberdeen, Hoquiam and Cosmopolis, the company has just placed in operation a feeder of one mile in Hoquiam, and will complete a similar additional mile of track in Aberdeen within a short time. The company is building near the centre of its territory an entirely new power plant, and on this same tract of land will ultimately consolidate all its plants, shops, &c. These various additions and improvements will cause the expenditure of an amount in excess of $150,000 over and above the $150,000 bonds recently taken down.

Illinois Central RR.—Equipment Bonds as Collateral.—Touching the proposition to issue $30,000,000 equipment bonds for use as collateral pending arrangements for permanent financing, Vice-President Hackstaff on Thursday said:

The Illinois Central has about $40,000,000 in value of equipment, free of lien, and the directors have considered authorizing equipment bonds against part of this, to be held in the treasury and used only as collateral until a stockholders' meeting, at which all the stock can be represented, when the issue of stock or bonds, or both, as may then seem best, may be authorized by vote of all the stockholders. Concerning the floating debt, it is pertinent to say that nearly all of it was incurred in enterprises originated under the former President: nearly all of the balance not so created is for equipment, the purchase of which he favored and voted for since his retirement from the presidency.—V. 86, p. 337, 285.

Indianapolis Columbus & Southern Traction Co.—New Officers.—Hugh T. Hiller, having resigned as Secretary and Treasurer and also as a director, Ira E. Louisville & Nashville RR.—Circular Regarding Extra Dividend and Louisville Property Co.—A circular has been issued respecting the extra dividend of 1% which was paid to the shareholders on Feb. 10 in the stock of the Louisville Property Co. (compare V. 86, p. 229). The circular says:

The Louisville Property Co. is a Kentucky corporation, authorized to own and deal in property, real and personal, and the entire capital stock, amounting to $50,000, was owned by the Louisville & Nashville RR. Co. It held many parcels or tracts of land adopted to the uses of the railroad company, and also owned considerable bodies of coal lands, located chiefly in Kentucky. It was largely indebted to the railroad company for advances of funds.

Because of the early operation of the provisions of the Hepburn Act against the transportation of coal in which the carrier had an interest, direct or indirect, and because it was otherwise desirable for the close relations between the two companies to be severed, it was decided that this could best be done by dividing the interest held by the railroad company in the Louisville Property Co. among its own stockholders. To this end the increase in the capitalization of the property company from $50,000 to $600,000 was taken by the railroad company, and certain conveyances of land were made, in order that the indebtedness of the property company to the railroad company should thereby be reduced. The shares of the Louisville Property Co. are fully paid and non-assessable, and it is believed that they are reasonably worth their par value, if not more

Earnings.—In the earnings for the half-year ending Dec. 31 reported last week (page 337) the company includes in the item of "total charges against income" the sum of $984,430 expended for additions and betterments in 1907, against $836,122 in 1906.—V. 86, p. 337, 285.

Low Fare Ry., Cleveland.—Unfavorable Decision.—The Supreme Court of Ohio on Feb. 4 affirmed the decision of the lower courts holding invalid the ordinance of April 27 1907 granting the company a franchise over the Central and Quincy avenues S. E. route. Compare V. 85, p. 160.

Manchester (N. H.) & Derry Street Ry.—Guaranteed Bonds Sold.—This company, which owns an electric railway extending from Goffs Falls to Derry, N. H., about 8 1-3 miles, has made a first mortgage to the American Trust Co. of Boston as trustee to secure an issue of $500,000 first mortgage 20-year 5% gold bonds, of which $125,000 have been sold at private sale to one investor. They are guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Manchester Traction, Light & Power Co., the owner of the entire $125,000 capital stock.

Bonds dated Dec. 2 1907, due Dec. 1 1927. Interest payable June and December at office of trustee. Of the issue, $375,000 is reserved for additions and improvements. Company was incorporated Sept. 19 1906 under New Hampshire laws as Derry & Goffs Falls Street Ry. Co. Name changed as now Feb. 16 1907. President, Harold L. Maritime Coal Railway & Power Co.—Acquisition.—This company, recently purchased certain property of the Canada Coal & Railway Co., including the Joggins Ry., which extends from Maccan to Joggins, 12 miles.

The "Engineering & Mining Journal" of Dec. 21 said:

At a special general meeting held in Montreal Dec. 7 for the purpose of ratifying a new bond issue, David Mitchell, General Manager of the Maritime Coal, Ry. & Power Co., stated that development work in the collieries was being rapidly pushed. At the colliery at Chignecto the main shaft had been sunk a further distance of 500 feet, at which point levels will be opened to work a 6-foot seam of first-class coal. The new slope on the property taken over from the Canada Coal & Ry. Co. is down 700 feet and about 60 tons of coal per day are being raised. The slope will be driven a distance of 1,700 feet and levels run.

Maryland & Pennsylvania RR.—Report.—Cal. year 1907:

| Cal. Year | Gross Earns. | Net Income. | Int. on 1st M. Bds. | Int. on Incomes. | Misc. Deducs. | Balance, Surplus. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1907 | $385,654 | $133,487 | $46,002 | $36,000 | $1,829 | $49,655 |
| 1906 | 354,354 | 116,857 | 46,002 | 36,000 | 1,099 | 33,755 |

From the above surplus of $49,655 in 1907 were deducted the following items, viz.: Betterments, $26,704; settlement of old case, $1,210; payment on account of equipment trust, $5,000, and depreciation of equipment, $5,634; leaving balance, surplus, of $11,107. Total surplus Dec. 31 1907, as per balance sheet, $44,188.—V. 84, p. 390.

Missouri Kansas & Texas Ry.—Decision on Texas Intangible Tax Law.—Judge Nash in the Fourteenth District Court at Dallas, Tex., on Feb. 1 decided that the Act of the Thirtieth Legislature authorizing the State Tax Board to fix the intangible assets of corporations at their full market value is valid.

In order, however, to equalize the tax on the intangible with that on the tangible property, it is held the company should not be compelled to pay taxes on its intangible property in Dallas County above 66 2-3% of its full real value ($1,169,300) as fixed by the State Tax Board.—V. 86, p. 52.

Mohawk Valley Co.—Rumors.—Reports have long been current that this company, which is controlled by the Andrews-New York Central syndicate, contemplated the ultimate acquisition of the International Traction Co. of Buffalo. The "Utica Herald" of Jan. 16 said:

It is now practically certain that the Mohawk Valley Co., which is in reality the Andrews-Vanderbilt trolley syndicate, is making negotiations for the taking over of the International Ry. Co. of Buffalo to add to its Central New York system of trolley lines. It is believed that the negotiations are well under way, and that they will be concluded this year. The following directors were elected at the meeting of the Mohawk Valley Co. this noon: Horace E. Andrews, John Carstensen, Albert H. Harris, Walter N. Kernan, E. V. W. Rossiter, William C. Brown, W. K. Vanderbilt Jr.—V. 83, p. 156.

Newport & Fall River Street Ry.—Bonds Offered.—Perry, Coffin & Burr, Boston, are offering at 91 and interest a block of the consolidated mortgage 4½% gold bonds, dated 1904 and due July 1 1954. A circular says:

The property is leased for 99 years from July 1 1901 to the Old Colony Street Ry. Co. (the operating company south of Boston of the Massachusetts Electric Companies), the lessee guaranteeing payment of interest on the Newport & Fall River Company's bonds and 6% dividends on its stock. The bonds offered are part of a total authorized issue of $1,000,000, of which $477,000 are now issued; $354,000 are reserved to retire $353,500 of previous issues now outstanding; and $169,000 are held in escrow to pay not to exceed one-half of the cost of further additions to the property. New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—Quarterly.—For 3 and 6 months ending Dec. 31 earnings were:

| Three Months. | Gross Earnings. | Net Earnings. | Other Income. | Fixed Charges & Taxes. | Balance, Surplus. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1907 | $14,130,614 | $3,895,750 | $1,383,133 | $4,628,560 | $650,323 |
| 1906 | 14,027,309 | 5,050,309 | 540,289 | 3,745,930 | 1,844,668 |
| 6 Months— | | | | | |
| 1907 | $29,511,113 | $9,100,344 | $4,472,476 | $9,346,795 | $4,226,024 |
| 1906 | 28,326,928 | 10,422,355 | 1,122,268 | 6,993,615 | 4,551,008 |

Dividends paid for the six months in 1907 (4%) as reported by the company on an average of $109,483,500 stock call for $4,379,340, leaving a deficit for the period of $153,315. The dividend for the quarter ending on the date named (2%), if assumed to be paid on the same amount of stock, would require a disbursement of $2,189,670. The balance sheet of Dec. 31 1907 shows $121,878,100 stock issued, but of this $19,075,615 was held in the treasury of the company or its controlled properties, leaving apparently $102,802,485 outstanding in the hands of the public. The greater part, at least, of the dividends paid on treasury stock is presumably returned to the company, forming part of the item of "other income."

New York Ontario & Western Ry.—Dividend Always Annual.—There has been no change in the dividend period of this company, annual distributions having taken place in July of each year following the initial payment of 3% made in January 1905 from the earnings theretofore accumulated. In July 1905 the dividend was 1½% and in July 1906 and July 1907 each 2%. No further dividend has been or is likely to be distributed before July 1908, the words "1% semi-annually," which slipped into the last issue of our supplement, having been due to momentary aberration on the part of one who revised but did not prepare the copy.—V. 86, p. 229.

North Jacksonville (Fla.) Texas & Pacific Ry.—Annual Interest Payment on Income Bonds Reduced from 5% to 3½%.—In view of the uncertainty surrounding railroad earnings, the directors yesterday declared a dividend of only 3½% on the second income bonds out of the surplus earnings of the late calendar year, payable March 1, contrasting with 5% yearly from 1902 to 1907, both inclusive, 4% in 1901 and 1½% in 1900.

Of the $24,631,770 second incomes, $23,668,000 are owned by the St. Louis Iron Mt. & Southern Ry., and pledged as part security for its "unifying and refunding" mtgs. dated 1889 (V. 78, p. 1224). V. 84, p. 1489.

Toledo & Chicago Interurban Ry.—Receivership.—Judge Heaton in the Circuit Court at Ft. Wayne on Feb. 1, on application of creditors, appointed James D. Mortimer receiver of this road, in operation at last accounts from Ft. Wayne, Ind., to Garrett, Avilla, Kendallville, and from Garrett to Auburn and Waterloo, 40 miles.

Total projected road, 59 miles. Also controls the Kendallville & Goshen Traction Co., under construction between Kendallville, Ligonier, Goshen, Albion and Rome City, about 30 miles. Bonds authorized and reported to be issued, $1,250,000 25 year first 5s (one account says $460,000 only have been issued), due June 1 1930. Trust Co. of America, New York, trustee. Stock, $1,250,000. About $70,060, it is stated, is due for materials and taxes and judgments have been taken on some small claims. It is expected to raise money to complete the road. A. B. Shepard of Cleveland, O., is President.

Twin City Rapid Transit Co.—Sale of Bonds.—The company recently sold to William A. Read & Co., New York, $1,000,000 of the joint 5% consolidated bonds of the Minneapolis Street Ry. Co. and the St. Paul City Ry. Co., due 1928.

The proceeds will reimburse the company for improvements made on its property, addition to power house, &c. This makes $7,944,000 of the issue now outstanding.—V. 86, p. 287.

United Railways & Electric Co., Baltimore.—New Voting Trust Agreement.—As the existing agreement for deposit of the stock will expire Feb. 25 1908, Alex. Brown, H. Crawford Black and F. A. Furst have been requested by the holders of a large amount of stock to act as trustees under a new agreement to continue in force until May 1911. By that date it is expected that the recently adopted financial plan, coupled with the policy of the present management, will have established the value of the stock. An advertisement dated Feb. 12 says:

The new agreement (which is open to all consenting stockholders) contains a provision similar to that in the original agreement, to wit: That the stock deposited cannot be sold without the consent of the holders of 75%, thereof and then only upon terms that will secure the same return for all of the stock held by the trustees. Stockholders may become parties to the agreement by executing and delivering the same to the Fidelity Trust Co. of Baltimore, Md., and receiving therefor certificates, duly indorsed, with the said trust company on or prior to Feb. 29 1908.

The shareholders, it is stated, should sign the agreement promptly.—V. 85, p. 1463.

Wabash RR.—Typographical Error.—Through some mischance to the type the callprice of the equipment 4½s, Series C, correctly stated in earlier issues, appears in the last edition of the "Railway and Industrial" Section as 110. The equipment agreement states that the bonds are redeemable at 101, as does also the offering of Lee, Higginson, & Co., in V. 82, p. 1498.—V. 86, p. 170, 53.

Washington Baltimore & Annapolis Electric Ry.—New Line in Operation.—The line between Washington, D. C., and Annapolis, Md., was put into operation on Feb. 7. The section between Baltimore and Naval Academy Junction will be ready for operation in about a month. The round trip fare between Baltimore and Washington, it is announced, will be $1 25; single trip, 75 cents.—V. 85, p. 1578.

West End Street Ry., Boston.—Bonds Sold.—The company has sold $700,000 4½% 15-year bonds, dated Jan. 1 1908 and maturing in 1923, to a syndicate composed of Parkinson & Burr, Blake Bros. & Co. and E. H. Rollins & Sons. There were thirteen different bidders for the bonds, of whom eight bid for the entire lot.—V. 86, p. 287, 109.

INDUSTRIAL, GAS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

American Can Co.—Renewal of Large Contract.—In connection with the annual report published last week (p. 336) it is of interest to note that the company has secured a renewal for five years from Dec. 31 last of the 5-year contract which expired on that date with the California Fruit Canners' Association, under which, it is stated, about 50 to 60 million cans per year will be supplied to the latter. Operation of the Newcastle, Pa., plant (V. 85, p. 656) was to have been begun about Feb. 3.

Acquisitions.—It was arranged in December last to acquire the United Can Co. of San Francisco, which supplied a large part of the Pacific coast trade, the consideration being variously reported as $500,000 and $1,000,000. Vice-Chancellor Stevens on Oct. 8 1907 refused to grant an injunction to restrain the sale to the American Can Co. of the National Canning & Manufacturing Co. of Baltimore.—V. 86, p. 336.

American Ice Securities Co.—Proceedings by Attorney-General.—Governor Hughes on Feb. 11 granted to Attorney-General Jackson permission to act in place of District Attorney Jerome in submitting to the Grand Jury evidence designed to support the charge of violation of the State Anti-Trust laws. The District Attorney declined to submit the evidence. Former Assistant James W. Osborne will act as Special Deputy Attorney-General in charge of the proceedings. Justice Leventritt of the Supreme Court has granted the Attorney-General permission, on payment of costs, to discontinue the civil action begun about two years ago by former Attorney-General Mayer to annul the charter of the American Ice Co. Mr. Jackson contemplates the commencement of a new suit. Compare V. 86, p. 110; V. 85, p. 602.

American Steel Foundries.—Plan Temporarily Enjoined.—Meeting Adjourned to March 14.—Vice-Chancellor Howell at Newark on Feb. 7, on application of David Strauss, who holds 973 shares of preferred stock, granted an order to show cause, returnable Feb. 10, why the proposed financial plan (V. 86, p. 170) should not be enjoined, and restraining the vote of the stockholders thereon, which was to have taken place on Feb. 8. On the return of the order the rule to show cause was continued for two weeks and the temporary restraining order continued pending the return of the rule. The management has therefore postponed the special stockholders' meeting to act on the plan until March 14.

"The complainant alleges that if the proposed plan is carried into effect it will result in the appropriation of the property of the holders of preferred stock to the payment of their own claims against the company for accumulated dividends and further that "to the extent that the said surplus is applied to the reduction of the cost of property, the practical effect thereof will be an appropriation of a part of the property of your orator and such other holders of the preferred stock to the increase of the value of the equity of the present holders of the common stock in the property and assets of the company."—V. 86, p. 339, 170.

American Strawboard Co.—Report.—The net profits for the year ending Dec. 31 1907 were $462,304, comparing with $395,526 in 1906. Compare annual report for 1906, V. 84, p. 692.—V. 86, p. 231.

American (Bell) Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Report.—For calendar years:

—V. 86, p. 171.

American Window Glass Machine Co.—Union Declared Illegal.—Judge Phillips in the Common Pleas Court of Cuyahoga County late last month held that the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America is an illegal organization, as being in restraint of trade, and ordered its dissolution.

The action was brought by the flatteners and cutters, members of the union. The Court held that the by-laws contained a number of provisions against the public interest some reaching beyond the membership of the organization and interfering with fundamental rights. Among these are the prohibiting of others from learning the trade, the limiting of work in plants where machinery is used, and many provisions interfering with the industrial freedom of members.—V. 85, p. 923.

American Writing Paper Co.—Reduction of Stock Authorized.—The shareholders on Feb. 11 adopted the proposition to reduce the capital stock from $25,000,000 to $22,000,000, through reduction of the common stock to $9,500,000, by canceling $2,000,000 owned by the company and rescinding the right to put out $1,000,000 that has never been issued. Compare V. 86, p. 171.

Baldwin Locomotive Works, Philadelphia.—Reduction of Force.—Owing to the small amount of orders received in recent weeks, the company has further reduced its working force to about 9,000, contrasting with 15,800 Jan. 1 1908 and 18,000 last October.—V. 86, p. 231.

Brooklyn Ferry Co.—Receiver's Certificates.—Justice Maddox in the Supreme Court on Feb. 7 authorized receiver Joseph J. O'Donohue to issue $35,379 6% receiver's certificates.—V. 85, p. 1464.

Neuhaus & Co., Houston, Tex., have recently been offering for sale $30,000 5% first mortgage gold bonds, issued to reimburse the company in part for expenditures aggregating $40,000 made for improvements and extensions since the first block of bonds was issued. The company values its property at about $1,250,000. It is capitalized at $600,000, of which $100,000 is preferred and $500,000 is common stock. Indianapolis Gas Co.—50-Cent Gas Ordinance Invalid.—An injunction has been issued by the Federal Court enjoining the enforcement of the 50-cent gas ordinance passed in Nov. 1904 on the ground that it impairs the contract between the company and the city dated June 28 1899. The decision does not affect the 60-cent gas law passed Feb. 1907. Compare V. 84, p. 576.

International Mercantile Marine Co.—Agreement Reached—Passenger Rates Advanced.—Under a three years' agreement entered into by the leading trans-Atlantic steamship lines late last week, passenger rates were advanced on Feb. 10 about $5 above the point at which they stood before the rate war began last August (compare V. 85, p. 603, 724, 656, 603). Rebates on first and second-class return tickets and special winter rates (except via the Canadian lines) were also abolished. The parties to the contract, it is understood, are:

Kelly Coal Co., Vermillion County, Ill.—Default—Lease.—A press dispatch from Danville, Ill., on Jan. 27 said:

The mines of the Kelly Coal Co. in Indiana and Illinois, which have been operated for a long time by the Shirkies, John Dering and W. W. Hammond, and which are worth about $3,000,000, have passed back to the Kelly heirs. The consideration has not been made public. The Kelly Coal Co. took over the mines about a year ago. For the last six months the company has been unable to meet interest charges and for this reason it decided to allow the mines to revert to the heirs of the late Michael Kelly. The company, however, has made a contract with the heirs whereby it will continue to operate the mines. The contract specifies that the lease shall be made from month to month. Compare V. 84, p. 806.

Long Acre Electric Light & Power Co., New York City.—New Securities Desired for Projected Extensions.—This company, of whose $50,000 common stock (par of shares $100), $49,000 is held by George E. Bouchie as trustee, representing, it is understood, the Manhattan Transit Co. (V. 83, p. 894), has applied to the Public Service Commission for authority (1) to create an issue of $10,000,000 7% non-cumulative and non-voting preferred stock; and (2) to make a mortgage securing not exceeding $50,000,000 6% sinking fund bonds, subject to call at 110 and interest at any time at option of company. It is not proposed to put out more than $12,000,000 of these bonds in the near future.

The new stock and bonds are to be used for retiring the present bonds ($600,000; V. 84, p. 511), acquiring property on which to erect power-houses and sub-stations, constructing power-houses and sub-stations, &c. The company has a small plant in operation at 47th St. and 2d Ave., and some time ago contracted with the American & British Mfg. Co., Providence, R. I., for the principal equipment for a large power plant, but the construction of the plant has thus far been held in abeyance. Edgar Van Etten is President, John C. Sheehan Vice-President and W. W. Walters Secretary and Treasurer. These men hold 4 shares. The other shareholders are: William Harris, 3 shares; Henry B. Harris, 1 share; George E. Bouchie, trustee, 490 shares; William H. Lamprecht, 1 share; G. Tracy Rogers, 1 share; a total of 500 shares.

The Manhattan Transit Co. controls the New York & Brooklyn RR. Co. (V. 76, p. 48; V. 75, p. 1147), which holds a franchise for a tunnel under the East River to Brooklyn, but little or nothing beyond possibly the purchase of some real estate has ever been done by the tunnel company. —V. 85, p. 472

Milwaukee (Wis.) Independent Telephone Co.—Franchise Held Invalid.—The Supreme Court of Wisconsin in the case brought by the State to oust the company from the use of the streets recently held that the ordinance of November last (V. 83, p. 1415), under which the company claimed the right to occupy the streets, is invalid because the city lacked the power to grant the same.

The Court holds that the rights which the city undertook to grant pertain to a class of powers not public in their nature and which are not possessed by persons generally, and that such powers can be exercised only under authority from the State.—V. 84, p. 1056.

(The) Moran Co., Shipbuilders, Seattle, Wash.—Officers, &c.—James A. Moore of Seattle was recently elected a director and President to fill the unexpired term of George H. Higbee, resigned. Mr. A. Schubach of Seattle was elected trustee. The full board of trustees is:

New Haven (Conn.) Water Co.—Purchase.—The company has acquired control of the Milford Water Co. through purchase at $11 per share (par $25) of 4,584 shares of capital stock out of 6,000 outstanding. The same terms are offered the minority interest. The $100,000 5% bonds of the Milford company have been assumed by the New Haven Water Co.

The Milford company was organized in 1892 and in 1898 finished its plant, its source of supply being Beaver Brook, Milford. No financial issue as yet to cover purchase and nothing yet arranged. Of old Milford board, three resigned out of five and present directors are Eli Whitney, James English, George D. Watrous, George M. Gunn and A. S. Barnes. The first three are New Haven Water Co. representatives. Eli Whitney, Pres. and Treas.; David Daggett, Sec.—V. 79, p. 2460.

New York & New Jersey Telephone Co.—New Treasurer.—Acting Treasurer A. E. Gurnee has been elected Treasurer to succeed Henry Sanger Snow, who resigned, his personal finances being involved.

The "New York Sun" of yesterday gave the following as from an authoritative source:

There has been no over-issue of stock and no misuse of the treasury stock of the company. All the stock that should be in the treasury is there intact. Our stock issues are safeguarded by all the precautions that the New York Stock Exchange imposes.
Mr. Snow made use of stocks which he certified as full paid for purposes of making loans. He had subscribed for this stock, but had not paid for it. By virtue of his place in the company he was able to arrange matters so that the certificates made it appear that this stock had been paid up in full. On this stock he arranged and negotiated loans. The sum involved here is about $120,000.
Some of the bonds purchased for the company by Mr. Snow for the sinking fund cannot be found where they should be. The sum of these is about $30,000. There is no irregularity in the matter of outstanding bonds.
It is impossible to say what action will be taken in the case after the audit which is now going on has been completed.—V. 84, p. 1486.

North American Portland Cement Co.—"Association of Licensed Cement Manufacturers."—See that caption in V. 86, p. 287.—V. 86, p. 287.

Osceola Consolidated Mining Co.—Injunction Continued.—Judge Knappen in the United States Court at Grand Rapids, Mich., has enlarged the preliminary injunction granted to President A. S. Bigelow in April last so as to prohibit the company from holding its annual or any special meeting until further order of the Court.

This prevents the Calumet & Hecla from voting its stock in the Osceola company, and the injunction, it is commonly supposed, will remain in effect until the entire controversy is settled. Mr. Bigelow claims that the Calumet company owns 26,000 shares of the Osceola, sufficient to give it control. Compare V. 84, p. 1056.—V. 86, p. 173.

Pocahontas Consolidated Collieries Co.—Small Shareholders of Old Company Dissatisfied.—Regarding the suit brought last week at Lynchburg, Va., by minority Philadelphia shareholders in the former Pocahontas Collieries Co., a statement made in the name of Isaac T. Mann, President of the Pocahontas Consolidated Collieries Co., says in substance:

The company was formed by a merger July 1 1907 of the Pocahontas Collieries Co. with and under the name of the Pocahontas Consolidated Collieries Co. Incorporated with $2,800,000 preferred stock and $4,500,000 common stock and an authorized bond issue of $20,000,000, of which $4,000,000 bonds have now been issued. A small minority of the preferred stockholders of the Pocahontas Collieries Co. did not exercise their privilege to exchange their stock for bonds, which were offered and accepted in this merger by all the other stockholders. Of this minority, 214 shares, being $21,400 in amount, have filed a bill asking the court to appraise the value of their securities; or, failing to get this relief, in the alternative, to appoint a receiver for the company. Such an appraisement is provided for under the statute of Virginia, and can in no way disturb or injure the securities or credit of the company.
There is no question involved as to the financial condition or standing of the Pocahontas Consolidated Collieries Co., Inc., as it has no debts that are due, has paid all current bills to Dec. 31 1907, and paid its bond interest and preferred stock dividend on Jan. 1 1908, and in addition recently paid a dividend of 6% per annum on its common stock, and is in a stronger financial condition to-day than at the date of the merger. The company is doing an active and prosperous business. Its coal is sold through Messrs. Castner, Curran & Bullitt of Philadelphia, and its output of coke is handled by the Pocahontas Coke Co., Inc., of Bluefield W. Va.—V. 84, p. 1311, 1000.

Pittsburgh Coal Co.—Decision Regarding Terms of Mortgage.—Judge John D. Shafer in Common Pleas Court No. 2 at Pittsburgh on Dec. 14, in actions brought by the company to construe the terms of the "first and collateral" trust mortgage of 1904, under which the Union Trust Co. of Pittsburgh is trustee, held:

1. That $794,000 preferred and $555,800 common stock of the Coal Company held by the trustee should be returned, the trust having expired.
2. That $77,121 paid by the Coal Company to the trustee, representing the payment at the rate of 5 cents a ton on coal mined from the leased properties of the Shaw and Midland Coal companies cannot be recovered, but that the trust company can not compel further payments on these leased properties into the sinking fund, the mortgage not requiring such payments to be made. The leases themselves, it is stated, provide that they must not at any time be given as security for any purpose under penalty of forfeiture.—V. 85, p. 1466, 603.

Prescott (Ariz.) Electric Co.—Now Controlled by American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—See that company in V. 85, p. 1398.—V. 78, p. 1227.

Reports submitted show the Society to be in a prosperous condition. The loans for 1907 exceeded $10,000,000, the average loan made being $37 46. Officers re-elected:

Trustees (whose terms expired)—Otto T. Bannard, James Speyer, Mortimer L. Schiff, William Sloane and J. Kennedy Tod.
Officers.—James Speyer, Pres.; Frank Tucker, Vice-Pres.; Mortimer L. Schiff, Sec.; and Otto T. Bannard, Treas. Executive Committee, the officers and Robert W. de Forest, V. Everit Macy, Percy A. Rockefeller and William Sloane.

The valuable site recently acquired at 25th St. and 4th Ave. is soon to be improved by a new building, specially constructed for another loan office and for the book-keeping and supervisory office.—V. 84, p. 629.

Quincy (Copper) Mining Co.—Dividend Again Reduced.—A quarterly dividend of $1 50 (6%) per $25 share has been declared, payable March 23, comparing with $2 (8%) Dec. 26 1907 and $2 50 (10%) Sept. 25, and $4 50 paid at each of the first two quarterly distributions in 1907. Compare V. 85, p. 1406.

Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Co.—Application to Examine Books Denied.—Justice Greenbaum in the Supreme Court in this city on Feb. 6 denied the application of Moses H. Joseph and his father Frederick Joseph (owners of 1,500 and 73½ shares of stock, respectively) for leave to examine the books and papers of the company. The last named was up to Feb. 1907 Vice-President of the company, but is now President of the New York Butchers' Dressed Meat Co. (V. 85, p. 472), a rival concern. The Court says the papers fail to show any proof of waste or diversion of assets, as charged. The company objected to allowing its trade secrets, names of persons from whom meats are purchased, and to whom they are sold, to be made public.—V. 85, p. 473.

Shawinigan Water & Power Co., Montreal.—Earnings.—For calendar years 1907 and 1906:

McComas have organized as a committee to look after the interests of the stockholders. The "Baltimore Sun" of Jan. 29 said:

This protection is said to be deemed necessary in view of the report o the receivers and the suit of the Decatur Car Wheel & Mfg. Co. to enforce an alleged liability on behalf of the preferred stockholders to pay the difference between the purchase price of their stock and its par value, and also the claim made for the full value of that part of the common stock received as a bonus with the preferred stock.—V. 85, p. 1146.

The receivers, it is stated, will surrender the management to the trustees on Feb. 20. Judge O. R. Hundley also on Feb. 4 named J. W. McQueen W. M. Drennen and Geo. Shirley, all of Birmingham, as appraisers, to pass upon the value of the properties.

Spanish-American Iron Co.—Valuation of Ore Property.—The "Philadelphia Press" of Feb. 5 had the following, which we understand to be authoritative:

Charles M. Schwab, who has just returned from Cuba, says that the Pennsylvania Steel Co.'s ore property in Cuba, known as the Spanish-American Iron Co., is worth $250,000,000. Compare V. 85, p. 867, 350, 288.

No bonds or mortgage outstanding. President, W. H. Hart; Secretary and Treasurer, L. H. Pease. Company incorporated in Connecticut in 1852. Compare V. 83, p. 100.

Susquehanna Iron & Steel Co.—Liquidation.—The "Philadelphia Financial Bulletin" of Philadelphia on Jan. 25 said:

C. C. Kauffman, one of the receivers, said yesterday that only about 50% of the creditors' claims could be paid, leaving nothing for the holders of the ($1,500,000) stock. The receivership receipts from Dec. 1 1903 to the final accounting, just presented to the court, were $6,564,712 and the expenses $6,541,618, leaving a balance of only $23,094. Of the $560,000 purchase price at the foreclosure sale some months ago, the Blake syndicate still owes $100,000. (The receivers' debts will of course be paid in full.—Ed. "Chronicle.")

The new company, the Susquehanna Iron Co., is capitalized at $1,000,000, all of the stock being owned equally by Michael Blake, Charles Brock, P. B. Shaw and W. W. Griest. Charles A. Porter, the founder and President of the old company, died several weeks ago.—V. 84, p. 1372.

| 1906 | 899,578 | 562,848 | (7¼%) 217,271 | 119,459 |

The above surplus, $142,287 for 1907, added to the total previous surplus of $18,058, makes a total of $160,345, of which $150,000 was transferred to reserve account, leaving a total surplus Dec. 31 1907, as per balance sheet, of $10,345.—V. 85, p. 737.

Toledo Ice & Coal Co.—Ice Companies Convicted of Violating Anti-Trust Laws.—The Supreme Court of Ohio having affirmed the conviction last June of the officials of the company, the Hygeia Ice Co. and other companies in June last of violation of the State (Valentine) anti-trust law, Judge Kinkade on Feb. 4 sentenced the managers of the two companies named and a third official to six months' imprisonment in the county jail and ordered them to pay the costs of the prosecution.

A special meeting of directors of the United Gas Improvement Co. will be held within the next three weeks to consider a plan to further finance the needs of the company by an issue of additional stock. The board met on Tuesday, but no action was taken on the subject, its consideration being left until the company's engineering department has submitted a report as to the immediate needs. United States Steel Corporation.—Business.—President Corey was quoted on Feb. 7 as saying:

—Spencer Trask & Co., investment bankers, this city, announce the publication of the 1908 edition of their booklet entitled "Statistical Tables." In accordance with their custom for the past twenty-five years, the firm will distribute free copies of it to all investors who apply for "Booklet No. 138." This year's edition is pocket size, comprising 84 pages, and is replete with information relating to American railroad and industrial companies, together with details covering practically all the securities dealt in upon the New York Stock Exchange. The pages devoted to statistics of railroad bonds show the amount outstanding, interest rate and dates, the number of miles upon which the bonds are a lien; high, low and last price in 1907 and approximate yield. Information of the same general character is given of the bonds of street railway, gas, electric-light and industrial companies and the U. S. Government. There are many pages of general statistics regarding railroads, mileage operated, capitalization, dividends and payment dates, gross and net earnings, fixed charges, the market range of stocks for 1907. The records of the street railways, electric-light and industrial companies are treated in the same comprehensive way. The booklet also contains a list of the stocks which are cumulative or non-cumulative as to dividends, amount of dividends to which preferred stocks are entitled, and whether or not they are also preferred as to assets.

—A. M. Kidder & Co., bankers, 18 Wall St., are to-day offering 800 shares of tax-exempt Chicago & Eastern Illinois RR. Co. 6% preferred stock trust certificates (issued by the St. Louis & San Francisco RR. Co.) at a price to yield 5¼%. If held to maturity, 1942 (when redeemable at 150), this stock will yield the purchaser 6½%. For the past 20 years dividends of 6% per annum have been paid uninterruptedly on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois preferred stock. The St. Louis & San Francisco RR. owns the entire $7,217,800 of outstanding common stock, against which it has issued its interest-bearing stock trust certificates. For the year ended June 30 1907 the earnings of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois were equal to 15.95% on the common stock.

—The new commercial paper brokerage house of August Schlafly & Sons has opened offices on the fourth floor of the St. Louis Third National Bank Building. The firm consists of August Schlafly, his four sons, and Lewis W. Thomson. Mr. Schlafly Sr. was formerly President of the Missouri Lincoln Trust Co. and is now President of the Union Trust & Savings Bank, East St. Louis. His son, J. Fred. Schlafly, is Assistant Cashier of the latter institution; and another son, L. A. Schlafly (both partners in the new firm), is Assistant Cashier of the Citizens' National Bank of Alton, Ill. Mr. Thomson was for three years associated with the Mercantile Trust Co. of St. Louis and afterwards with Geo. H. Burr&Co.

—The American Bank Note Co. of New York has compiled some interesting figures with reference to the printing of three bond issues recently turned out by them, namely, the Pennsylvania and New York New Haven & Hartford French loans and the New York municipal 4½% bonds, together aggregating over $100,000,000 face value. In the preparation of the three issues there were required some 25 tons of paper, 47 tons of ink, 32 miles of wire stapling, 158 miles of tape, 1,900,000 signatures and 1,580,000 seals. The bonds, if laid end to end, would form an unbroken path approximately 540 miles long.

—"Bond Offerings Indexed," edition of 1908, has been issued by Roger W. Babson of Wellesley Hills, Mass. The book includes about 4,400 railroad, traction, electric light, gas, industrial and other corporation bond issues which have been offered in whole or in part, together with the dealers offering the same, the maximum and minimum offering prices of the past year, and other information. The book is designed as a pocket directory of miscellaneous bonds, and is strongly bound in flexible leather; price $5.

—The Audit & Bond Co. of America is a new St. Louis corporation, of which J. M. Hays is President and W. L. Wilder Secretary and Treasurer—both well-known business men of that city. They have established offices in the new Third National Bank Building. The main objects of the company are to audit corporation accounts and municipal books, to promote the merging of competitive industries, to buy and sell commercial paper, and to deal in State, county and municipal bonds.

—On Feb. 1 George H. Burr & Co., bankers and dealers in commercial paper, removed their St. Louis offices from the Security Building to a spacious and newly equipped suite on the third floor of the new Third National Bank Building, corner of Broadway and Olive Street. E. C. King is the St. Louis resident manager of this firm, which has offices also in New York, Boston and Chicago.

—Millett, Roe & Hagen, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 3 Broad St., New York, and 10 Post Office Square, Boston, offer for immediate sale their award of the new issue of New York City tax-exempt 4½% bonds, due 1957, at a price which will be attractive to the purchaser.

—Thomas J. Phillips has resigned his position with the American Smelting & Refining Co. to become a partner in the banking firm of Webb & Co., 74 Broadway.

—Wm. Salomon & Co., 25 Broad St., invite proposals for the new issue of New York City 4½s.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, Feb. 14 1908.

Trade is slowly mending, but this does not alter the fact that conservatism is everywhere the dominant note in the American business world. Some mills and factories are resuming work on full time in various branches of industry. Prices in not a few instances, however, are somewhat lower. The effect of easy rates of money has been somewhat neutralized by a sharp decline in the stock market.

LARD on the spot has declined, owing to liberal receipts of live hogs, depression in the market for futures at the West, declining grain markets and increasing supplies. Trade has been dull at the decline. City 6⅞c. and Western 7.20@7.30c. Refined lard has been easier for Continent and steady for other grades. Trade has continued quiet and confined to jobbers. Refined Continent 8.10c., South America 8.85c. and Brazil, in kegs, 10.15c. Speculation in lard futures at the West has been active at declining prices. Depressing factors have been the weakness in grain, liberal receipts of hogs and the dulness of the cash trade. Packers have sold freely. Some investment buying has been noticeable of late.

DAILY CLOSING PRICES OF LARD FUTURES IN CHICAGO.

| July delivery | 7.79 | 7.65 | 7.60 | days | 7.42½ | 7.37½ |

PORK on the spot has been dull and weak, owing to depression in other provisions, larger supplies, a large hog movement and the continued dulness of trade. Mess $13 75@$14 25, clear $15@$16 25 and family $16 75@$17. Beef has been steady, as a rule, with a fair demand for small lots, largely for export. COFFEE on the spot has been quiet and steady. Rio No. 7, 6¼@6⅜c. West India growths have been steady with a moderate jobbing trade. Fair to good Cucuta 9⅜@9¾c. Speculation in future contracts has been on a small scale. Prices have moved within a narrow compass with the tone eatier in the main, owing to weakness at times in the European markets, foreign selling and liquidation by tired local holders. Local dealers and roasters have given support at times, but in the main there has been more disposition to sell than to buy.

The closing prices were as follows:

| | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| February | 6.90c. | June | 6.10c. | October | 6.25c. | |

Rosin has been quiet and easier; common to good strained $3 75.

TOBACCO.—Domestic leaf has ruled steady, but the buying of late has been on so restricted a scale that quotations are to a large extent merely nominal. The withdrawals of Sumatra, too, have fallen off noticeably. Manufacturers as a rule report no increase in the consumption of cigars, and the buying of leaf is only to fill immediate needs.

COPPER has been dull and easier; lake 13⅛@13⅝c. and electrolytic 12⅞@13⅛c. Lead has been quiet and steady at 5.75c. Spelter has been quiet and strong at 3.75@4.85c. Speculation in cotton for future delivery has continued quiet and prices have latterly declined, owing partly to the dulness of speculation, partly to stagnation and depression in Liverpool, where sales on the spot dropped on Friday to 3,000 bales, partly to a disturbed stock market and finally to scattered long liquidation attributed in part to leading New York interests. Liverpool, New Orleans, the South and Wall Street have all sold, and local traders have not failed to increase the depression by the usual tactics. A good many stop-loss orders have been reached. The Mississippi Legislature has passed a law abolishing bucket shops and closing all facilities in that State for trading in cotton futures, through private-wire houses, or otherwise, on and after June 1. This means that most of the Southern States now have laws on their statute books forbidding trading in futures. It is little wonder, then, with Southern trading so largely cut off, that the speculation here should be so quiet, though the dulness is largely due, no doubt, to the general disposition in the business world to proceed cautiously in all kinds of transactions, speculation, very naturally, by no means excepted. The report of the National Ginners' Association showing the amount of cotton ginned up to Feb. 7 to have been 10,593,000 bales, was regarded as bullish, but it had practically no effect, having been to a large extent discounted. Moreover, Liverpool advices on the day on which these figures appeared, Tuesday, were disappointing, partly owing to Egyptian and American selling there; and Ellison's figures of European mill stocks were still seen to be large, reaching a total of 1,911,000 bales, against 1,403,000 a year ago. The depressing factors enumerated had more effect than continued light receipts, both at the ports and the interior towns. Nor was any particular attention paid to the fact that the visible supply of all kinds of cotton of late has made a bullish exhibit. The receipts at the ports have shown a decrease thus far this season about treble the falling off in the exports. Nothing, however, seems to inject new life into the speculation. It is still a narrow, professional affair. Meantime, although some complaints are heard from here and there at the South of a somewhat backward season, preparations for a new crop seem to be pushed with vigor in Texas and the condition of the soil is said to be good. Spot markets have most of the time been generally reported firm, but it is clear that spinners are buying on only a very moderate scale, although some of the New England mills are reported to have resumed work on full time. To-day there was heavy liquidation both at home and abroad, with reports of larger offerings of the actual cotton by the South, and prices declined sharply. Some leading operators here were said to have sold freely, and houses with Wall Street, Southern, Western and Liverpool connections also sold. Liverpool advices were very disappointing as to prices and the spot sales there were trifling. Spinners on both sides of the water are apparently inclined to hold aloof. Spot cotton here has been quiet. Middling uplands closed at 11.35c.

BREADSTUFFS.

Prices for wheat flour have declined on most grades, owing to the continued depression in wheat quotations. Trade, however, has continued dull, buyers as a rule still holding off in the hope of securing supplies at still lower prices. There has been practically no business done for export. Reports from the large milling centres of the Northwest and the Southwest show little or no improvement in the condition of the trade, though some mills at Minneapolis reported a better inquiry at times during the week. The tone of the general market, however, continues decidedly unsatisfactory. Rye flour and corn meal have been quiet and steady.

Wheat has declined sharply, owing mainly to large Argentine shipments to Europe. In fact the movement of the Argentine crop has practically overshadowed everything else. This is very clear from the action not only of the markets of this country, but also of those of Europe. On this side of the Atlantic the fall in prices has been about four to five cents a bushel, and English and Continental markets have also declined materially. It is worthy of remark that the Argentine shipments for the week reached the unprecedented total of 7,512,000 bushels—as against a previous estimate of 6,800,000 bushels—and 5,720,000 in the previous week and 4,304,000 for the same week last year. Moreover, the export demand here has fallen off to very small proportions, the Northwestern receipts have continued liberal and winter-wheat conditions seem in the main to be hopeful, although from here and there in the belt there are complaints of a lack of snow. With Europe buying from Argentina rather than from this country, and speculation more or less disturbed by declines in the stock market, bears have been emboldened to attack quotations and with very evident success. A good many stop-loss orders have been uncovered, and liquidation of arge lines of wheat has been one of the features. There is evidently, too, a better crop outlook in India, and it is even said that some parts of that country will have wheat for export. During the last few weeks, moreover, the world's shipments have been heavy. Last week they reached an aggregate of 12,096,000 bushels, against 11,312,000 in the previous week and 10,528,000 last year. An increase in the amount on passage to Europe of some 4,000,000 bushels last week also had some effect. Less favorable Russian crop advices have practically fallen flat, although it is stated that the condition of winter wheat is either bad or very unsatisfactory in the Southwestern part of that country. The generality of crop advices, however, from different parts of the world have been favorable, and what, with the sluggishness of speculation and the practical absence of export demand, pretty much everything has seemed to favor the advocates of lower prices. To-day prices fell early on the big Argentine shipments, weak European cables and general selling, but on the decline heavy covering took place and prices rallied.

Indian corn futures have declined, owing to the fall in wheat, selling by elevator and cash interests, bearish pressure and scattered liquidation. The receipts have increased at times and the cash trade has been sluggish. At times rallies have occurred on unfavorable weather for curing the crop. Reports from many sections go to show that the condition of the corn is unusually poor. The stock of contract grade at Chicago remains small, a fact which tends to restrict short selling. But in view of the weakness of wheat and the dulness of the cash trade, there has been little disposition to buy except to cover shorts. To-day prices fell early with wheat. Liverpool was weak and there was scattered selling. Before the close reports of a better cash demand and covering caused a rally.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have declined in company with the rest of the list. There has been scattered liquidation and more or less short selling, though the trading has been relatively quiet. The principal support has come from the covering of shorts. The crop movement has been larger than expected, and the stock of contract grade at Chicago is increasing. The cash market has been dull. To-day prices fluctuated with the rest of the list, declining early and then rallying. Further liquidation occurred, but this was followed by covering of shorts.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, Feb. 14 1908.

With a large number of buyers from the South and Southwest attracted to the city by the annual excursions, the dry goods district has presented a more animated appearance during the past week than for some time. As far as more active business has been concerned, however, this has been confined almost entirely to jobbers, the primary market having continued extremely quiet. On the whole jobbers' special sales have been successful, and in many instances the eagerness with which retailers have placed orders has been surprising; but this has been due in great part to the exceptionally cheap prices named, many of the quotations being the lowest for a very long time past. It is confidently expected that the increased activity among second hands will shortly be reflected in the primary market, but at the present time the volume of new business being placed is very small. This is due to a large extent to the fact that mills are still carrying large stocks of goods awaiting shipment orders, in spite of the drastic curtailment that has taken place during the past few months. Many manufacturers are complaining of the slowness with which shipping instructions are being received, but they realize that until buyers have worked off the goods already contracted for, they are not likely to enter the market with new orders. The export demand has proved disappointing, buyers having failed as yet to be attracted to any great extent by the low figures at which goods are now being offered. Conditions in the men's wear woolen and worsted goods market continue very unsatisfactory, but in the dress goods division business has been comparatively good.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending Feb. 8 were 4,630 packages, valued at $281,958, their destination being to the points specified in the table below:

| | 1908 | | 1907 | |

| Other countries | 182 | 2,023 | 436 | 7,947 |
| Total | 4,630 | 17,170 | 1,956 | 32,202 |

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $1,230,250 in 1908, against $1,968,357 in 1907.

Heavy brown drills and sheetings have held steady, with only a very small volume of business passing, but medium and light-weight sheetings are slightly easier, with rather more inquiry at the lower figures. Many inquiries have been received from Chinese buyers for light-weight drills and sheetings, but at figures which manufacturers cannot see their way to accept. Actual export business has been very small. Bleached goods have been a little more active, buyers being influenced by the knowledge that present prices are likely to hold through the spring. Wide sheetings, sheets and pillow cases have been quiet at recent figures. Linings have been in somewhat better request, but values have again been lowered to attract business. Owing to the general apathy of buyers, napped goods are being held back and sellers are awaiting a more favorable opportunity before trying to induce any active buying movement. There has been a good jobbing trade in printed goods and ginghams, but orders at first hands are few. Print cloths have again been lowered during the week with operations still on a very small scale. Regulars are now quoted nominally at 4c. and standard gray goods at 5¼c.

WOOLEN GOODS.—Trade in men's wear woolens and worsteds has continued very dull, and on some lines lower prices are being offered to attract orders. The situation is extremely complicated and promises to become more so; yardage orders have been scarce, and a large part of the business done has been on a sample-piece-order basis. Although prices are considered favorable as a rule, buyers are more or less at sea as to what their future requirements will be, and are therefore moving cautiously. Under present conditions mills are not disposed to manufacture for stock; on the contrary, unless demand for woolens and worsteds picks up soon, further curtailment of production by mills may be expected. Prices of finest construction goods are firmly held, but sharp reductions have been made on low-grade manipulated fabrics; this has resulted in some fair-sized orders, but the aggregate is still far below normal. There has been fair absorption of men's wear worsteds, but it is quite generally recognized that sellers will have to make extra efforts to bring the season's business up to the average. Additional lines for fall have been opened, including those of a well-known worsted mill at prices which on the low grades show a reduction of 12½c. a yard from last year. In woolen and worsted dress goods trade for spring and fall has been fairly good, considering the conservative attitude of buyers. Most of the business has come from the cutting trade, which has shown considerable improvement lately, fancy woolens for spring, notably stripes, being in comparatively brisk demand. Generally speaking, piece-dyed worsteds are most popular, with striped woolens a close second in choice. A noteworthy development is the increased demand for cotton-warp dress materials, several mills making mixed fabrics being reported sold up for fall. Some re-orders for woolen goods have been received, contrary to general expectations, and have encouraged sellers of such fabrics. Only moderate interest is being shown in the coming heavy-weight season; broadcloths are mentioned as having special merit, but it is too early to make predictions as to what the demand will run to.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Imported woolen and worsted dress goods are not moving very freely, but fair filling-in orders are being constantly received. Silks and ribbons continue quiet. Linens are steady, but with little business passing. Burlaps are rather more active, but prices are unchanged.

Recommendation Made by State Comptroller Regarding Canal Bonds.—In his annual report to the Legislature, State Comptroller Martin H. Glynn emphasizes the necessity of either exempting barge canal bonds from all taxation or increasing the rate of interest on these securities. Each time the bonds have been offered at public auction it has been found necessary, owing to the lack of bidders, to purchase almost all of the amount offered with the various sinking funds of the State. It will be recalled that last year the Legislature passed an amendment to the tax law whereby savings banks, trust companies and insurance companies owning these securities are credited with 1% per annum of their holdings. See V. 84, p. 1216. This action, however, has had little effect, he says, on the sale of the bonds, and the Comptroller ventures the opinion that unless the interest rate and other features are made more attractive to investors, it will take at least twenty-five years to complete the enlarged canal.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The week opened hopefully enough, with some natural agencies pointing in the direction of industrial activity. An illustrative, exhilarating circumstance along those lines was the opening of the New York City 50-million bond sale proposals last Friday. Only think of the temerity of Comptroller Metz expecting to wring from the dry husks of our already apparently exhausted financial resources such a mass of fresh capital and to raise up such a body of buyers as the call assumed was in existence ready to supply the advertised want. Certainly if the Comptroller took a survey of Wall Street doings, or looked into the countenances of our investors, or consulted the management of our corporate enterprises, he could not have found much inducement to persevere. What short lists of doings day after day are being recorded at the Stock Exchange in what we have been wont to consider to be the best lot of securities the world had to offer without finding takers at even the beggarly prices ruling! They could not have promoted or helped forward his enterprise. And yet every feature of Mr. Metz's undertaking must be pronounced an unbounded success. The proposals were several times larger than the offerings, and the prices bid were materially higher than previous sales. Not a sign of scarcity of capital, but the best of evidences of abundance awaiting our call, coming, too, apparently from every part of the industrial world.

Here certainly is a wonderful contrast. Bank vaults flung wide open everywhere in the one case and slammed in the faces of the venturesome in the other. It becomes each individual to study the facts and see wherein the difierence lies. It is of wide import, and the explanation and demonstration is on the surface. What gives these city bonds their greater currency? Or, put the question in another form—What gives our corporate securities such bad repute and the city bonds such good repute? This at least can be said without hesitancy—that lack of capital has no concern in solving the problem of city bonds. It is the Stock Exchange security that is at fault; its value is in jeopardy, its stability is made questionable by the Washington authorities, while the city bond is as stable as the Government; it cannot be reached by the Administration. There is, to be sure, a report that the Governor is going to start a commission at Albany to amend the New York City charter. The present officials are getting too much praise for their successes.

Another feature over which there has been no little exultation the current week as affording matter of special promise has been the large foreign trade balance notable for January 1908 not only in itself but especially when compared with the corresponding month of 1907. It is a great satisfaction that this is so, and yet in forecasting the future it should not be forgotten that the increase over the previous year is mainly due not to enlarged outflow of the commodity but to an enlargement in value. This is a highly important fact when estimating the probable conditions of future months. We are on the border line, the point where our surpluses have been wholly shipped. At that point we lose such items from our trade statement, and with that loss, in case the value has been higher, the loss hereafter will be just so much the more. As to breadstuffs, the values are also getting lower abroad, while the prospects as to shipments by other rivals apparently promise to be to our disadvantage. These facts are worth considering because it is natural that too much dependence should be placed on past conditions, whereas in trade matters, when March begins we have pretty much done with them for the current season.

There is another cloud of a kind of which we had supposed we were rid of and which would not appear again within our horizon during at least the current cold weather season. It seems that mischief makers are not even yet satisfied. Our severely tried railroads are seeking to economize. Who is not? We know very few individuals or firms or corporations or factories that are not straitened and hard pressed, seeking most industriously to shorten the expense account. The body of fellows who get their bread and butter at the Government crib, they may go up with drum and fife and secure their rations whether business is poor or good; they are the only free ones; their rent days never come. It seems—at least the President, who sees things, says so—in addressing the Inter-State Commerce Commission: "I am informed that a number of railroad companies have served notice of a proposed reduction of wages on their employees." He nowhere states that they all raised wages freely several times, almost imprudently, we thought, when earnings were larger; but now that earnings are way off—what shall they do? They say, and their earnings corroborate it, we must economize or be forced into insolvency.

The President in a kind of defiant way replies, I am about to set the Inter-State Commerce Commission after you, with the Commissioner of Labor if needed, and in case it is found that the required reduction in wages is caused by misconduct in the past financial or other operations of any road, and if any road should advance as an explanation for the required economies that they are needed because of recent unfriendly legislation, the excuse will of itself serve to expose the misconduct to severer punishment. Note the expression "past financial operations." Is there not a spice of mischief in it, a threat to scare the poor, persecuted road (which in this contingency appears to be the Louisville & Nashville) about some old grievance having nothing whatever to do with the present need for economy? Likewise note that if any road should advance the explanation that the economy was needed because of recent unfriendly legislation, the excuse of itself will serve to expose the misconduct to severer criticism. Why such an opinion connected with an explanation of the situation should embarrass the plea that economy is a necessity will be hard to explain. Of course we are all aware, just as well as the President is, that such a notice that he has signed his name to and distributed among all classes of labor will not tend to peace or harmony, or righteous dealing, but will surely act much like a lighted brand thrown into a powder magazine.

The political news this week in its bearing on railroad and industrial affairs has, as already in part indicated above, been exceedingly disquieting. On Saturday of last week a bad break in prices on the Stock Exchange occurred. The reason for this was not clear at the time, especially in view of the marked success of the New York City bond sale, but it later developed that the United States Gov ernment, in the prosecution of its suit against the Union Pacific Railroad Co. to deprive it of control of the Southern Pacific, was seeking to enjoin the payment of dividends on Southern Pacific stock. An explanation appeared in the papers Sunday morning to the effect that it was not intended to enjoin the payment of dividends to individual holders of Southern Pacific shares, but only the payment on the shares held by the Union Pacific. But this latter action of course would cut off entirely the income of the Union Pacific from that source, aggregating $7,822,000 per annum. Sunday morning, too, dispatches appeared in the papers saying that the Inter-State Commerce Commission the day before had announced that information had been placed in the hands of United States District Attorneys throughout the country tending to show violations of the Inter-State Commerce Act in the granting of rebates by the Southern Pacific Co., and that orders had been issued to institute proceedings thereon against the company. It was furthermore stated that in prosecuting these cases the Federal Government intended to co-operate with the State authorities of California, who claimed to have under consideration 4,000 alleged illegal transactions on the part of the company. Computations were made to show that if the company were found guilty of all these combined charges, fines might be levied aggregating $80,000,000. This of course would make the $29,000,000 fine imposed on the Standard Oil Co. look insignificant. Tuesday it was reported that the President had spoken favorably of the movement for the physical valuation of railroads, and had referred approvingly to the letter of Professor Henry C. Adams, Statistician of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, on that subject. It was added that this was considered significant in view of the announcement made by Senator LaFollette that he proposed offering an amendment to the Aldrich Bill so as to incorporate therein the provisions of his bill on the physical valuation of railroads. Wednesday afternoon came President Roosevelt's letter to the Inter-State Commerce Commission directing that body to inquire and determine whether there was any good reason for the retrenchment in expenses by the railroads, and the reduction in the force of their employees, together with the rumors of possible reductions in wages.

We have discussed further above this letter of the President, and desire to state here only that if the President read the newspapers and kept himself informed as to current affairs, he would have no need of any inquiry as to the reason for the discharge of men by the railroads or of prospective reductions in wages. Since last October railroad traffic and railroad revenues have been falling off in a way that has never been paralleled in the history of the country. A few illustrations will suffice to indicate the extent of the falling off. The President mentions particularly the case of the Louisville & Nashville RR., but this road has an especially strong case. President Milton H. Smith made immediate reply, and the figures given by him foreclose all further discussion of the subject, as far as that particular road is concerned. In December the gross earnings of the L. & N. decreased $694,948, but expenses increased $296,440, leaving a loss but little short of a million dollars—the exact amount of decrease being $991,388. This, be it remembered, is for only one road and for only one month. Adding other income and deducting charges for taxes, interest, &c., but not including dividends, there was a deficit of $237,918. In other words, the reduction in net income was so serious that for that month the company fell $237,918 short of meeting the month's proportion of the fixed charges, leaving out of consideration altogether the question of dividends—and the L. & N. has always been a dividend-paying property. Mr. Smith might have added that for January the result was even worse, as far at least as gross earnings are concerned (no figures of net earnings being yet available), the loss in gross for that month having reached no less than $784,776, or nearly 20%.

Is a railroad management under such circumstances not to make any effort at retrenchment and economy, so as to offset in part at least such a tremendous shrinkage as this in its revenues? Would not the managers be derelict in their duty if they failed to retrench in every possible way? If they neglected to curtail their expenditures, the inevitable outcome would be bankruptcy and a receivership; and it should not be forgotten that that fate has already befallen one important system in the South, namely the Seaboard Air Line. The Southern Railway Co. has also been suffering tremendous losses, its gross earnings in December having declined $693,669 and in January $668,069. In many other parts of the country the situation is closely similar. The Rock Island lines, for instance, for December reported a decrease of $866,997 in gross and of $1,145,096 in net. But it would be wearisome to multiply these instances. We will refer to only one other case, namely the Pennsylvania RR., since that is such a representative system. For December the lines directly operated by the Pennsylvania RR. east and west of Pittsburgh fell $2,489,100 behind in gross and $1,767,500 in the net. It should be observed that the loss in gross is at the rate of nearly $30,000,000 a year and in the net at the rate of over $20,000,000 a year. The January figures, of course, are not yet available. The Baltimore & Ohio statement for that month was issued Thursday, and is of like character, recording no less than $1,188,439 decrease in gross and $987,859 decrease in net. We shall publish our compilation of the gross and net earnings of United States railroads for the month of December next week, but a preliminary statement which we have prepared shows a loss in net on 83 roads of $10,784,786. This falls very far short of covering anywhere near the aggregate railroad mileage of the country, and yet even for these 83 roads the decrease is at the rate of $130,000,000 a year, which is the equivalent of 4% on a capital of over $3,000,000,000.

If the President has any fault to find he should direct his criticisms against the shippers and producers of goods, who are curtailing their output and thus making diminished use of the facilities of the roads. But these manufacturers and producers also have good grounds for their action. They are curtailing output because there is a lessened demand for their goods, and the chief reason why there is a lessened demand is that, on account of Governmental and legislative attacks on corporate activity, and on wealth and capital, enterprise has come to a halt and a blighting paralysis is spreading all over our industrial organism. There can be no enduring recovery until the causes responsible for this state of things shall have been removed. This week there has been a budget of news from various different sources showing very conclusively how general is the depression. In copper, which early last summer, long before the panic in October, gave premonitions of the coming depression, there has been a further sharp drop in price—to 12½ cents. The "Boston News Bureau" is authority for the statement that private advices from Butte state that conditions in that city are so bad that soup kitchens have been started there by the Salvation Army and Senator William A. Clark to feed the army of unemployed. President Mellen of the New Haven road is also quoted by the "Boston News Bureau" as saying that traffic on his lines continues to show a heavy decrease in comparison with a year ago—that conditions have not bettered in any way, though he expresses the belief that the existing depression will not be greatly prolonged. President Thomas of the Lehigh Valley in a dispatch from Philadelphia is credited as having said that he did not see any improvement in general trade, and that prospects for the immediate future did not appear satisfactory. President Wood of the American Woolen Co., according to news dispatches, has stated that the company is having the hardest season it has had since it was formed. Never before has it had so little machinery running as to-day, 65% of the machinery in the company's mills being idle. The most that could be said, he is reported to have remarked, was that there has been a slight improvement in conditions and that the management was feeling hopeful. On the other hand, President Barton of the Western Electric Co. is stated to have said that the present volume of orders was small and that the company could not see anything in the immediate future to lead it to expect any substantial increase. Its chief effort now was to adjust expenses to the volume of business. We may add that that is just what the railroads are trying to do, namely attempting "to adjust expenses to the volume of business." It is evident from all these accounts that industrial paralysis is now extreme. It is hardly possible that such an extraordinary condition can last indefinitely. The depression continues simply because the activities of the politicians prevent revival. The moment the game of politics ceases, the recovery will begin. But we do not see how it can come any sooner.

More or less political unrest has been manifested this week at all the Continental centres regarding the situation in the Balkans and in Macedonia, and this disquieting condition has been reflected on the bourses, particularly at St. Petersburg. The trouble seems to have originated in a misunderstanding between the Russian and the Austrian governments concerning Austria's plans for the construction of the Vienna-Salonica-Athens railroad. These differences appeared to have been settled through explanations by the representative of the Austrian Government when a new cause for unrest arose from the uncertainty regarding the attitude of Germany and of Italy in the matter of that portion of the railroad concession which Austria seeks to obtain from Turkey. A member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies has interpellated the Government as to what steps have been taken for the protection of Italy's interests; the reply to the inquiry seems to be somewhat anxiously awaited at the Continental centres.

The annual report of the Bank of France, which was submitted at the end of January, showed among other matters of general interest the fact that the profits of the Bank in 1907 were the largest for thirty years, and they were due to the industrial and commercial prosperity of the country, to which the Bank had largely contributed. It is further noted that of the 5-franc notes which were issued during the Franco-Prussian War, when coin had almost disappeared from circulation, about $680,000 are still outstanding, and they have probably either been destroyed or are preserved as curiosities. The amount of the relief which was extended by the Bank of France, through the Bank of England, to enable the latter to respond to our strained situation during the late crisis is stated at 16 million dollars; the Bank of France at the same time placed no impediment on the exportation of gold direct to New York through the discount of French trade bills.

Referring to conditions in Argentina, we have heretofore noted that the area of wheat sown last season was the largest on record, and the yield was excellent; therefore the surplus of the grain for export is exceptionally large. The wool clip and the linseed crop were good, as also will be that of maize. The balance of trade will therefore be largely in favor of Argentina this year, but the net balance will be affected by heavy expenditures.

The rapid rise in exchange rates this week did not seem to be regarded as at all indicative of the imminence of exports of gold to Europe, for it was well understood that the advance was due to efforts to cover oversold bills, and that when this had been effected rates would decline. Unless there should be the development of tension on the Continent as the result of an unfavorable change in the European political situation, it seems unlikely that there will be exports of gold hence in the near future. All the great banks are accumulating the metal and unusually large stocks are held in London and at Paris, while the Reischsbank is increasing its gold reserve. Therefore gold is apparently not needed at present.

The immigration statement for the month of January 1908, issued at Washington on Monday, and the monthly returns of departing passengers compiled by the Trans-Atlantic Conference of Steamship Companies, when considered together, reveal the same anomalous situation as prevailed in December 1907—that is, a greater emigration from the United States than immigration into it. We say an anomalous situation, which it surely is; and yet it is a situation for which it is not difficult to find an explanation. In fact, it is almost self-explanatory. It is only a short time since all discussion of the subject of immigration focused around the idea that, there being a lack of laboring force in many sections of the country, efforts should be made to induce an increasing influx of desirable immigrants to supply the deficiency. It had been pointed out that farmers needed help, and that in many factories, particularly at the South, it was impossible to utilize all of the equipment, owing to a lack of hands to man it. The urgency of the need led to the adoption of methods calculated to induce greater immigration and to properly distribute it in those sections most in need of it.

What a change there has been from that situation of need for laborers to the status of affairs the last few months is obvious. We hear no urgent call for more help now; on the contrary, the cataclysm of last fall threw thousands out of employment, and, while some have since been re-employed, the number still idle is very great. This decided check in the activity of our industries had no immediate effect on the tide of immigration. It could not. From Austria-Hungary, Italy, Russia and other European countries aliens were on the way hitherward in great numbers before the adverse developments of the fall occurred; their arrival in October and early November added largely to the year's total. But in late November the inward tide slackened perceptibly; December witnessed a further considerable decline in the arrivals day by day, and in January the influx of immigrant aliens was of abnormally small proportions—27,220 through all ports of entry for the full month. An aggregate comparing with 54,417 in January 1907 and 51,127 in 1906.

In the meantime the tide of emigration which had been above the record of previous years since late in September became especially so when compared with immigration. After the middle of November the tide had turned directly about, departures steadily exceeding the arrivals. Furthermore, in the month of December the number of aliens leaving these shores appreciably exceeded the aggregate that came in, and in January the efflux reached a total of 59,700 steerage passengers, or over double the number arriving. To indicate how abnormal the last-named total is, it is merely necessary to state that in January 1907 the number of outgoing steerage passengers was only 17,160. Moreover, the indications, based upon the in-and-out movement up to date, is that the arrivals during February will not only give a total decidedly less than the month of last year, but will be exceeded by the emigration to an even greater extent than was the case in January. And it is altogether probable, and even at that not an unsatisfactory outlook under existing conditions, that the outward movement of aliens will continue heavy for some time yet, or at least until our industries show signs of sustained revival. It is a question now whether as a result of striking a balance between immigration and emigration in the calendar year 1908 the country in number will be more than a nominal gainer.

As adding force to the assumption that immigration will, in the immediate future, be upon a restricted scale, we have only to turn to the action taken by foreign governments for confirmation of that view. For example, on Thursday, according to cable advices from Rome, the Emigration Bureau of the Italian Government issued a circular embodying reports from its consuls at New York, San Francisco and other American cities, pointing out the conditions here and discouraging emigration hither. The cable further states that, in the event this circular is unheeded, the Government may possibly take measures to prevent emigration.

The feature of the market for money this week was the fractionally firmer rates for time loans, which was attributed to some discrimination by banks and other lenders against the collateral that was offered. There was a little wider range in the rates for call money; the higher rate recorded was due in part to some delay in the return to the market of funds that accompanied bids for the New York City bonds. At the same time this advance in the rate enabled trust companies to loan those of their balances that were held in banks at some slight advantage, and the offering of such balances caused the lower rate to be recorded; after the middle of the week, the tone was steady. One feature of the commercial paper market was the more liberal offering of mill notes, made by Eastern and other manufacturers of textile goods. When normal conditions of the market prevail, such paper is eagerly sought, and much of it is discounted at exceptionally low rates by Boston and other New England banks, chiefly because it is well secured by the endorsements of the makers and of the jobbers or agents through whose hands it passes. This season, inasmuch as more than the usual amount of this paper has been made, and as the supply is somewhat in excess of the demand, rates therefor are quoted that do not materially differ from those on a high grade of bills receivable or on choice single-name paper, though, in some cases, buyers have accepted a slightly lower rate. The demand thus far has been principally confined to the East, New York institutions having bought to only a limited extent; should the local inquiry increase, it is thought that the volume of offerings would soon be absorbed and lower or more satisfactory rates to the maker would rule.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 2¼% and at 1½%, averaging about 1¾%; banks loaned at 1½% and trust companies at 2% as the minimum. On Monday loans were at 2% and at 1½% with the bulk of the business at 1¾. On Tuesday transactions were at 2% and at 1¾% with the majority at 2%. On Wednesday loans were at 2¼% and at 1½% with the bulk of the business at 2%. On Thursday transactions were at 2% and at 1½% with the majority at 1¾%. On Friday loans were at 2¼% and at 1½% with the bulk of the business at 2%. Time contracts on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were quoted at 4@4¼% for sixty and 4½% for ninety days, 4½@4¾% for four and 4¾@5% for five to six months; the business was largest for the longer maturities. Commercial paper was in good request at 4½@5% for mill paper and for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 5@5½% for prime and 5½@6% for good four to six months' single names.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 4%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 3½@3⅝%. The open market rate at Paris is 2⅜% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 4⅜@4½%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England gained £706,642 bullion during the week and held £38,741,132 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due largely to receipts from the interior of Great Britain, imports exceeding exports to only a moderate extent. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £698,000 (of which £350,000 from Egypt, £25,000 from Constantinople and £323,000 bar gold bought); exports , £506,000 (of which £108,000 to Paris and £398,000 to South America), and receipts of £515,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was active and strong early in the week, and an advance of one cent per pound sterling, compared with Friday of last week, was recorded by Tuesday; thereafter there were some recessions, but the tone was generally firm. The sharp rise in exchange rates above noted was caused by an urgent demand to cover speculative sales of bills that had been effected in the previous week in the expectation that there would be a large amount of exchange created as the result of the placing abroad of a considerable portion of the New York City 4½% bonds that were offered last week; such expectations were not realized, for the syndicate of bankers who were supposed to be operating for foreign account, and who bid for the bonds in an entire block, did not secure allotments thereof, by reason of their low bid. The bulk of the awards was made to bidders who presumedly had no foreign connections, and therefore would seek a domestic market for their allotments. The rise in exchange was further influenced by a demand to remit for securities that had been sold for European account because of the unsettled condition of our market. There was a meagre supply of bankers' bills when covering of short contracts began, and this fact contributed to the rapid rise. Moreover, there was no incentive for the drawing of finance bills, owing to the small demand for loans for the periods during which such bills could be advantageously employed. Furthermore, offerings of commercial acceptances decreased in volume, and this had some influence on the market. The recession on Wednesday seemed to be due to the partial satisfaction of the demand for covering short contracts; this inquiry had been urgent early in the day, but it subsided on offerings of bills against purchases of stocks for foreign account. The easier tone for cables appeared to indicate that possibly contracts had been made for placing some portion of the New York City bonds in European markets.

Compared with Friday of last week, rates on Saturday were 20 points lower for long at 4 8230@4 8240 and 5 points higher for short at 4 8585@4 8595; cables were unchanged. On Monday long rose 60 points to 4 8275@4 83, short 30 points to 4 8615@4 8635 and cables 50 points to 4 8650@4 8675. On Tuesday long was 45 points higher at 4 8340@4 8345, short 65 points at 4 8680@4 8690 and cables 50 points at 4 8730@4 8735. On Wednesday long rose 10 points to 4 8350@4 8355 while short fell 15 points to 4 8670@4 8675 and cables 10 points to 4 8720@4 8725. On Thursday, owing to the dull market, rates for all classes of exchange declined—long 5 points to 4 8345@4 8350, short 10 points to 4 8660@4 8670 and cables 25 points to 4 8695@4 8715. The tone was steady on Friday for short at an advance of 5 points and for cables of 10 points; long was 5 points lower.

a The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver; but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

b The Austro-Hungarian Bank Statement is now issued in Kronen and Heller instead of Gulden and Kreutzer. The reduction of the former currency to sterling Pounds was by considering the Gulden to have the value of 80 cents. As the Kronen has really no greater value than 20 cents, our cable correspondent in London, in order to reduce Kronen to Pounds, has altered the basis of conversion by dividing the amount of Kronen by 24 instead of 20.

d The total of gold in the Bank of Russia includes the balance held abroad—that is, the amount held for Russian account in other Continental banks. The proportion so held, and consequently duplicated in the above statement, is about one-quarter of the total.

WAR BURDENS IN TIME OF PEACE.

A controversy which has long been imminent in the legislatures of the principal States of the world has lately been coming to a head in the British Parliament. It refers to the question of public extravagance versus retrenchment, as affected by the naval and military expenditures of Government. This problem concerns so intimately our own national finances that it will be worth while to see at exactly what stage the English controversy has arrived. On taking office, the present Liberal Ministry repeated its pre-election pledge to the people that substantial reductions in military and naval expenditure would be made. As lately as April 1906 the War Minister of Great Britain promised "speedy and substantial reduction" in the burden that weighed so heavily on the taxpayer. This has not been achieved, and both people and Parliament are rapidly falling into an angry and discontented mood about it. There have lately been published the following figures of Great Britain's expenditure for army and navy purposes, immediately before and immediately after the Boer War. They are as follows:

The unavoidable conclusion is that a very great part of the additional annual army expenditure imposed by active fighting during the Transvaal campaign has been left on the shoulders of the taxpayers and that naval outlay is larger than in war time. This must be considered in the light of the well-known fact that the English income tax remains at the highest rate ever imposed in the history of the country except in actual time of war.

The London "Economist," in a recent issue, sets forth from the English point of view the evils and actual dangers which are involved by continuance of this policy of war expenditure in a time of profound peace. It thus sums up its arguments: First, continuance of war taxes at a time of peace weakens one of the most important defensive reserve powers which could be exercised in a future war emergency. When the Crimean War broke out, the Government raised the income tax from 7 pence to 16 pence in the pound with little friction or difficulty, and in the Boer War an advance from 8 pence to 15 pence was similarly effected. To-day, however, the income tax, after nearly five years of profound peace, stands at a shilling in the pound. What sort of preparation is this for sudden fiscal demands which outbreak of war might bring upon the country?

Again, the "Economist" traces the effect of the high taxes on home trade. The exaction of these taxes from the consumer inevitably reduces his power to purchase the necessities of life, and to that extent impairs the country's trade—thus not only impairing the financial vigor of the country itself, but weakening the resources on which new taxes could be levied if required by war emergency. Further, it is shown that the prodigious expenditures made for naval and military purposes have stimulated a counter-demand for socialistic experiments, such as old-age pensions, and instead of providing the argument that the money cannot be raised under present circumstances for such purposes, the existing situation gives the demagogue an opportunity to say that a Government which can make such expenditures on army and navy in a time of peace can do as much for the aged poor.

These arguments impress us as of a significance reaching further than the English community. Let us, for instance, glance at our own record of naval and military expenditures. War and navy outlay in the four fiscal years preceding the war with Spain were as follows; and it may be added that both army and navy expenditure of 1894 broke all previous annual records for a time of peace:

| Fiscal Yr. | Army. | Navy. | Fiscal Yr. | Army. | Navy. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1894 | $54,967,929 | $31,701,293 | 1896 | $50,830,920 | $27,147,732 |
| 1895 | 51,804,759 | 28,797,795 | 1897 | 48,950,267 | 34,561,546 |

During the period of actual hostilities our army expenses rose to a maximum (for the fiscal year 1899) of $229,841,000 and our navy expenses to $63,942,000. Taking these figures as they stand, let us now see what has been the record of the eight completed fiscal years since the Spanish War:

| Fiscal Yr. | Army. | Navy. | Fiscal Yr. | Army. | Navy. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1900 | $134,774,767 | $55,953,077 | 1904 | $115,035,410 | $102,956,101 |
| 1901 | 144,615,697 | 60,506,978 | 1905 | 122,175,074 | 117,550,308 |
| 1902 | 112,272,216 | 67,803,128 | 1906 | 117,946,692 | 110,474,264 |
| 1903 | 118,619,520 | 82,618,034 | 1907 | 122,576,465 | 97,128,469 |

In other words, the United States has been pursuing precisely the course adopted by Great Britain, and our naval and military departments are even now complaining that their scope of expansion has not yet been broad enough. The manner in which pressure for new battleships has been applied to Congress is familiar to everyone, and how difficult has been effective resistance. In England it is the wearing out of public patience through long continuance of the high existing taxes which has brought to a head the vigorous opposition to the naval and military program. In our own case we imagine that the protest will find a voice in quite as direct a way. That the extraordinary outlay on our army and navy since the Spanish War—making the army's cost double what it was in any year before that war; and the navy's annual expenses nearly double what they were in the war itself—has been part and parcel of a general era of extravagance, we think may be taken as unquestionable. The great productiveness of public revenue in that period made such expenditure possible, and deprived its opponents of their most effective argument. Now, however, we have come upon altered times. Government finances are affected along with the finances of individuals and corporations, and in the one case, as in the other, the instinct before the careful man in both cases is to see where past extravagance can be pruned down.

That a heavy public deficit lies before the Treasury it is no longer possible to deny. Instead of Secretary Cortelyou's December estimate of a $42,000,000 surplus for the twelve months ending next June, indications are for a deficit of at least $25,000,000. Congressman Tawney, Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriation, has asserted that, irrespective of the question of impairment of national revenue through panic disturbance, the military and naval program for the ensuing fiscal year threatens, if carried out, a deficit of no less than $100,000,000 for the twelve months beginning next July. We no not believe that such a situation is compatible with continuance of our public extravagance of the past half-dozen years in these directions. That Germany, the third of the great powers, whose army and navy program has been cited for the emulation of one another, is confronted with a similar argument against continuance of the recent tendencies, may be inferred from the fact that its plans for new construction in the navy had to be carried out through the medium of a large public loan. It is, to our mind, inconceivable that a world-wide situation of this sort should not result in some rational action in the way of stopping this ruinous movement of the period, with its result of taxing oppressively the people of all progressive States for the purpose of extending indefinitely the war armament maintained in a time of peace.

HOW SHALL THE CORPORATION PROBLEM BE SETTLED?

In a recent address at Columbia University on "Corporations in Modern Business," Mr. George W. Perkins made a compact and excellent statement of the advantages of the great corporation and of the reasons why the popular octopus notion about it has no real foundation. The service which he names first is the prevention of wastes by assembling the best ability in one line and combining it for one end, by economies of production, by utilizing by-products and by reducing expenses of selling. The standard of efficiency in men is raised; for, whereas the old competition was self-seeking and often ruinous in its intensity, the new rivalry, within the limits of the same organization, is constructive and uplifting.

At this point Mr. Perkins meets the old question, what is to become of the young man, and the objection that combination denies him the former opportunity to rise. He meets this objection squarely, declaring that the larger the corporation the more surely will the office boy in it rise to a foremost place if he is made of the right stuff. Not only this, but he asks whether it is not possible that the workings of great corporations may tend hereafter to prevent rather than foster accumulating great fortunes. He suggests whether it is not better to have great corporations in which are many positions carrying handsome salaries than to have private firms with a few partners, whose annual profits were often so large that a few years rolled up large fortunes. A corporate position with a salary large enough to represent interest on a handsome fortune can be permanently held only by a man of real ability, and when he dies another of like ability must be had; whereas the private fortune is passed on regardless of the heir's ability. Therefore, according to his argument, the more big corporations there are, the more important and highly paid places and the more goals for the ambition of young men who have the right equipment for the work of life.

Standardization of products and uniformity of quality are also of great public benefit, says Mr. Perkins, and here he is clearly right; this is shown, although very seldom thought of, by the corporation which is held up as the most wicked of all, Standard Oil. Wages are also higher and employment more steady, he adds, "for in a given line of trade handled to a considerable extent by a corporation there are practically no failures, while under the old methods of bitter and relentless warfare failures were frequent, and failure meant paralysis for labor as well as for capital." The permanence of the corporation, its better survey and mastery of the field, and its ability to measure demand and avoid accumulation of over-stocks, are cited as reasons why it makes general business conditions sounder and steadier.

At this point the common notion that a great corporation is dangerously uncontrollable is frankly opposed by the argument that danger lies rather in the small corporation, because that does not attract the public eye sufficiently to impress its managers with the fact that they are really semi-public servants and responsible to both stockholders and the public; on the other hand, the broader and farther-reaching views of a great corporation more readily perceive that publicity and fair dealing are the wise course. The relation between capital and labor is declared, with like boldness, to be naturally more wholesome and just in the great concern, because the managers are able to look from a broad standpoint, as they "instinctively lose sight of the interest of any one individual, since such interest is at best infinitesimal compared with the whole; in short, they assume on all such matters the attitude of the real trustee, the impartial judge, the intelligent, well-posted and fair arbitrator."

Mr. Perkins makes a forcible point in the fact that in the days of the ox-team it would have been impossible for people in every State which existed then to be partners in one business, "yet to-day we have at least one giant corporation made up of partners resident not only in every one of our States, but in almost every country in the world and re-enforced by thousands of its employees having become stockholders themselves."

This is the presentation of an advocate, and of an enthusiastic advocate. It is ingenious, and while we cannot expect that every person will accept it in the force Mr. Perkins claims for it (even if it is accepted as sound), or, at least, that it will be accepted as stating the complete case, we are bound to say that it impresses us as not to be hastily dismissed. The argument of economy in production and sale, of steadiness in quality and supply, and of the demand for the highest ability, is not new, and it needs no amplifying; yet the other points made are tenable and contain substance.

Mr. Perkins's argument for publicity and control through the Federal Government, however, does not impress us as equally clear. It is true, as he says, that for large business purposes State lines have become obliterated; but the very fact that all business of any consequence is inter-State commerce in the sense of obliterating boundary lines proves that Federal regulation has no natural stopping-place short of covering all business in the United States. It would be taking a long step and one of hazardous and very unforseeable results to adopt this conclusion:

"For business purposes in this country, the United States Government is a corporation with fifty subsidiary companies, and the sooner this is realized the sooner we can get the right kind of supervision of semi-public business enterprises and in this way give the public the publicity and the protection to which it is entitled in the conduct of business by corporations; in no other way can the public be protected from evils in corporation management."

Surely this is a counsel of perfection, and it immediately suggests contingencies which Mr. Perkins next considers. Against the objection that this would bring business into politics, he mentions the Supreme Court, membership in which "is the goal of every aspiring lawyer." Certainly the Court is the last bulwark of constitutional government, yet that bulwark is not immovably fixed. One need not go back forty years to remember that this august body has been in part shaped with reference to a particular decision on a particular topic; four of its members are now of advanced age, and if the next President is one committed to pushing certain well-known aggressive policies, can there be a doubt that any vacancies which occur will be filled with pretty close reference to those policies? An incidental sign of the present trend is that a proposition to give to the Executive the power of removal as well as of appointment has made its appearance in Congress, and we must once more suggest the practical folly of assuming that statutes can be as reckless as anybody demands and the courts will avert consequences. But, continues Mr. Perkins, since we honor lawyers for distinguished service by promoting them to decide difficult legal questions, so we should "honor our railroad men by promoting them to decide our most difficult railroad questions, our industrial men the industrial questions." We certainly should, but the present feeling, whipped up and catered to by politicians, does not favor this. The ideal state which Mr. Perkins gives as an example can best be told in his own words:

"If we had at Washington a railroad board of contorl, and that board were composed of practical railroad men, would not membership in such a board come gradually to be the goal of railroad men? And does any one for a moment think that, if such a board were composed of practical railroad men, it would be especially partial to railroad interests? Once on such a board, a man could not fail to recognize the great responsibility and honor of the office and administer it for the best interests of the public and of the railroads at one and the same time. Thus, the business man would merge into the public official, no longer controlled by the mere business view, and would act the part of a statesman, to the improvement of the governmental administration and not to the lowering of its level."

These questions can readily be answered affirmatively, but the "if" blocks the way; the practical railroad man might behave on the board as suggested, but he would not get the opportunity; the practical politician would see to keeping him out. Perhaps "this kind of expert, high-minded supervision would not be opposed by business interests"; what present reason, however, is there to think that any law which really required and would produce such supervision could be enacted?

But is there really any very close analogy between a board of control such as urged by Mr. Perkins and the position of the United States Supreme Court? Are not the functions essentially different? The Supreme Court acts in a judicial capacity and decides questions of law and of equity. On the other hand, would not the proposed board of control have to concern itself with questions of railroad management, railroad operation and railroad policy—to initiate, regulate, investigate and control? And if that be the case, is there not the same objection to centralization in that regard that there would be to political centralization of any kind? No body of men, no matter how well equipped or how profound their knowledge, would be equal to the task; it would mean bureaucratic government, which by reason of its inertia, is always the foe of progress, operating to destroy private initiative, and tending to stifle individual effort; lastly, is it not contrary to the spirit of our institutions? Furthermore, is not the experiment which Mr. Perkins suggests being tried at this very moment in this State? We refer to our Public Service Commission, which, according to the well-meant efforts of Gov. Hughes, was to be the be-all and end-all of regulation and control. The salaries of the members were fixed high, so as to attract the right men. But that body is confessedly a failure, though its author will not yet admit it. With a Federal board of control the field of operations would be multiplied fifty times, and the task infinitely more difficult.

There is a further difficulty in practically realizing the theory that for business purposes the Government is a corporation with fifty subsidiary companies. This difficulty is the same which is already in the way of Federal supervision of insurance; it is that the States will not consent to give up and become subsidiary. Whoever imagines that the doctrine of the independent rights of States has been abandoned because it has so rarely stirred, falls into an error; the recent antagonisms on the subject of two-cent laws are a sign in evidence. If the control of corporations contemplated nothing more than a moderate supervision, as in case of insurance in some past years, the States would still adhere to their own dignity and their field for creating offices; and while supervision is bent to persecution, they will still more insist on keeping their share of the process.

The object of Mr. Perkins's address, however, is commendable and almost imperative, for it is to discover some mode of solution of the corporation problem, which continually grows more pressing. The corporation is to continue, and the great corporation is to continue great; we must start with this as certainty. How shall the old rule of live and let live be applied and secured to it? Virtue may be overdone; falsehood and error are a perversion of basic truth; the destructive excesses of Mr. Roosevelt himself start from the fundamental truth of a public interest, and duty resting upon carriers, but have exaggerated that out of all just proportions and smothered out of sight the equal and correlative fact of the rights of private property. The real although unhappily slow way out of all this trouble is by correcting this distortion of view.

To declaim that the great question of the day is whether the corporations shall control the people or the people shall control the corporations, makes an oratorical period which is sure to win applause from any average audience, but it is a meaningless balancing of words; there is no such issue and can be none, because the corporations are the people. It may need a term of experience, perhaps not at all agreeable, to make the people see that they are the corporations, but it is an immovable fact which will yet force itself into view. Statistics of ownership and the nature of things prove this, and it is true of carrying as of other corporations. Publicity within the bounds of business reason is admittedly right, but just now the foundations are misty in the popular sight, as a whirl of sand might conceivably hide a pyramid; and the latest rush of emotional attack is an application of the political economy of Mr. Samuel Gompers in the intimation that the railroads cannot be permitted to cut wages, no matter what conditions arise. All this looks superficially disheartening, but is it not perhaps just the contrary? The more acute the mania the more certain the reaction. Once get the blood pressure from our necks and the fog from our eyes, so that things can be seen as they really are, not as self-seeking demagogues declare them, and there remain no insurmountable difficulties in setting the reciprocal relations and duties of railroads and the public upon a just basis. Once restore a sane and just atmosphere, and the great problem will sol e itself. Until that restoration, how can it possibly do so? . . . . . .

A FEDERAL EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY LAW.

James Madison, writing No. 45 of "The Federalist," explained the principle of the delimitation of Federal and State authority as understood by the fathers of the Constitution. It is not too much to say that, in the then existing temper of the people of the several States, had it been regarded as possible that the terms of the newly devised Constitution could be construed in any different way from that urged by Madison, it would have failed of ratification. That there was then no disposition to surrender to the Federal Government any part of the control over matters of primarily domestic concern may easily be gathered from the following paragraph from this number of "The Federalist."

"The powers delegated by the proposed Constitution to the Federal Government are few and defined. Those which are to remain in the State governments are numerous and indefinite. The former will be exercised principally on external objects, as war, peace, negotiation and foreign commerce; with which last the power of taxation will, for the most part be connected. The powers reserved to the several States will extend to all the objects which, in the ordinary course of affairs, concern the lives, liberties and properties of the people and the internal order, improvement and prosperity of the State."

That the doctrine which was so satisfactory to the founders of the great republic persisted until a very recent period is quite certain. It was boldly proclaimed by the United States Supreme Court in the case of United States vs. Knight, which was decided on Jan. 21 1895, Mr. Chief Justice Fuller, speaking for the Court, saying:

"It cannot be denied that the power of the State to protect the lives, health and property of its citizens, and to preserve good order and the public morals, 'the power to govern men and things within the limits of its dominion,' is a power originally and always belonging to the States, not surrendered by them to the General Government, nor directly restrained by the Constitution of the United States, and essentially exclusive."

The quite recent pressure for an extension of the legislative activities of the Federal Government has resulted, however, in the enactment of several statutes claimed to be in execution of the power to regulate commerce among the several States which very obviously have for their object the regulation of matters that are clearly within the terms of the reserved powers of the States as those powers were defined by Madison and by Fuller. Even if, in the broader latitude of interpretation which undoubtedly finds some sanction in later utterances of the Supreme Court, it may be assumed that some of these matters are only subject to State control until such control has actually been ousted by Congressional action, there is no question that in the absence of Federal legislation the power of the States over them is complete. This principle is plainly applicable to such matters as the "physical control" of railway facilities and appliances, safety regulations as to signaling and equipment, hours of labor of the employees of inter-State railways, and the liability of railway employers to their employees. Even more than this, it is now clear that as to all these matters the powers of the States, within their geographical limits, are complete, while those of the Federal Government are incomplete and their actual limits uncertain and difficult to determine. Thus when Congress, acting under extreme executive pressure, attempted to enact a comprehensive statute covering the liability of "every common carrier engaged in trade or commerce" of inter-State character for accidents to "any of its employees" (Employers' Liability Act, approved on June 11 1906), it considerably exceeded its Constitutional powers and not one of the nine Justices of the Supreme Court was ready to sustain the enactment unless it could be so construed as, in effect, to qualify the words "any of its employees" by adding "while engaged in inter-State commerce." It is true that a minority of the Court thought this substantial limitation could be read into the statute, but the majority opinion, following a long line of precedents, was otherwise, and the attempted enactment failed. Even Mr. Justice Moody, whose dissenting opinion is clearly the expression of a strong desire to sustain the statute, agreed that if it must be construed as applicable to all employees of inter-State carriers, it must be inoperative. He said in part:

"Applying the law under consideration to the conditions as they actually exist, it is said that its words are so general and sweeping as to comprehend within its benefits not only the employees of the inter-State carrier engaged in the business of inter-State carriage, but also the employees of the same carrier engaged in the business of intra-State carriage which it may and usually does conduct. . . . If such be the necessary interpretation of the statute, plainly it exceeds the power of Congress, for Congress certainly has no right to regulate the purely internal commerce of a State."

While the somewhat divergent views of the majority of the Court leave still open the question whether Congress has power, under the commerce clause, to control the relation of master and servant as to those actually engaged in inter-State commerce, it seems commonly to be assumed that this power exists and that an employers' liability law carefully restricted to those so engaged will be constitutional. On this view Senator Knox has prepared and introduced a measure which should serve to establish the wisdom of leaving the whole subject to the legislation of the separate States. The clause of Senator Knox's bill which defines the field of its effectiveness, if passed, reads as follows:

"That every common carrier using steam or other motive power and engaged in commerce to which the regulative power of Congress extends under the Constitution of the United States shall be liable to any person employed by such carrier in such commerce while such employee is engaged therein." . . .

Now, the foregoing goes quite as far as Congressional power extends and is fully as definite as the present state of judicial determination of the questions it suggests will permit. Yet, it plainly leaves the injured employee who might wish to sue a common carrier for damages in a state of considerable uncertainty as to whether he should proceed under the Federal statute (supposing it to have been enacted) or under the law of the State in which his injury occurred. For example, a trainman running upon a local train between terminals wholly within a State is engaged, no doubt, in inter-State commerce when his train carries freight or passengers destined to another State under arrangements for through carriage. Therefore it might easily happen that the right to sue under the Federal statute would exist on one day and not on the next, while at all times its existence or non-existence would depend upon facts that might not be readily accessible to the employee.

But the case suggested is a comparatively simple one. Is the station telegrapher alternately in inter-State and intra-State commerce accordingly as he is reporting, or signaling, or receiving reports of inter-State or intra-State trains? Is the yard switchman engaged in inter-State commerce when he throws a switch for the through express and in intra-State commerce when he moves the same switch for a yard engine—or, mayhap, does it depend upon the car the yard engine is about to move? Is the general office clerk engaged in inter-State commerce when he checks the rates in an inter-State tariff or when he examines an inter-State way bill? These are questions—and there are many others—which may vex the Supreme Court when raised before that august tribunal. But, under the Knox bill (and under any other Federal measure which would meet the situation created by the recent decision) these and equally difficult questions would have to be decided, and at some peril to their cause, by hundreds of injured employees, or their attorneys for them, before they could seek damages from their employers. And if such an employee should decide wrongly, the penalty, enforced only after prolonged and costly litigation, would be the dismissal of his action.

The only way to meet this difficulty is to leave this question, where we submit that the wisdom of the Fathers intended it should be left, to the separate action of the separate States. Each State can, prior to Congressional action, regulate the subject as to every one within its physical limits. Wise laws of this character enacted at State capitals would raise no difficult questions for judicial determination, would involve no risk of depriving the employee now entitled to redress of rights which he now undoubtedly possesses. On the other hand, any Federal statute must lead to prolonged litigation and must work hardship to many deserving employees. Under these circumstances the choice ought to be an easy one, and it probably would be promptly made were it not for the evident chance for some one to make political capital out of the situation.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE FOR JANUARY 1908.

The official foreign trade statement of the United States for the month of January received on Monday from Washington confirms the prognostications we made thereon in our issue of February 8. From such early data as was then available we reached the conclusion that the complete official results for the month would show an excess of merchandise shipments over imports of approximately 120 millions of dollars and thus set up a new high record of our favorable trade balances. How closely we then approximated the actual results is made evident by the $120,513,131 export balance the statement discloses.

Considered in the aggregate the outward movement of merchandise in January 1908 was, in value, with the exception of that for December 1907 ($207,129,996) the heaviest for a single month in the annals of our foreign trade. And this in itself is a very satisfactory showing, for as a rule the export movement is greatest in the closing two or three months of the calendar year, December giving largest results, with the January total generally well below December. This remark applies to an extended series of years. In fact we can go back as far as the early seventies and find no year in which January exports closely approximated the figures for the preceding December except in 1907 and 1908. The export total for January 1908, at $206,211,835, compares with $189,296,944 in 1907, $170,603,053 in 1906, $133,992,269 five years ago (1903) and $108,426,674 a decade ago (1898)—when 100 millions as a measure of our merchandise export trade was first exceeded. Results for a single month, however, are very inconclusive, for it has frequently been the case that a heavy outward movement in one month has been succeeded by comparatively light exports the next, and vice versa. But that has not been the experience the current fiscal year. For the first quarter, July-Sept., full figures were recorded, the total exceeding that for the like period of 1906 by 11 millions of dollars; the second quarter, Oct.-Dec., the aggregate efflux of merchandise was 591¾ millions or 31½ millions greater than for the previous year, and now we have the January result exceeding that for 1907 by 17 million dollars. An excellent showing in our foreign export trade.

A very gratifying feature of this January exhibit is that higher prices obtained for our agricultural products largely, if not wholly, explains it. Shipments of breadstuffs represent a value this year of $24,463,503, against only $14,539,459 for the month a year ago. Here we have an excess in value of nearly 70% whereas the increase in quantity exported was less than 20%. The average price of the wheat sent out was $1 01½ this year against only 76⅜ cents in January 1907, of corn 64⅜ cents against 49¾ cents, of barley 81½ cents against 55¾ cents and of rye 93⅝ cents against 64 cents. Cotton also, as we remarked two weeks ago, has gone out on an appreciably higher-price basis, the 652,702,186 pounds exported this year having contributed 7 millions more of value than did the 658,728,918 pounds the outside world took from us in January 1907. Thus it becomes clear that the shortage in crops, actual or prospective, has been compensated for to the producer by the higher prices received. Our assumptions that provisions exports would be less and oil shipments greater in January this year than last are also borne out by the official statements. The efflux of commodities other than those specifically referred to above seems in the aggregate to have reached about an identical value in the month of each year.

Looking upon the other side of the statement, we find that, as we inferred would be the case, there was a further shrinkage in the value of the merchandise imports in January. We had become so accustomed to a monthly inflow of goods exceeding 100 millions in value that the drop below that figure in December (to $92,247,894) would have been occasion for surprise but for the abnormal conditions prevailing here. For January, however, an even smaller aggregate is disclosed—$85,698,704—a total lower than in any month since July 1905 and below any result for January since 1904. In fact the inward movement of goods in the month of 1903 was almost the same as in the current year. Greatest declines in imports have been, of course, in articles classed as luxuries, but with so considerable a drop from January of 1907 as 41 millions of dollars, it is safe to assume, in the absence of details, that quite well through the schedules of imported articles decreases are shown.

The net result of our January foreign trade is, as already stated, a balance of merchandise exports of $120,513,131, which compares with a similar balance in 1907 of only $62,710,010, of $64,081,528 in 1906—totals barely more than half that now recorded—and but $25,254,507 in 1905. For the seven months of the current fiscal year (1907-08) the exports of merchandise exceeded the imports by $431,492,254, a totals 112½ millions greater than in the like period of 1906-07, and surpassed in turn only once—in 1901 when the outward movement of goods exhibited a net balance of $443,199,829.

GOLD HOLDINGS OF BANK OF GERMANY.

Statements have been published recently saying that the gold holdings of the Imperial Bank of Germany at the end of 1907 were at the lowest figure in its history. We have been favored with an official report showing that these statements are erroneous. On Dec. 31 1907 the Bank held of actual gold 497,548,000 marks, against 481,381,000 marks on Dec. 31 1906, and it held 75,439,000 of Government notes against 51,269,000 marks. It is proper to state with reference to these Government notes (Reichskassenscheine) that they are to some extent similar to U. S. gold certificates. While the corresponding amount of gold held by the Government in a special deposit vault cannot be actually withdrawn, yet, on the other hand, the total issue of these notes is by law fixed and limited to just the amount so held by the Government—that is, 120,000,000 marks. Combining the notes with the gold, the total of the two on Dec. 31 1907 was 572,987,000 marks against 532,650,000 marks Dec. 31 1906. This showing is the more noteworthy as, according to competent authorities, the bank vaults of Germany supplied about $50,000,000 (200,000,000 marks) of the large gold imports to the United States from England during the late panic.

The following shows the situation of the Bank of Germany at the close of each of the last thirteen years. The column "Aggregate Cash" indicates the holdings of coin and bullion and of the notes of other banks and of the Imperial Treasury. The next column, designated "Whereof in Metal," indicates how much of the total cash consists of gold and silver, the latter made up of small coin; and a trifling amount of nickel coins are also included. In addition, we give columns to show the holdings in actual gold and in Imperial Treasury notes, as well as the total of the two. It will be observed that during the thirteen years covered by the table the aggregate of the holdings of gold and of Government notes secured by gold has on six occasions been lower than at the end of 1907, namely, in 1906, 1902, 1900, 1899, 1898 and 1896.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS FOR JANUARY.

Our statement of railroad gross earnings for January makes a better showing than might have been expected. To guard against erroneous deductions, however, it is important that two main considerations should be borne in mind. The table we present shows a loss, as compared with the corresponding month in the previous year, of a trifle less than $5,000,000—the exact decrease being $4,976,393, the ratio of falling off being 8.74%. One of the two points to be borne in mind with reference to these results is that the exhibit is necessarily an incomplete one (as only about 20 days have elapsed since the close of the month), it embracing only the roads that furnish early preliminary returns. The mileage covered is only 83,870 miles, or less than 40% of the 225,000 miles of road in the country. It happens, too, that the statement does not include the prominent trunk-line systems between the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and the Atlantic Coast, like the Pennsylvania, the New York Central or the Erie, though the Baltimore & Ohio is included.

To state that these trunk-line systems are absent is equivalent to saying that the roads running through the manufacturing and mineral districts, where the effects of the prevailing industrial depression are most felt, are not represented in our list. It would hence appear that the roads which have contributed returns to our present compilation do not fully reflect the extent of the shrinkage in railroad revenues over the United States roads as a whole. Three or four weeks hence, when returns for the rest of the mileage of the country shall have come in, it will doubtless be found that the ratio of falling off in gross earnings has been considerably heavier than indicated by our summaries of to-day.

The second point to be remembered concerning these results is that, in the case of an important body of roads, comparison is with figures of earnings in 1907 which had been heavily reduced at that time by reason of extremely unfavorable weather conditions. These roads, not having suffered in the same way the present year, have recovered a part of these heavy losses of last year, and thus are able to show gains, which gains have gone to offset the decreases in earnings elsewhere reported. We have reference to the lines situated in the extreme northern part of the United States, more particularly those lying in the territory between Lake Superior and the North Pacific Coast, and the remark also applies to roads similarly situated on the other side of the border—in Canada. Thus the Great Northern alone reports $769,603 gain, the Northern Pacific $203,175 gain, the "Soo" road $82,109 gain, the Canadian Pacific $285,000 gain and the Canadian Northern $226,800 increase. These five roads contribute altogether an increase of $1,566,687, and it is a matter of easy computation that, with these roads eliminated, the result for the remaining roads would be a loss of $6,543,080, or 14.49%.

The weather conditions last year in the territory referred to were of unusual and extraordinary severity. There were unexampled snow blockades at that time in North Dakota, in Montana, in the Cascade Mountains and all the way to the Pacific. In addition, temperatures were extremely low, running from 30 to 50 degrees below zero east of the mountains. It should also be remembered that in the same section of the country there was at that time a great fuel scarcity, and that, as a consequence, coal shipments were given the preference over other kinds of traffic, disarranging all the train schedules and interfering still further with the ordinary movements of freight. The present year none of these conditions were repeated. The weather was not the least severe, quite the contrary, and there was no dearth of fuel; consequently no rush shipments of coal to the exclusion of other kinds of traffic. It is significant of the extent to which these same roads have suffered in 1908 from the prevailing industrial depression common to the whole country, that, while the aggregate gain the present year of the five roads has been $1,566,687, the aggregate loss for the five roads in January last year was no less than $2,038,781.

Outside of the five roads mentioned the record quite generally for January 1908 is an unfavorable one, only a few roads, for special reasons, forming an exception to the rule. It should be noted, furthermore, that even with the five roads included, the showing for January is poorer than was the showing in our preliminary compilation for December—which is quite contrary to the accepted views, the prevailing impression being that railroad traffic during January was better than it had been in December. Our early statement for December showed only $3,092,739 decrease, or 4.28%, while now, for January, the loss is $4,976,393, or 8.74%. The following, furnishing a summary of the January totals for a series of years past, brings out the fact that in 1907 the general result showed only a relatively small improvement, owing to the losses sustained by the lines in the territory between Lake Superior and the North Pacific Coast. Prior to 1907, however, it will be seen, the January record was a very good one with the exception of one year.

Note.—Neither the earnings of the Mexican roads nor the mining operations of the anthracite coal roads are included in this table.

The best idea, perhaps, of the extent to which the railroads suffered the present year from the industrial depression is gained by considering the returns of some of the separate companies. The Louisville & Nashville, which has this week been singled out for criticism by President Roosevelt because of its efforts at retrenchment in expenditures, reports a falling off in the large sum of $784,776, being a reduction of almost 20%. The Southern Railway has done but little better, having sustained a decrease of $668,069, or nearly 15%. Even such a relatively small system as the Central of Georgia has fallen $226,200 behind, a decrease of 22%. Figures like these serve to reflect the magnitude and intensity of the business paralysis existing. The South, it may be truthfully affirmed, is suffering beyond all other sections of the country. But decreases are heavy and numerous elsewhere, too. In the Middle West, the Illinois Central has $498,543 loss, in the Southwest the Missouri Pacific reports a shrinkage of $422,000, the Texas & Pacific a decrease of $318,532 and the International & Great Northern a loss of $263,000; while out in Colorado the Denver & Rio Grande finds its earnings reduced by $285,300. Some of the smaller coal-carrying roads, like the Wheeling & Lake Erie and the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh, have sustained relatively the heaviest contraction of all. In the following we show all changes for the separate roads for amounts in excess of $30,000, whether increases or decreases. The contrast between the small list of gains and the large list of losses is noteworthy and significant.

In the case of the Western roads the falling off in earnings has occurred in face of a larger grain traffic. This is by no means true of all the roads, but it is true of the movement as a whole. The deliveries of each one of the important cereals at Western markets were above those of the corresponding period in 1907. We have reference to wheat, corn, oats, barley and rye. For the five cereals combined the receipts at the Western primary markets for the five weeks ending Feb. 1 were 68,858,108 bushels, against 65,079,036 bushels in the same five weeks of 1907. The Western grain movement in detail is set out in the following:

The live-stock movement at the West also appears to have run ahead of that of last year. Of cattle, the deliveries at the six principal live-stock centres, namely Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph and Sioux City, were only 734,900 head, against 835,500, and of sheep they were only 660,900 head, against 834,800, but, on the other hand, in the case of the movement of swine, there was a very large increase, the deliveries this year for the even month having been 2,662,700 head, against 1,828,000.

The cotton movement in the South, however, did not quite come up to the extraordinary movement of last year, although being about double the small movement of 1906. The shipments overland were 181,537 bales, against 302,715 bales in January 1907 and 161,958 bales in January 1906. The receipts at the Southern ports were 1,181,972 bales, against 1,329,296 bales in 1907, but only 599,249 bales in January 1906.

TRUST COMPANY RETURNS AND PROFITS OF THE TITLE GUARANTEE COMPANIES.

The following, referring to our trust company returns of last week, brings out a point bearing on the profits of the title guarantee companies which should not be overlooked:

New York, Feb. 15 1908.

Wm. B. Dana Co.,

Gentlemen: The reports of trust companies in Saturday's issue are misleading so far as they affect the Lawyers' Title Insurance & Trust Co. and Title Guarantee & Trust Co. Both these companies would have lost money, apparently, by your reports. "Interest and commissions" evidently does not cover, with them, their fees for title insurance, which is the largest part of their income. I believe that with all the other companies the entire income is covered by this item. To show a correct comparison it seems to me that the item with the title insurance companies should be "Interest, commission and title insurance fees (or other profits)."

In looking over old reports of the Banking Department I find that there are various small items among trust company reports showing "other profits."

Would not your tables show the true results better if all profits, except from increase in book value of securities, were shown. On further examination, I find that in 1905 the Central Trust Co., United States Mortgage & Trust Co. and the title companies showed "other profits" of considerable amounts. The other companies showed nominal amounts. The comparison, therefore, seems unfair, and I know from experience that the "Chronicle" aims to give facts in a way calculated to show correct comparisons.

Yours truly,

JOHN B. CLARK.

In explanation of the above, it is proper to state that in publishing the trust company returns of the separate companies it has always been our practice to print the balance sheets in full, but to give merely a few selected items from among the so-called "supplementary" data. The items thus taken have necessarily been the same for all the companies. It is true, however, that in the case of the two title guarantee companies the trust company business forms the lesser part of the total business—the title guarantee business furnishing such a large amount of profits—and hence for those companies a knowledge of the "other profits" is essential to a correct statement of the results. We accordingly reproduce the "supplementary" data for these two companies given last week, adding the items then omitted:

ITEMS ABOUT BANKS, BANKERS AND TRUST CO'S.

—The auction sales of bank stocks this week aggregate 313 shares. No sales were made at the Stock Exchange. The transactions in trust company stocks reach a total of 77 shares. A large block (309 shares) of stock of the Fourteenth Street Bank was sold at 140. In comparing this price with that paid at the last previous public sale—300 in May 1905—it should be noted that the bank's capital has since then been increased from $100,000 to $1,000,000.

—James B. Forgan, President of the First National Bank of Chicago, has addressed an open letter to William Jennings Bryan in reply to an article which recently appeared in "The Commoner," of which Mr. Bryan is editor, quoting Mr. Forgan incorrectly on the subject of deposit insurance. In this article Mr. Forgan was quoted as saying that the guaranty of deposits "would make all banks safe, one just as good as another, and for that reason a man would go to any bank with his money." Mr. Forgan in his letter to Mr. Bryan states that the only authentic statement of his views on the subject was given in a letter to Senator Hopkins and published in a Chicago daily, in which he said: "It would reduce all bankers to the same level, and there would be absolutely no reason why any one should not drop into the first bank he came to to deposit his money. The Government, being responsible for the deposits, puts all on an equality and makes all equally good." Mr. Forgan adds: "In my judgment the Government guaranty would gradually but inevitably reduce the high standing and credit of the strong, conservative and well-managed banks to the level of the weak, speculative and poorly-managed."

—An amendment to the guaranty deposit law of Oklahoma permitting national banks to avail of its provisions upon direct application to the State Banking Board was passed by the House on the 7th inst. and by the Senate on the 11th inst. The law as it now stands provides that national banks may avail of the protection of the fund by application to the State Banking Board, the application to be "sustained" upon terms and conditions in harmony with the purpose of the Banking Act, to be agreed upon by the State Banking Board, the Bank Commissioner and the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States"; the amendment eliminates the reference to the Comptroller of the Currency.

—On the 17th inst. a call was issued by the Los Angeles Clearing House Association for the return of all certificates issued during the recent financial difficulties. It is stated that a considerable amount of the scrip has already been redeemed, and its disappearance as a medium of exchange will hardly be noticed.

—A. N. Chandler & Co. of Philadelphia made a general assignment on Wednesday to J. Hector McNeal. According to a statement issued by the attorney for the assignee, the suspension was the result of the firm's inability to longer withstand the shrinkage of their capital in the endeavor to aid new enterprises in which their clients were interested. The firm was interested in the Camden & Trenton Ry., for which a receiver was appointed on Tuesday. The members of the firm were Alfred N. Chandler and Arthur S. Chandler. It has a New York office at 111 Broadway; it is not, however, a member of either the Philadelphia or New York stock exchanges, and had no connection with the firm of Chandler Brothers & Co.

—Under date of the 11th inst the Merchants' Association of New York issued a bulletin addressed to the merchants and manufacturers of the United States in opposition to the Aldrich Emergency Currency Bill. This action of the Association is in accordance with the instructions of its directors, who recently accepted and approved the report of its Committee on Bankruptcy and Commercial Law in condemnation of the bill, and directed that the report be brought to the attention of the mercantile interests throughout the country.

The bulletin of the association says:

In our opinion, this bill, if enacted into law, would not only tie up part of the deposits of the banks in securities which ought not to be owned by them, but would be a direct encouragement to speculation in the security markets.

The report on the bill by the Committee on Bankruptcy and Commercial Law is also incorporated in the bulletin, and is as follows:

To the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association of New York:

Gentlemen:—Your Committee on Bankruptcy and Commercial Law to which was referred the subject of the reform of the currency laws, begs leave to report as follows:

As the result of our deliberations, we present the following resolution, which has been unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That this Committee on Bankruptcy and CommercialLaw disapproves Senate Bill No. 3023, entitled 'A Bill to Amend the National Banking Laws,' introduced by Senator Aldrich, for the following reasons:

"1. They regard as essentially unsound the principle embodied therein that a currency should be based upon fixed securities of any description. The note issues as well as the deposits of a bank are obligations payable on demand, and the bank should hold as security against such liabilities nothing but quick assets, such as actual cash, secured notes payable on demand or commercial paper liquidating itself at par at the end of a short period of months. It is no safe function for a bank of deposit or issue to invest assets held against demand obligations in long-term notes, bonds or mortgages, the conversion of which into cash in times of stringency can only be accomplished at sacrifice of the principal, if at all. The policy which might reasonably create an artificial market for the national obligations in time of civil war cannot excuse an extension of the same favor to State or municipal bonds and railroad mortgages in time of peace.

"2. The high tax which this bill proposes to levy upon the issue of emergency currency, and which in the last analysis would be paid by the borrower to the banks, when increased as it would be in practice at least one-third by reserve requirements, is not only unnecessary but oppressive; and in this and other States would provoke an immediate disregard of the statutes against usury. It is not becoming that a great nation should fill its coffers from the necessities of borrowers; and it is manifestly improper to pass one law which offers inducements to the violation of another."

It is the unanimous opinion of your committee, as evidenced by the signatures hereto, that rather than accept legislation of the character of the Aldrich Bill, which we feel in its ultimate results would be most disastrous to the commercial interests of the country, it would be preferable to have no legislation at all, in spite of the manifest necessity of some relief to the present intolerable situation.

We therefore, in accordance with this resolution, recommend that the Association disapprove Senate Bill 3023, known as the Aldrich Bill, and that it take steps actively to oppose the enactment into law of this or any bill passed upon these principles.

Your committee, which is continuing consideration and study of other measures, will render an additional report in the very near future.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMITTEE ON BANKRUPTCY AND COMMERCIAL LAW

—The Council of Administration of the New York State Bankers' Association also voiced its opposition to the Aldrich Currency Bill in a resolution, given herewith, adopted at a meeting at the Union League Club on Monday:

That the bankers of the State of New York unequivocally disapprove of the provisions of the Aldrich Bill; that they do not approve of a bond-secured emergency currency; that they demand an elastic currency based on bank assets, as provided in the measure of the Currency Commission of the American Bankers' Association.

Charles Elliot Warren, President of the State Association, addressed the meeting, and stated that he believes that if the Aldrich bill becomes a law the best interests of the banks and the citizens of the country will not be protected. "Strictly speaking," he said, "we do not want a bond-secured emergency currency, for a bond-secured currency amounts to a currency based on liabilities." Continuing, Mr. Warren said:

The currency that this Association should demand is an emergency currency, one elastic, based on assets; and it is said by the best authorities that the best asset of a solvent bank is its commercial paper. An elastic currency is what is wanted, one regulated by the demands of business, to be issued when the manufacturers want to borrow money, and to be retired when the merchant pays for his goods. This applies equally to the moving of the crops, which, by the way, generally takes from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 out of New York City, reducing its available credit at the very time when the legitimate demand for loans is increased.

The best method to provide an elastic currency is by the creation of a central bank, under the control of the Government, to perform the functions now imposed upon the United States Treasury and the Sub-Treasuries It should be the depository of the 5% fund, and should be the bank of issue and deposit; in other words, a United States Central Clearing House, issuing, in lieu of Clearing-House certificates, notes on bank assets, heavily taxed, with a necessary reserve fund and ample facilities for quick and prompt redemption. Each Clearing House in existence to-day should be a branch or redemption agency of this central bank. State banks and trust companies should be practically on the same basis as the national banks, and neither should have undue advantage over the other.

Reference was likewise made by Mr. Warren to the proposed reserve law, calling for the maintenance of a 15% reserve by State banks outside of Greater New York (the same as is required of national banks outside of New York), and to the fact that it would not permit the State banks to count as reserve their balances in reserve cities, such as Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities. The result of this amendment, if enacted into law, he declared, "would be that State banks must necessarily keep balances in connection with ordinary business in cities named, which balances would not count as reserve; while if the same deposits were made by national banks they would count as their reserves; the law would therefore discriminate against State banks to the extent that they would suffer a handicap as compared with national banks of from 3 to 5 per cent; or, as our State bank representatives tell me, a balance that qualifies for national banks on a 15% reserve basis only qualifies for State banks on a 10% reserve basis."

Mr. Warren argued that the proposal to guarantee the deposits in national banks is sure to become dangerously popular among the great majority of people who are unable to reason out the ultimate consequences of any action. Many, he said, overlook the fatal defect, namely, the inevitable stimulus which it would give to speculative banking. He also talked with a view of having the Association place its mark of disapproval on the large number of bank bills presented to the Legislature and now in the hands of the Joint Committee of Senate and Assembly on Banks, and offered a resolution that "no bill presented to the Legislature shall be reported out of committee unless first approved by the Committee on Banks and Superintendent of Banking."

A legislative committee of three, consisting of Willis G. Nash of Albany, Frederick E. Lyford of Waverly and Edmund D. Fisher of Brooklyn, was appointed to confer with the Joint Committee on Banking on pending banking legislation.

—The Trades League of Philadelphia at a meeting last week adopted resolutions in which it expressed itself as unalterably opposed to the passage of the Aldrich Currency Bill and placed itself on record as indorsing the plan of "national bank guaranteed notes," as formulated in the Fowler Bill.

—From dispatches which have been received by local papers from St. Paul, an opposite view of the Aldrich Bill appears to be held by business men and bankers generally in the Northwest. Joseph Chapman Jr., Cashier of the Northwestern National Bank of Minneapolis, who is one of its advocates, took occasion to refer to the measure at a recent meeting of the Commercial Club. He declared that "the strong feature of the bill is that it insists that the currency be secured by collateral; the only weak point about the bill," he averred, "is that it allows the collateral to be named by Government officials, without experience or knowledge of the value of securities." As a remedy for this defect he cited the provision of his own currency plan, providing for a committee of three central reserve clearing houses, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, which, he stated, would be better equipped by experience to pass upon the collateral.

—It is stated that the National Bank of North America of this city has reduced its indebtedness to the Clearing House to $1,000,000. At the time of the suspension of the bank in January it held clearing house certificates to the amount of about $2,200,000. The total liabilities of the bank are said to have been reduced to the extent of $1,550,000 since its close, it having also liquidated about $350,000 of indebtedness to depositors through the offset of loans.

—Charles W. Morse, who arrived last Sunday on the Etruria, pleaded not guilty on Monday to the charge of grand larceny on which he was indicted by the Special Grand Jury last week, and was released under $20,000 bail. A further indictment charging perjury was returned against Mr. Morse by the Grand Jury on Monday. In this instance, also, Mr. Morse pleaded not guilty, and furnished bail to the amount of $10,000. This charge, it is said, grew out of the testimony given by Mr. Morse before the Grand Jury with regard to the affairs of the National Bank of North America.

—Under date of Feb. 11 the following circular letter was sent to the depositors of the Lincoln Trust Co. of this city by President Frank Tilford:

To the Depositors.

Gentlemen—In view of the many false and malicious rumors which are being circulated concerning many banking institutions in the City of New York, it is thought proper at this time to make a definite statement as to the condition of this company.

This company is solvent, its capital is intact, it does not intend to liquidate, and has no present intention of merging with any other trust company. The stockholders have just authorized an increase of the capital stock of the company in the amount of $500,000, all of which has been underwritten at par. This will give the company one million five hundred thousand capital, which, together with the accompanying stockholders' liability, equals 50% of the deposits. The increase of the capital of the company, with the accompanying stockholders' liability, will give the company actual net resources of upwards of $3,000,000 applicable to the payment of deposits of $6,000,000.

The officers and directors are in entire accord, and it is their intention to sustain the good name and reputation of the company, and to continue its business on most conservative lines. We appreciate the great loyalty shown by depositors during the recent trying times, and we ask their continued co-operation.

Very truly yours,
FRANK TILFORD, President.

—The directors of the Northern Bank of this city, at a meeting on Tuesday elected Peter Rado, Cashier, to succeed Henry A. Belden, resigned. Mr. Rado, who was formerly Assistant Cashier, is succeeded in that office by Isaac S. Voorhis.

—Henderson M. Wolfe has been elected Second Vice-President of the Corn Exchange Bank of this city. Mr. Wolfe was lately Assistant Cashier of the Fourth National Bank.

—Another rumor is rife that the suspended Oriental Bank of this city will be taken over by the Metropolitan Trust Co. and its assets liquidated. The officials of the Metropolitan Trust Co., when interviewed by us last night, were unwilling to make any statement at the moment, but an announcement is expected next week. Nothing has come of last week's reported negotiations of the United States Mortgage & Trust Co. for the absorption of the Oriental Bank.

—The Van Norden Trust Co. of this city, Warner M. Van Norden, President, continues to maintain a larger reserve than the 15% required by law. This item stood at 38% last Saturday and Monday, 40% on Tuesday, 39% Wednesday and 41% Thursday.

—The stockholders of the Mechanics & Traders' Bank of this city, which closed its doors last month, have been called upon to meet on March 3 to vote on the proposition to reduce the capital from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000. The capital of the bank was increased a year ago from $700,000 to $2,000,000. It is stated that the present plans for the reorganization of the bank contemplate the closing of the Manhattan offices, making it a strictly Brooklyn institution. Assent of the depositors to a deferred-payment agreement is being sought, this providing for the payment of 10% with the resumption, 15% in four months from that date, 20% in eight months, 25% in twelve months and 30% after the lapse of sixteen months.

—Frederick E. Gunnison of the law firm of Harris, Corwin, Gunnison & Meyer, was elected President of the Home Trust Co. of Manhattan and Brooklyn at a directors' meeting on Monday. Mr. Gunnison succeeds former Borough President J. Edward Swanstrom, who accepted the presidency at the time of the company's organization three years ago with the understanding that he was to serve only temporarily, it being his desire to continue in the practice of law. The new President is a son of President Almon Gunnison of St. Lawrence University; he is a graduate of the Polytechnic Institute, Columbia University and the New York University Law School. He was President of the Brooklyn Union League Club for two years, and was President of the Commission on Gas and Electricity under Governor Higgins. At Monday's meeting of the directors, Mr. Swanstrom and Congressman William M. Calder were elected Vice-Presidents of the Home Trust. Harold A. Davidson, who, as noted last week, has been elected President of the Jenkins Trust Co., resigned as Secretary of the Home Trust Co. on Wednesday.

—The Guardian Savings Bank of Brooklyn Borough announced this week that arrangements had been completed for the absorption of its business by the Greater New York Savings Bank of Brooklyn. The Guardian Savings Bank, which is located at Third Ave. and 53d St., suspended last October. It had $63,000 on deposit with the Borough Bank (which also closed four months ago), but is said to have recovered this through a court order, as a preferred creditor. It is announced that the Guardian Savings Bank is entirely solvent, but in view of the continued withdrawals, and the inability of the trustees to realize upon its securities except at a forced sale, which might result in a loss, and consequent delay in the matter of making prompt payment to depositors, the above course was decided upon. Herman A. Metz was formerly President of the institution. Four of the trustees of the bank, Frederick W. Starr, William W. Spence, Ludwig Merklein and William L. Dowling, have been chosen to serve on the board of the Greater New York Savings Bank.

—R. M. Rownd and W. Emerson Barger have been chosen Vice-Presidents of the Third National Bank of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. Barger has in addition been made Cashier, in which office he replaces G. A. Drummer.

—George P. Davenport has replaced Frederic H. Low as President of the Lincoln National Bank of Bath, Me., Mr. Low having become Cashier of the bank, succeeding Fred. F. Blaisdell. The last-named is now Assistant Cashier.

—Robert B. MacMullin has resigned as Treasurer of the Rittenhouse Trust Co. of Philadelphia to enter the bond business.

—Andrew J. Speese, who lately resigned as President of the Franklin Trust Co. of Philadelphia on account of ill-health, died on the 20th inst. Mr. Speese was sixty-five years of age.

—The People's Bank of California, Pa., which closed its doors on Nov. 12, resumed business on Feb. 12. In announcing the reopening, temporary receiver McClain stated that the closing of the bank was due entirely to the speculations of a trusted official, and that the impairment of the capital caused by these thefts had been made up by voluntary contributions of the stockholders. The bank had a capital of $75,000. T. J. Underwood has been appointed Cashier of the institution.

—The Leechburg Banking Co., of Leechburg, Pa., a private institution, suspended on Tuesday, and an application for a receiver was made by Edward Hill, Cashier of the institution. The request for receivership, it is stated, was made because of the inability of the institution to obtain sufficient funds to meet demands. Its assets are given as $600,000 and the liabilities as $450,000.

—A. B. Crouch has been elected President of the Third National Bank of Baltimore to succeed Captain R. M. Spedden, resigned. Capt. Spedden was re-elected to the presidency at the annual meeting in January, but later tendered his resignation. Mr. Crouch, the new President, was elected Cashier of the institution a year ago, and last month was chosen Second Vice-President. The directors have elected William R. Hammond to succeed him in the last-named office.

—The official report of the 1907 convention of the Ohio Bankers' Association has recently come from the press. The book gives in detail the proceedings of the meeting held at Cincinnati on June 26 and 27. A list of those in attendance is furnished, together with a list of the members of the Association, and in addition the custom of incorporating in the volume the constitution and by-laws is followed. A map showing the location of the nine separate groups in the State is likewise shown. E. W. Bixby, Cashier of the First National Bank of Ironton, is President of the association, and S. B. Rankin of South Charleston is Secretary. The headquarters of the association are at Columbus.

—The directors of the Indiana National Bank of Indianapolis recently elected M. W. Malott a Vice-President, and promoted Edward D. Moore from the post of Assistant Cashier to the cashiership, to succeed E. B. Porter. Thomas H. Kaylor is the new Assistant Cashier.

—At a recent meeting of the directors of the Second National Bank of New Albany, Ind., James N. Andrew resigned as President, and Earl S. Gwin, the Cashier for many years, was elected to the presidency. Henry E. Jewett, a director for some time, was chosen Vice-President. The retiring President had been at the head of the institution for ten years. His action in withdrawing was due to his desire to devote more attention to his other financial interests, and to the further fact that the daily trips to and from his home at Louisville were growing arduous. Mr. Gwin, the incoming executive, has served the bank in every capacity from messenger to President.

—A second dividend in liquidation has been declared to the stockholders of the Federal National Bank of Chicago. The amount of the disbursement is 15%, which, with the 10% paid on Jan. 25, makes the total thus far declared 25%.

—A permit to organize the First Trust & Savings Bank of West Chicago, Ill., capital $50,000, was recently issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts at Springfield.

—Kent C. Ferman has been chosen Cashier of the Cedar Rapids National Bank of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to succeed J. H. Ingwersen. Louis Visha takes Mr. Ferman's place as Assistant Cashier.

—An application to change the German-American Bank of St. Joseph, Mo., to a national institution, under the name of the German-American National Bank, has been approved. The capital will remain unchanged at $200,000.

—H. F. Lemon has become identified with the management of the Tootle-Lemon National Bank of St. Joseph, Mo., through his appointment as Assistant Cashier.

—C. W. Dieruf, until lately Cashier of the Third National Bank of Louisville, has succeeded L. F. Metz as Cashier of the Western National Bank of Louisville.

—James S. Escott has resigned as President of the Southern National Bank of Louisville, Ky. Pending the election of his successor, W. J. Thomas, Vice-President, will act as President.

—A new financial institution began business in Covington, Ky., on the 18th inst, under the name of the Western German Savings Bank. The officers are: Louis Fritz, President; William Riedlin Jr., Vice-President, and Edward Linneman, Secretary and Treasurer.

—An application to convert the Commercial & Farmers' Bank of Raleigh, N. C., into the Commercial National Bank, was approved by the Comptroller of the Currency on the 7th inst.

—The conversion of the Maddox-Rucker Banking Co. of Atlanta, Ga., to the national system is planned, the institution with the change taking the name of the American National Bank. President W. L. Peel has issued a statement concerning the contemplated move, in which he says that the bank's conversion was decided upon for the reason that it is believed that "the present and future legislation of Congress regulating the currency of the United States will be of benefit to the national banks, and can only be taken advantage of by banks operating under a national charter." The capital of the Maddox-Rucker Banking Co. has been increased from $200,000 to $500,000, and it is the intention to further increase it, when the national charter is secured, to $600,000. The new issue of stock will be disposed of at $160 per share —par $100. It is expected that the change will be made within sixty days.

—The stockholders of the Third National Bank of Atlanta, Ga., at a meeting on the 15th inst, approved the recommendation of the directors to increase the capital from $200,000 to $500,000. At the annual meeting last month a stock dividend of $100,000 was declared out of the surplus, the capital being thereby increased from $200,000 to $300,000 and the surplus reduced from $400,000 to $300,000. The issuance of 2,000 shares of new stock was also arranged for, the selling price of which was fixed at $200 per share of $100 each. Of the $400,000 thus provided for, $200,000 is to be applied toward capital, bringing it up to $500,000, and a like sum of $200,000 is to be added to the surplus, making it also $500,000, and giving a combined capital and surplus of $1,000,000. Payment on the new stock is due as follows: one-half Feb. 20, one-fourth on March 15, and the remaining one-fourth on April 2. The stock is to be issued on the last-named date.

—William M. Davant, who, with A. M. Knight, was recently appointed co-receiver of the Bank of Waycross, of Waycross, Ga., has resigned the receivership. Hal H. Bacon has been appointed in his place.

—Oscar E. Dooly, heretofore Assistant Cashier of the American National Bank of Macon, Ga., has become Cashier; L. P. Hillyer, who had served as Vice-President and Cashier, continues as Vice-President.

—The interests identified with the National Bank of Jacksonville, at Jacksonville, Fla., have received permission to organize the Barnett National Bank of Jacksonville. The National Bank of Jacksonville has a capital of $300,000; the capital of the proposed institution will be $750,000.

—The directors of the Fort Worth National Bank, of Fort Worth, Texas, have adopted appropriate resolutions on the death of Second Vice-President L. C. Hutchins, who committed suicide on the 9th inst.

—R. I. Rogers, who became Cashier of the National Bank of California, at Los Angeles, a year ago, was recently elected a Vice-President of the institution. G. W. Fishburn has been chosen Cashier and C. W. Prollins is a new Assistant Cashier.

—C. H. Babcock and N. Blackstock were appointed receivers of the West Side Bank of Los Angeles on the 11th inst. The State Bank Commissioners were said to have taken charge of the institution in December. It had a capital of $10,000.

—The court has also appointed N. Blackstock receiver for the Occidental Trust & Savings Bank of Los Angeles, which was likewise taken charge of by the Bank Commissioners two months ago.

—A merger of the defunct Oregon Trust & Savings Bank of Portland, Ore. (which suspended Aug. 21 last), and the German-American Bank of that city, has been effected. The plans for the taking over of the assets of the failed bank by the German-American, which had been under way for a month or more, were consummated last week, following the granting of an order by the Court on the 5th inst. permitting the merger. The new German-American Bank started on the 12th inst. with a paid-up capital of $400,000; with the reorganization Samuel G. Reed has become President, and Thomas C. Devlin, who conducted the receivership of the Oregon Trust, is the Cashier. The German-American Bank, in taking over the assets of the defunct institution, assumes all its liabilities, and agrees to pay the depositors, without interest, in two years. To those who, several months ago, signified their willingness to accept telephone bonds in payment of their balances, and others who have consented to accept time certificates or bank stock in lieu of all or part of their deposits, deliveries of the same are to be made not later than June 1908.

—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Cuba, held in Havana on the 19th inst., the entire board and officers were re-elected. The report made to the shareholders showed an increase in deposits since Jan. 1 1907 of $1,295,012 53, the amount now being $15,005,906 45. During the year there was an increase of 3,019 in the number of deposit accounts and the surplus was increased from $500,000 to $700,000.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF GOLD AND SILVER AT SAN FRANCISCO.

The Collector of Customs at San Francisco has furnished us this week the details of the imports and exports of gold and silver through that port for the month of December, and we give them below in conjunction with the figures for preceding months, thus completing the results for the calendar year 1907. The imports of gold were moderate, reaching $487,219, of which only $7,922 coin. Of silver there came in $289,487, almost wholly bullion. During the twelve months there was received a total of $3,505,557 gold and $3,336,378 silver, which compares with $15,263,037 gold and $2,901,756 silver in 1906. The shipments of gold during December were $10,535 and the exports of silver were $985,690, mainly bullion. For the twelve months the exports of gold reached only $21,592, against $5,369,099 in 1906, and $3,676,655 silver was sent out, against $3,107,491 in 1906. The exhibit for December and for the twelve months is as follows:

Monetary and Commercial English News

(From our own Correspondent.)

London, Saturday, Feb. 8 1908.

The rise in consols and other high-class securities, which has been almost uninterrupted since New Year's Day, has received a temporary check this week. On Monday consols actually touched 88. Since then they have gradually receded to 87⅛. The setback will probably prove very temporary. Just for the moment revenue is being collected on a very great scale. It is transferring so much money from the outside market to the Bank of England that the Bank has got control of the market, and is able therefore to make the 4% rate effective. It is one of the peculiarities of the English fiscal system that a larger proportion of the revenue is collected in the quarter which ends with March than in any other three months of the year, and the greater portion of this comes in between the beginning of February and the middle of March. For the next four or five weeks therefore the receipts into the Treasury are likely largely to exceed the disbursements. Consequently the Bank of England will have control of the market during that period.

After the middle of March the disbursements out of the Treasury will increase, and in the last week of March they will probably be on a very large scale. In April money is likely to be abundant and cheap, and unless the new Budget is very displeasing to the country it seems reasonably certain that the rise in consols will be resumed by that time, if not before. During the week the attention of the Stock Exchange has been given, to a great extent, to the settlement in consols, which was a very large settlement, as is natural, considering that since the beginning of the year consols have risen from about 82½ to at one time 88. Other Government securities have been largely dealt in likewise, and therefore the settlement was a heavy one. Probably to this is due part of the setback. Moreover, gold has been shipped in considerable amounts both to Paris and to Buenos Ayres. Everybody knew that it would go, for it will be recollected that the Bank of France lent during the crisis nearly three millions sterling to London on the express condition that it was to be repaid in gold. Respecting the shipments to Argentina, everybody knew that Argentina would be in a position to take a good deal of gold. At the same time the shipments will probably not be as heavy as is generally anticipated, for, although the exports from Argentina are exceedingly large and are likely to continue large for many months, the imports into Argentina are also rapidly increasing, while a great many visitors from Argentina are in Europe or are coming hither, and their expenditure is very considerable.

In Paris there is a fair investment going on, but speculation is held in check partly because of the depression both in copper and in diamonds and partly because of the unsatisfactory state of Morocco. In Berlin business is very quiet. The Imperial Bank keeps its rate of discount at 6%, and as the foreign exchanges are decidedly against it, and therefore it is unable, even with the high rate, to attract gold from abroad, it is doubtful whether there will be an early reduction of the rate. The Bank, by issuing small notes for 10s. and 20s., has got a good deal of gold from the internal circulation, but very little has come from abroad. Furthermore, the Prussian Government has just borrowed a large amount of money. The Imperial Government probably in April will issue a large loan. The small federated governments are all borrowing or are preparing to borrow, and the municipalities, almost without exception, are likewise preparing to borrow. There will therefore be a very great demand upon the accumulated capital of Germany during the year, and for that reason and because the gold held by the Imperial Bank is small, rates are likely to continue high in Germany throughout the year.

As already said, money this week has been in good demand and the 4% rate has been made effective. Probably it will continue effective for four or five weeks because of the collection of the revenue and because also gold is going to Paris and Buenos Ayres. Nevertheless it is reasonably certain that money will become abundant and cheap in April, and will very likely remain cheap all through the year. Trade has undoubtedly received a check, yet the check is not very serious, as the railway traffic returns show. Some of the lines, particularly those which depend chiefly upon passenger traffic, show a falling off in their receipts. But others of the lines record increases. Most of the lines which depend principally upon minerals and goods have increases, though there is one conspicuous exception. At this time last year trade was exceedingly active and the railway traffic returns revealed a considerable increase over the corresponding period of the year before. That there should be now, with trade somewhat declining, an increase in a fair number of the railways, especially of the goods-carrying railways, indicates that trade is still in a very satisfactory state. Nevertheless there is some setback, and money is likely to become plentiful. No doubt there will be large borrowing. Most of the companies have found it difficult to borrow during the past couple of years. This year they are likely to come forward for considerable sums, and no doubt the London County Council and the municipalities generally will also be large borrowers.

The India Council on Wednesday offered for tender 80 lacs, of its bills, and the applications amounted to 130 lacs, at prices ranging from 1s. 3 7/8d. to 1s. 3 15-16d. per rupee. Applicants for bills at 1s. 3 29-32d. and for telegraphic transfers at 1s. 3 15-16d. per rupee were allotted in full.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Hopes entertained at the close last week that the success attending the New York City bond offering would stimulate a more active bond market have not been realized, but, on the other hand, some of the events of the week have had an opposite tendency. We refer especially to reports of railway earnings, which in some cases show an enormous shrinkage in the amount of traffic handled as well as in net results, and to the prospect of further investigations by the Inter-State Commerce Commission as officially requested. The result is an unusually limited volume of business and a general tendency to lower prices in the security markets. Perhaps operations are restricted somewhat to-day because the Exchange will not be open again until Monday; but this fact could hardly have had any effect earlier in the week.

More than this there is little to be said under this heading. The financial situation, at home and abroad, remains about as has been reported for two or three weeks past. Last Saturday's bank statement showed a surplus reserve of 30 million dollars and that of this week, which, owing to the holiday, was issued late this afternoon, shows an increase of nearly 2 millions.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1½% to 2¼%. To-day's rates on call were 1½@2%. Prime commercial paper quoted at 4½@5% for 60 to 90-day endorsements and 5@5½% for best single names.

The Bank of England's weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £706,642, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 53.45, against 53.48 last week.

The discount rate remains at 4%, as fixed Jan. 23. The Bank of France shows an increase of 12,925,000 francs gold and a decrease of 550,000 francs silver.

To-morrow being Washington's Birthday and a legal holiday, the Clearing-House bank statement was issued to-day. It shows, on the basis of averages, an increase in loans of $8,721,500; decrease in circulation of $535,800; increase in deposits of $13,982,300; increase in specie of $4,950,600; increase in legal tenders of $163,300, and an increase of $1,618,325 in surplus reserve. In the following we give the figures for the previous week in our usual form in order to preserve the record.

These figures, together with the returns of separate banks, also the summary issued by the State Banking Department showing the condition of State banks and trust companies not reporting to the Clearing House, appear on the preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—There was a sharp rise in the market early in the week, owing to a demand to cover speculative sales, and a rise of one cent per pound sterling, compared with Friday of last week, was recorded on Tuesday; the tone subsequently grew heavy, though it was steady at the close.

The general bond market has been somewhat more active, owing to large sales of New York City issues and to very heavy transactions in Interborough-Metropolitan 4½s. The latter have been the prominent feature of the market, at the Exchange, throughout the week.

United States Bonds.—Sales of Government bonds at the Board include $8,000 3s, coup., 1908-18, at 101¼, and $10,000 4s, coup., 1925, at 121. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been irregular, although fluctuations have not generally been very wide. As has frequently been the case of late, the lowest prices were recorded early in the week, since which there has been a substantial recovery, and a considerable portion of the active list closes with a net gain, the latter averaging less than a point, however.

Some of the prominent Southwestern shares have continued the downward movement noted last week, during which Missouri Pacific sold at 28½, a decline of 15 points since the 1st of the month, and Denver & Rio Grande preferred at 41, as against 59. Louisville & Nashville declined 10 points within the same period, but closes nearly 4 points above the lowest, having advanced since the investigation was requested. Delaware & Hudson has covered a range of 7 points and closes, ex-dividend, without change.

Western Union, in common with other "Gould" issues, declined 8½ points, but recovered a large part of the loss. American Sugar Refining has advanced nearly 7 points since Tuesday, while General Electric has been weak.

Outside Market.—There was very little to the trading in "curb" securities this week. Business has fallen off considerably and prices show very little change. A better feeling was in evidence as the week closed, the market for copper shares especially showing a stronger turn. Boston Consolidated Copper opened at 15, fell off to 13¼, later advancing to 14¾. Butte Coalition lost 1½ points to 16, recovered to 17 and to-day made a further gain to 18. Davis-Daly Estates sold down from 4 to 3¼ and up to 3¾ finally. Greene Cananea fluctuated between 7¾ and 7¼, with the last transaction to-day at 8. Nevada Consolidated Copper from 9⅞ advanced to 10, but dropped back to 9⅜ and ends the week at 9⅜. Nevada-Utah moved down from 4⅜ to 3⅝, the final quotation to-day being 4. Trinity Copper rose three-eighths to 13⅜, declined to 12¼, moving up again to 13. United Copper common advanced from 6⅛ to 6⅝, fell to 5⅞ and recovered subsequently to 6¼. Nipissing ranged between 6 and 6¼ and Goldfield Consolidated between 4½ and 4⅞. Activity in Havana Tobacco preferred attracted attention, the price moving down from 17¼ to 16¼, then up to 19, and then dropping to 16. Havana Commercial preferred sold up from 39 to 41½. American Tobacco lost 8 points to 242, but subsequently rose to 245. Standard Oil, notwithstanding the declaration of the usual dividend, dropped from 495 to 480. International Nickel was traded in down from 81½ to 78½. Chicago Subway advanced a point to 17, then declined to 15 and to-day sold at 16. Consolidated Steamship 4s were traded in between 10 and 9⅜; close to-day 9½. N.Y.City new 4½s "w. i." were transferred to the unlisted department of the Stock Exchange.
